NICHOLAS KELLEY

Class Treasurer

EDWARD JOSIAH DIVES

Class Committee

EDWARD JOSIAH DIVES

ROBERT GRANT, JR.

DANIEL ALLERTON NEWHALL

To the Members of the Class of 1906:

Your Secretary presents to you in the following pages the Second Class Report, a book of which, you will at once observe, you are both the authors and the heroes, and the perusal of which you will therefore doubtless peculiarly and doubly enjoy. Realizing the pleasure of which the "lost men" and "those not heard from" are deprived in missing this opportunity to read accounts of themselves written by their favorite authors, you will, the Secretary ventures to hope, in accordance with the friendly spirit of our Class, send to the Secretary whatever information you may have which can help him to initiate them into these literary pleasures and to make the next Report more complete.

The Secretary assumes the responsibility for those errors which have undoubtedly occurred and for which he apologizes, hoping that members of the Class will call them to his attention. For omissions, however, those of our classmates are responsible who have scorned or neglected the duties of autobiography.

Following the precedent of other classes the Class employed the Harvard Alumni Association in the preparation of this Report. The thanks of the Class are due the Association for the untiring care and effort which it has bestowed upon the work.

Yours sincerely,

NICHOLAS KELLEY, Secretary.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

EDMUND QUINCY ABBOT

Following my graduation, I spent a year and a half in the Harvard Law School, leaving in March, 1908, to join George F. Will in Bismarck, N. D. Six months spent on the rolling prairie developed a roving disposition that has led me to Montana, Washington, Oregon and California. Logging, lumber, grain and real estate have proved indifferent means of livelihood. I am at present still in charge of the grain warehouses and lumber yard of Miller and Lux, Incorporated, at Buttonwillow, Cal. Present residence: Buttonwillow, Cal. Permanent address: 20 John St., Worcester, Mass.

ROBERT ROWELL ABBOTT

Member: Franklin Institute, Iron and Steel Institute, Institute of Metals, American Society for Testing Material. Business address: Peerless Motor Car Company, Cleveland, O. Present residence: 9814 Parkgate St., Cleveland, O.

WENDELL PEASE ABBOTT

After leaving college in June, 1906, I entered the employ of the American Woolen Company, working for one year in their Washington mills. In the summer of 1907 I began to work for the American Radiator Company. At present I am a salesman for that concern. Business address: 129 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 103 Summer St., Lawrence, Mass.

LAURENCE R ACH

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I was employed for six months by the Canby, Ach and Canby Company of Dayton, O. Since then I have been in Cincinnati with the Samuel Ach Company, a wholesale millinery concern; I am in their credit department. I have been treasurer of the Cincinnati Harvard Club for two years. I was married April 12, 1910, to Helen Kramer, at Cincinnati, O. Member: University Club of Cincinnati, Harvard Club of Cincinnati, Losantiville Country Club. Business address: 817 Walnut St., Cincinnati, O. Present residence: 601 Rockdale Ave., Cincinnati, O.

PHILIP CRAMPTON ACKERMAN

After receiving my degree in June, 1906, I went to Europe, visiting Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France. In October, 1906, I matriculated at the University at Freiburg, Germany, where I took up some special work in human and comparative anatomy. The following year I spent in New York at the College of Physicians and Surgeons. In June, 1908, I married Miss Cornelia Platt Ruck of New York. I then entered the employ of Merck and Company, manufacturing chemists, New York. I am at present editing "Merck's Archives," a monthly journal devoted to progress in the fields of materia medica and therapeutics. I have been especially interested in, and in a small way associated with, the present movement for pure food and drug standards. I was married June 27, 1908, to Cornelia Platt Ruck, at Hoboken, N. J. Ethel Marie, born August 18, 1909 (died January 20, 1911). Member: Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. Business address: 45 Park Place, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 216 Winthrop St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

AUGUST AHRENS

I was in college during our freshman year. I went then to the First Pennsylvania State Normal School, Millersville, Pa., as professor of manual training and pedagogies. I resigned after one year to become director of manual arts in the public schools of Quincy, Ill. (1904-1907). I was a student at the University of Illinois in the summer of 1906. In June, 1907, I was appointed professor of manual train-

ROBERT AMORY

After a half year's leave of absence spent in the machine shop, the engine rooms and the boiler rooms of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, N. H., I received the degree of A.B. with the class in June, 1906. In July I went to England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria and Switzerland, returning in September to enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, partly in the mechanical and partly in the civil engineering departments. I was employed during the summer of 1907 as surveyor on the proposed Inter-urban Electric Railroad from Ellsworth to Bar Harbor, Me. After registering at Technology in October, 1908, I entered the employ of Amory, Browne and Company, dry goods commission merchants in Boston. I spent three months as an operative in the Nashua Manufacturing Company's cotton mill at Nashua, N. H., returning afterwards to Amory, Browne and Company's Boston office. I was married September 20, 1910, to Leonore Cobb, at New York, N. Y. Member: Eastern Yacht Club, Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York, Merchants' Club of New York. GEORGE KLINE BAKER

I left college at the end of my junior year. I was at Monterey, Cal., at the time of the earthquake. In January, 1907, I went to Egypt, Italy, France and England, returning to the United States in August, 1907. I was abroad again in 1909 and 1910. I have published a short novelette of Egypt, entitled, "Haliefu," a magazine serial, and two newspaper articles. Member: Hamilton Club of Lancaster, Pa., Harvard Club of New York, Lancaster Country Club, Musquamieut Country Club, Khedivial Club of Cairo, Oxford and Cambridge, clubs in Florence, Rome, Chattel, Guyon, France, etc. Present residence: 27 North Lime St., Lancaster, Pa.

ELI GAYNOR BANGS

The son of Anson M. Bangs and Mary R. Bangs, was lost at sea off Cape Henry, from the Clyde Line steamer Mohawk, on January 27, 1912. Bangs was born at Fayetteville, N. Y., on September 18, 1884, and spent most of his boyhood in New York City, preparing for college at the Cutler School. He did not finish his course at college, but left after his junior year to accept an exceptional opportunity to enter commercial life, which he and his family felt that he ought not to forego. He joined the Federal Contracting Company which was engaged in building harbors for the United States, and by the year 1911 he was in general charge of all the engineering work of the company on the Atlantic coast, from Maine to Mexico. He then severed his connection with the company in order to become vice-president and general manager of the Steel Inner Tube Company, a large company just being launched for the production of metal inner tubes for tires. It was while with his wife he was taking a short journey of recreation before taking up his new duties that he was lost. Bang's recreation was in the study of chemistry. He maintained a small private laboratory in which he spent what little time an exceedingly active business life allowed him. Bangs had the capacity for success. Whatever he took hold of turned out well, and he seemed destined to become one of the prosperous and successful men of the class. Bangs had been married for about three years to Clara Woolford.

THOMAS BARBOUR

After spending in Boston the summer following my graduation, I went on a collecting trip to procure zoölogical material for the Museum of Comparative Zoölogy. Mrs. Barbour and I visited India, collecting in the northwest provinces, Lower Bengal and Sikkim. From Calcutta we went to Burma, and from there to the Straits Settlements, Java, Celebes, Bali, Lombok, the Molucca Islands and New Guinea. Returning for a couple of months to Java, we proceeded to Saigon, China and Japan and so home. I was at the museum again during the winter of 1907 and 1908 and received my A.M. degree in 1908. In the autumn of 1908 I went to South America to represent the university as delegate to the First Pan-American Scientific Congress, which was held at Santiago de Chile. On our way to and from Chile we visited and collected in Brazil, the Argentine, Bolivia, Peru and Panama. At Panama we spent some time with Dr. J. L. Bremer preparing material for the Medical School, working at the Board of Health laboratory. On our return from Panama we passed some weeks in Jamaica and Cuba, reaching home in the late spring. The summer was spent in arranging the collections and the following year, 1909-1910, in work at the museum. In the summer of 1910 we visited southern Mexico, where I represented the university as delegate to the founding of the National Mexican University. I received the degree of Ph.D. in 1911, after my return to Cambridge. Since then I have been for the most part at the museum. In 1908 I was appointed curator of Oceanica in the Harvard College library, and I have recently been made a member of the faculty of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology. I was married October 1, 1906, to Rosamond Pierce, at Brookline, Mass. Martha Higginson, born June 17, 1910. Books or plays of my authorship: Various scientific writings in American Naturalist; Proceedings of the Biological Society, Washington; Proceedings of the New England Zoölogical Club; Bulletin and Memoirs of the Museum of Comparative Zoölogy; Proceedings of the Academy of Natural Science, Philadelphia. EDWARD FRANCIS BARRON

I entered Harvard in 1902 as a special student. In 1904 I left for Europe, where I spent a year and a half in travel and study. I had intended becoming an architect, but my ambition was not realized. At the end of 1905 I returned home to San Francisco, where I experienced the earthquake of April, 1906. I have since travelled in Mexico and Europe. I am secretary and director of the Edward Barron Estate Company and the Bellevue Investment Company. I was married June 1, 1910, to Genevieve L. Harvey, at San Francisco, Cal. Sophia Elizabeth, born November 5, 1911. Member: University Club of San Francisco, Burlingame Club of Burlingame. Business address: 401 Nevada Bank Building, San Francisco, Cal. Present residence: Bellevue Ave., Burlingame, Cal. Permanent address: "Mayfield Park," Mayfield, Santa Clara County, Cal.

FRANK GRIDLEY BARROWS

At the end of my freshman year, I left college for a time to work as timekeeper, foreman and superintendent for various construction companies. In 1906 I went back to Harvard where I stayed for two years, receiving my degree in 1909, as of 1906. In March, 1909, I became contract manager and director of the Hennebique Construction Company of New York; these positions I held till January, 1912. I am now president of the Barrows-Stewart Company, general contractors, of New York, Boston and Havana. I was married June 8, 1910, to Mary Turner Merrill, at Malden, Mass. Gridley, born January 29, 1912. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 40 Central St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 33 South Elliott Place, Brooklyn, N. Y. Permanent address: 185 Glenwood St., Malden, Mass.

JOSEPH LOUIS BARRY

I specialized at Harvard in 1905-1906, after receiving the degree of LL.B. at the Boston University Law School. In August, 1905, I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar. I am now practicing law at Lynn, where I have been interested in municipal affairs. In 1907-1908 I was a member of the city government. Member: Oxford Club of Lynn, Lynn Historical Society. Business address: 343 Union St., Lynn, Mass. Present residence: 23 Tudor St., Lynn, Mass.

REUEL WILLIAMS BEACH

The Monday after Class Day found me setting type in the University Press. I spent the greater part of the first year as a workman, my real enjoyment of the work and the satisfaction of actually earning something from the start combining to shatter a former resolution to enter the Medical School. In 1907 I became a regular member of the office force. A year later I was offered the position of assistant superintendent. This was the first move in a program of reconstruction which was kept up against much opposition, until finally the internal management was completely changed. New methods were introduced and new equipment installed. Later, when the board of directors was increased, I became a member. After the smoke of battle had begun to clear away, I was given an opportunity to change from an "inside" to an "outside" man, always on the watch for orders for printing, whether a four-page advertising circular or a substantial book or catalogue. This has been the nature of my work during the past year. In 1909 I became a benedict, a condition which, in common with other similarly fortunate mortals, I take pleasure in recommending to my single-minded friends. It may not be out of place to add that as the University Press is not the Riverside Press, though both are in Cambridge, it is not affiliated with the publishing house of Houghton Mifflin Company. The two concerns are often confused. I was married November 19, 1909, to Ruth Stetson, at Bangor, Me. Member: Papyrus Club of Boston. Business address: The University Press, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 6 Riedesel Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

CLARENCE HOUGH BEALL

I attended Harvard in 1904-1905, doing special work for which I received no degree. In September, 1905, I began commercial work in Pittsburgh as salesman for J. W. Huston and Company, wholesale grocers, whom I left in 1907 to take training in the Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. During 1908-1909, my senior year there, I was private secretary to President H. A. Butz. In May, 1909, I was graduated with a B.D. degree. In the autumn came an appointment as instructor of English in the Syria Protestant College, Beirut, Syria. During the easter vacation in 1900 a party of instructors toured Galilee and Damascus. I was next asked to transfer from the Syrian field to the Egyptian as principal of the New School of Commerce. My next call from the Bishop of European Methodism, William Burt, was to the American Methodist Church at Lucerne, Switzerland, for the tourist season. Later I substituted in the American pulpit at Rome, Italy. My path then led to Jerusalem, Egypt and sunny Sicily, thence March 16, 1912, to dear America. In all probability I shall take up ministerial work in northern New York. Present residence: 17 Euclid Ave., Morgantown, W. Va.

SIDNEY KENT BECKER

After I received my degree, I worked for two years in the mills of the Lackawanna Steel Company. I then spent two years with the Detroit River Tunnel Company, first as inspector and then as chief inspector, on the tunnel under the Detroit River. Since February, 1910, I have been with the Aluminum Castings Company. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Saturn Club of Buffalo, Brooklawn Club of Bridgeport, University Club of Bridgeport. Business address: Care of Aluminum Castings Company, Fairfield, Conn. Present residence: 263 Golden Hill St., Bridgeport, Conn. Permanent address: 71 North St., Buffalo, N. Y.

PAUL LOBA BECKWITH

I completed my college course in three years. I then left Cambridge and spent the next year in New Bedford tutoring a boy who was planning to enter Harvard. In June, 1906, I returned to Cambridge to receive the degree of A.B., then went to New York to accept a position in the traffic department of the New York Telephone Company. On February 1, 1912, I was appointed division traffic engineer, in charge of the traffic engineering work of the Manhattan-Bronx division, which comprises New York proper. I was married June 29, 1906, to Helen Maxwell, at Providence, R. I. Paul

MANLY COLTON BEEBE

At the end of 1904-1905 I decided to enter an architect's office instead of returning for a fourth year. About the middle of the summer I secured employment in Buffalo with the firm of Colson-Hudson, architects, with whom I remained until the fall of 1906. Then, in order to study design in connection with my office work, I determined to return to Boston and take the evening courses at the Architectural Club. In Boston I entered first the office of H. B. Russell, later that of Page and Frothingham. In the fall of 1910-1911 I returned to Harvard, registering in the architectural department as a special graduate student. At the close of the year I entered the office of Densmore and Le Clear. At present I am employed there with several other Harvard men. Member: Boston Architectural Club. Business address: 88 Broad St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 1105 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Permanent address: Care of Tide Water Oil Company, 34 Central Wharf, Boston, Mass.

EDWARD BATES BLANCHARD

In the fall of 1906 I received an appointment to the position of instructor in science in the high school at Honolulu, Hawaii, so I at once proceeded to Honolulu. During the trip across the continent I had the novel experience of being robbed. Arriving in Honolulu I found a delightful place and one which has proved more delightful each year I have remained. Until June, 1910, my interests had been with school work, including school athletics. My scholastic work was confined largely to the teaching of physics and chemistry. The high school here is well equipped, and students have gone from it to the leading universities of America. One of my former pupils is now attending Harvard. In school athletics I was able, after much hard work, to develop strong teams in football, baseball and track, which would compare favorably with many teams of eastern preparatory schools. In June, 1910, to accept the position of Food Commissioner and Analyst for the Territory of Hawaii, I severed my connections with the public schools. At the same time I was appointed chief of the Honolulu food and drugs laboratory of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture. In this position my work consists largely in the examination of food and drug products and the enforcement of the food laws of Hawaii, and of the United States Food and Drugs Act in Hawaii. During my stay in Hawaii I have become interested in rifle shooting. I have represented Hawaii in the national match held at Camp Perry, Ohio, and in matches with clubs of Seattle, Washington, and Sydney, Australia. At the present time I am executive officer of the Hawaiian Rifle Association. During the summer of 1909 I made a trip to Australia, New Zealand, Fiji and Fanning Island. The last event which I consider of importance was my marriage, on October 2, 1911, to Roby Case, at Honolulu, Hawaii. Member: University Club of Honolulu, Hawaiian Chemists' Association, Hawaiian Rifle Association. Business address: Box 474, Honolulu, Hawaii. Present residence: The Colonial, Emma St., Honolulu, Hawaii.

WILLIS EDMUND BLODGETT

Until October, 1911, I was with the Springfield Republican for two years as New England editor. I then resigned to accept the editorship of "School, Agriculture, Domestic Science and Manual Training," a semi-monthly, published by the Orange-Judd Company. It is written expressly for school use by boys and girls. I was married August 14, 1907, to Fanny E. Stratton, at Arlington, Mass. Leonard Stratton, born November 7, 1908; Mary Heywood, born November 2, 1910. Member: Connecticut Valley Harvard Club. Business address: Myrick Building, Worthington St., Springfield, Mass. Present residence: 359 Central St., Springfield, Mass. Permanent address: Meadow St., Agawam, Mass.

LEONARD BLOOMFIELD

Although I entered college in 1903 as a freshman, I was transferred in 1905 to the senior class, taking my degree in 1907, as of 1906. After leaving college I was appointed an assistant in German at the University of Wisconsin, where I stayed for two years, at the same time pursuing graduate study in Indo-European Comparative Philology and Germanic Philology. In 1908 I was called to the University of Chicago as assistant in German; I there continued my studies, receiving, in June, 1909, the degree of Ph.D. That summer my wife and I visited the part of Scandinavia in the region of Galesville, Wis., where I learned something of the Scandinavian languages. During 1909-1910 I served as instructor in German at the University of Cincinnati, where I substituted for Professor Max Poll. Since 1910 I have been instructor in German at the University of Illinois. I was married March 18, 1909, to Alice Sayers, at St. Louis, Mo. Books or plays of my authorship: "A Semasiologic Differentiation in Germanic Secondary Ablaut," Modern Philology VII; "The Indo-European Palatals in Sankrit," American Journal of Philology XXXII; "Etymologisches," Beiträge zur Geschichte der deutschen Sprache und Literatur, XXXVII; "The E-Sounds in the Language of Hans Sachs," to appear in Modern Philology, April, 1912; "A Type of Scandinavian Word-Formation," to appear in Proceedings of the Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Studies, II. WILLIAM FAY BOERICKE

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. During the mining boom of 1906 I was in Nevada as secretary to a well-known mining man. In 1907-1908 I worked at the North Star Mine in Grass Valley, Cal., where I had experience both in the mine and in the cyanide plant. After studying in 1909 at the Columbia School of Mines, I went to Cobalt, Ont., as editor and manager of the Cobalt News-Herald, a mining weekly. I left that position, however, to join the New Jersey Zinc Company, which operates here as the Mineral Point Zinc Company; I am now mine surveyor and junior engineer in the mining department. Books or plays of my authorship; Short stories published in "Sunset" magazine; technical articles for mining papers. Business address: Mineral Point Zinc Company, Mineral Point, Wis.

FRANCIS GOODNOW BOGGS

After graduating I started to learn the lumber business at the retail yard of Joseph Goodnow and Company. I stayed there for two years, then entered the wholesale lumber business under the firm name of Swain and Boggs. In February, 1911, I took over the retail yard of Joseph Goodnow and Company and the management of four coasting schooners, which, with a ship outfitting business, we carry on under the name of the E. P. Boggs Company. I was married November 4, 1908, to Claudia Trenholm, at South Orange, N. J. Francis Goodnow, Jr., born July 30, 1909. Member: University Club of Boston, Boston City Club, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 110 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Fearing Road, Hingham, Mass.

GEORGE ROBERT JOHNSON BOGGS

I was given my degree in 1905, as of 1906, and was graduated in 1908 from the Harvard Law School. I am now practicing law with Berry and Bucknam. Business address: 84 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 64 Hemenway St., Boston, Mass.

ELMER CLINTON BOHON

Education. Has not been heard from. His address is Ewing, Mo.

EDWARD HOOD BONELLI

After leaving college in June, 1906, I entered the real estate business with offices at 60 State Street, Boston. I have been especially interested in developing the outskirts of the larger cities all over the country. In August, 1909, I opened an office in New York, where I resided until October, 1911. I am at present living in Boston. I have developed properties in all the New England states, as well as in several others. I spend my winters in New York and Boston, and my summers at Squirrel Island, Me. I was married November 27, 1907, to Emma A. White, at Boston, Mass. Barbara Darling, born August 31, 1908. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 200 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 1230 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

SAMUEL BABCOCK BOOTH

In February of my sophomore year I had to leave college. I returned, however, in 1905, and was graduated in 1908, as of 1906. After spending the next two years at the Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria, I was ordained deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church in June, 1910. Following my marriage I came to Nampa, Ida., where I have been ever since. In May, 1911, I was advanced to the priesthood. I am now rector of the churches at Nampa and Caldwell. Since leaving college my only travelling of interest has been a trip to Europe in the summer of 1910; with two men from the Seminary I visited England and southern France, where I had the good luck to run across several Harvard men. I was married September 6, 1910, to Anna B. Peck, at Washington, D. C. Present residence: Nampa, Ida. Permanent address: 149 Tulpehocken St., Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

ROBERT REMINGTON BORDEN

Following the death of my father in 1905, I left college to become treasurer of Borden and Remington Company, wholesale dealers in chemicals, dyestuffs, starches and oils. I am still holding this position. I am a director of the Granite Mills and of the Fall River National Bank. I was married April 12, 1909, to Helen Shove, at Fall River, Mass. Margery, born December 26, 1909. Business address: 115 Annawan St., Fall River, Mass. Present residence: 1260 Robeson St., Fall River, Mass.

GEORGE FRANCIS HASKELL BOWERS

In the autumn after my graduation I entered the Harvard Medical School, and received the degree of M.D. in February, 1911. In the summer of 1910 I had visited England, France, Austria, Germany and Switzerland. In March, 1911, I became a registered physician in Massachusetts, and was appointed interne for eighteen months at the City Hospital, Worcester, Mass. I am still filling this position. Business address: City Hospital, Worcester, Mass. Permanent address: 287 Chestnut St., Clinton, Mass.

JOHN TAYLOR BOYD, JR.

After leaving college I spent the summer in an architect's office. In the following autumn I entered the Graduate School of Applied Science. After a course, interrupted by illness, I received, in February, 1910, a Master's degree in architecture, although I had completed the necessary work the summer before. In November, 1909, I entered the office of Kilham and Hopkins, architects, Boston, where I was employed mainly in superintending the construction of a schoolhouse. In September, 1910, when that was finished, I left for Europe to spend a year and a half in travel and advanced architectural study. The first two months were passed in Paris in the atelier of the Ecole des Beaux-Arts, of M. Duquesne, who was recently called to Harvard as professor of architectural design, and his successor, M. Decoura. After some further study in water-color work, I regretfully left Paris to travel for architectural study in England, France, Spain, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Italy; I am now writing in Rome. I expect to return home late in the spring of 1912 to practice architecture, probably in New York. Aside from my work, I have found my stay in Europe of absorbing interest, not only in the study of all forms of art, but also in the opportunities it has given me for observing the life, the customs and the politics of several nations. Business address: Care of Baring Brothers, 8 Bishopsgate, Within, London, England. Present residence: Care of Major Robert I. Hopper, Pollifly Road, Hackensack, N. J.

QUINCY ADAMS BRACKETT

After receiving my degree I remained a fifth year at Harvard, where in 1907 I obtained an S.B. degree in electrical engineering. That summer I had one last long vacation at the summer home of my folks on the coast of Maine. In the fall I started work in New York as a "student apprentice" with the Western Electric Company. After about three months I was made a regular engineer to take the place of a more expensive man who had been dropped because of the 1907 panic. I continued there, mostly on "Pupin loading coil" work, for about a year, then resigned to take up wireless telegraphy. The two years from the summer of 1908 to that of 1910 I was connected with Dr. Lee de Forest in wireless telegraph and telephone work. I filled various positions from that of experimental engineer to sales manager, even managing a small factory. During this period I was still located in New York, where I belonged to the Harvard Club of New York. In September, 1910, I abandoned wireless to become an engineer with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa. Since then I have been in charge of Cooper Hewitt mercury arc rectifiers as manufactured by the Westinghouse Company. I am now located permanently in Pittsburgh. I was married October 7, 1911, to Ruth Wilson, at Kalamazoo, Mich. Member: Harvard Club of Western Pennsylvania, American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Business address: Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Company, East Pittsburgh, Pa. Present residence: 6919 Frankstown Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

WILLIAM FRANCIS BRADBURY

After graduation in 1905, as of 1906, I began special preparation at the Harvard Summer School for a position as instructor in English in the Boys' High school of Louisville, Ky., the school from which I entered college. I am still teaching there, which perhaps explains our steady improvement in the standard of education and the regular increase in the salaries of teachers,—an increase which we naturally hope may continue in the future. I am now Harvard examiner in Louisville. The summer of 1906 I spent on a wedding trip to Europe, visiting Italy, Switzerland, Germany, France, Holland, Belgium, England and Scotland. Since then my summers have been devoted to playgrounds and baseball. For two years I have been supervisor of public playgrounds in Louisville and managing coach of our high school baseball team. Good team, too! The rest of my time is devoted to instructing my growing family how to prepare some day to reflect credit upon me in high school and in Harvard, where I have already directed a good fellow or so. I was married June 21, 1906, to Methyl Julia Hixson, at Cambridge, Mass. Francis Hixson, born July 22, 1907; John Mason, born August 10, 1908; Thomas Baker, born August 22, 1910. Books or plays of my authorship: Three R's, in "American Education"; several short poems in local and western magazines and in "Judge"; three plays, too literary to offer for presentation, publication or remuneration. Member: Schoolmasters' Club, Harvard Club of Kentucky, Louisville Educational Association. Business address: Boys' High School, First St., Louisville, Ky. Present residence: 156 Pennsylvania Ave., Louisville, Ky.

JAMES DONALD CAMERON BRADLEY

Member: Boston City Club, Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 92 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 53 Hereford St., Boston, Mass.

GEORGE HENRY BRAINARD

After leaving college at the close of 1903 I came to New York, where I obtained a position of small responsibility with the Casualty Company of America, which was then organizing for the purpose of writing liability insurance and other lines of the same nature. By gradual stages I worked myself up to the position of manager of the liability department of New York. After a service of two years and a half I resigned this position to become associated with the Royal Realty Company, a well-known New York real estate house as secretary. At the same time I was vice-president of a large insurance agency, the operations of which were very extensive. In March 1910, I severed these business associations and went in business for myself. Since I have been in New York one of my most pleasant affiliations has been with the University Glee Club, an organization made up entirely of college men, and in which almost every college has a certain amount of representation. I was married February 19, 1908, to Ida L. Masters, at Englewood, N. J. Business address: 1170 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 515 West 110th St., New York, N. Y.

HENRY EDWARD BRENNICK

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. In September, 1905, I became teacher of English and history at the Rockland Military Academy, West Lebanon, N. H. A year later I was appointed instructor in English and history in the Boys' Latin School, Baltimore, Md., where I am still teaching. During the summer of 1909 and 1910 I assisted Harry B.

Young, 1904, at Camp Ossipee, Lake Ossipee, N. H. The following summer, 1911, I was with Sidney Curtis, 1905, at Camp Wildwood, Squam Lake, N. H. I was married June 29, 1911, to Lillian Key Fink, at Baltimore, Md. Member: Baltimore Athletic Club. Business address: 1006 Brevard St., Baltimore, Md. Present residence: 1028 Cathedral St., Baltimore, Md.

THEODORE LOUIS BRESLAUER

In the fall of 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, receiving my LL.B. degree in June, 1909. As I had already, in July, 1908, been admitted to the California Bar, I came directly to San Francisco and in September, 1909, began practice for myself. I have been doing this ever since. I was married December 25, 1911, to Alice Falk, at San Francisco. Member: Oroville Lodge No. 103, F. & A. M., San Francisco Bodies No. 1, A. & A. S. R. 32, Islam Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., Harvard Club of San Francisco. Business address: 918 Humboldt Bank Building, San Francisco, Cal. Present residence: 171 7th Ave., San Francisco, Cal.

BLANCHARD BRIDGMAN

He was born November 6, 1884, in North Andover, Mass. His father was Lewis J. Bridgman (Harvard '81) and his mother was Lucy Stanwood Blanchard, daughter of A. D. Blanchard (Harvard '42). He prepared for college in the public schools of Salem, Mass., and took very high rank in the grades and in the high school. He attained this rank without great exertion and found plenty of time for companionship and sociability. His year at college was followed by employment in the offices of "Suburban Life," then published in Boston. His health not being of the best, and an opportunity offering in the west, he went, early in 1907, to Ely, Nevada. He was greatly pleased with life in this mining town. His letters home were full of happiness and hopefulness. His energy and industry seemed to foretell success.

HARVARD, 1906 — SECOND CLASS REPORT

In November, 1907, the news of his illness of typhoid fever and of his death arrived on the same day, the fourth of November.

JOHN DE QUEDVILLE BRIGGS

I spent in Montana the summer after my graduation. In September I went as instructor of mathematics to the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., where I taught until June, 1911. After my marriage in 1907 at Helena, Mont., I took a trip through the Yellowstone Park. In 1908 I studied algebra in the Harvard Summer School, and at the same time did private tutoring. Since then I have taken courses in trigonometry, analytics and calculus. I left the Hill School last June to take charge of mathematics and music at the Country Day School of Kansas City, founded in 1910 by Ralph Hoffmann, 1890, to meet the need of a school similar to those at Baltimore and Boston. I am associated there with Donald Barton, 1903. I expect to spend the next few summers at Plymouth, Mass. I was married July 2, 1907, to Margaret Floyd Atwater, at Helena, Mont. Henrietta Wood, born Septmber 8, 1908; John DeQuedville, Jr., born September 13, 1911. Business address: The Country Day School, 420 West 57th St., Kansas City, Mo. Present residence: 409 Winthrop Ave., Kansas City, Mo. Permanent address: 140 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

HARRY ARTHUR BRINKMAN

I was a special student in 1902-1903. I am assistant cashier of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago. I was married October 26, 1907, to Edna E. Efferson, at Rio, Ill. Zoe Elizabeth, born January 9, 1910 (died); Frances Marian, born May 26, 1911. Business address: 111 West Monroe St., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 3438 Maple Ave., Berwyn, Ill.

CLINTON GIDDINGS BROWN

I stayed at Harvard for one year only. I was married June 18, 1907, to Ethel Robinson, at Austin, Tex. Clinton Giddings, Jr., born September 30, 1909; Robinson Russ, born September 30, 1909. Books or plays of my authorship: "Ramrod Jones," a boy's story of the Texas revolution. Business address: Alamo Bank Building, San Antonio, Tex. Present residence: 208 East Park Ave., San Antonio, Tex.

EDWARD SIMUEL BROWN

During 1902-1903, 1907-1908, and 1908-1909 I was registered as a special student in Harvard University. In 1909 I taught at the Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala. In 1910 I instructed near Pulaski, Ill. In November, 1911, I began soliciting for the Palmer Memorial Institute, of which my wife is founder and principal. I was married June 14, 1911, to Charlotte Hawkins, at Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: Sedalia, N. C.

FLOYD ANDREWS BROWN

In 1906, after completing my work at college, I became chemist with the Riverside Japannery of Mansfield, Mass., manufacturers of patent leather. In 1910, I accepted my present position as chemist with the Glidden Varnish Company of Cleveland, O.; I am assistant superintendent of the melting department. I was married December 5, 1907, to Lucy Elizabeth Cumming, at Deposit, N. Y. Elizabeth

EDWARD SOHIER BRYANT

In July, 1907, after getting the degree of M.F. in the Harvard Graduate School of Applied Science, I formed a partnership, Fisher, Cary and Bryant, to practice as consulting foresters. As Mr. Cary left the partnership in 1909 to become superintendent of state forests, the name was changed to Fisher and Bryant. In October, 1911, Mr. F. E. Olmsted became a partner of the firm, which continued as Fisher, Bryant and Olmsted. My practice has occupied all my time, except two months in the summer of 1908, which I spent in the mountains of northern Labrador. Business address: 141 Milk St., Boston, Mass.

JOHN HEATH BUCK

After graduating I at once became an assistant electrical engineer with the Boston Elevated Railway Company. After two years of service with this concern, I entered the employ of the Massachusetts Electric Companies. At the time of the financial panic, as the company changed management, I found it expedient to leave. During the next two years I travelled throughout the middle west, part of the time for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and part for the Westinghouse Electric. For one year I was teacher of science in the Harvard School, Chicago. In March, 1911, I secured a position in Boston with Stone and Webster, for whom I have since been an electrical designer. I was married September 9, 1908, to Alice M. Brown, at Cambridge, Mass. Kenneth Stanley, born January 14, 1911. Business address: 147 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 164 Auburn St., Cambridge, Mass.

LEEDS BURCHARD

After graduating in 1907, as of 1906, I began business as messenger in the American Trust Company of Boston. The summer following I was made assistant paying teller. In February, 1910, a fine chance was offered me in the Covell and Osborn Company of Fall River, Mass. Here I have been ever since. At the present time I am selling mill supplies and acting as assistant buyer. Our business is not only with the mills here in this city, New Bedford, and Taunton, but we do a large business as jobbers and retailers of general hardware. Besides this we manufacture cotton rope, which we sell practically all over this continent. I was married November 8, 1911, to Elizabeth Carr Osborn, at Fall River, Mass. Member: Harvard Club of Fall River, Harvard Club of Boston, Quequechan Club of Fall River. Business address: Care of Covell and Osborn Company, Fall River, Mass. Present residence: 456 Rock St., Fall River, Mass.

JOSEPH WARREN BURDEN

In the fall of 1905, as I had completed the requirements for my degree, I went abroad, returning in 1906 to take the degree with my class. In the following autumn I entered the banking house of Redmond and Company of New York, with whom I have been ever since. I am trustee and treasurer of the George Junior Republic Association, and New England representative on the hunter committee of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. I was formerly treasurer of the Groton School Alumni Association. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Racquet and Tennis Club of New York, Riding Club of New York. Business address: 33 Pine St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 160 East 70th St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES BURLINGHAM

I was graduated in 1908 from the Harvard Law School. From September of that year to September, 1911, I worked in the law offices of Cravath, Henderson and de Gersdorff of New York. Since then I have been with Burlingham, Montgomery and Beecher, where I have acted as receiver and trustee of several bankrupt estates. In the summer of 1907 I took a motor trip through England, Scotland and Wales; in 1910 I visited England, France, Belgium and Switzerland, and the summer of 1911 I spent in Jamaica and the Canal Zone. Member: Harvard and Reform Clubs, Association of the Bar. Business address: 27 William St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 140 East 38th St., New York, N. Y.

GEORGE HALL BURNETT

After graduating I spent a year in the Harvard Law School. Since then I have been in the employ of Joseph Burnett Company, of which I am now advertising manager. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Union Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 36 India St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Southborough, Mass.

ARTHUR HENRY BURNS

In July, 1906, I went to Idaho, where I spent three years in the study of practical mining. I left the northwest in the summer of 1909, spending the following year at a small mine in California. I was then, however, obliged to return east and change my line of work from mining engineering to building construction and civil engineering. I am with the G. A. Fuller Company. Business address: 131 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 8 Irvington St., Boston, Mass. Permanent address: 104 Merriek St., Worcester, Mass.

JOSEPH LAWRENCE BURNS

I was graduated from college in 1905, as of 1906, and from the Harvard Law School in 1909. Since my admission to the Massachusetts Bar I have been practicing in Boston, where I am associated with the Hon. Henry C. Long. In 1909 and 1910 I was Democratic candidate for the state legislature in the ninth Essex district. Business address: 617-619 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 49 Summer St., Andover, Mass.

THOMAS RICHARD BURNS

He was born in Cambridge, Mass., December 24, 1884, and died of tuberculosis in Sharon, Mass., July 2, 1910. He was the son of Peter Burns and Mary Morley Burns. He was educated in the Cambridge public schools, entering Harvard from the Cambridge English High School. Physically he was not robust, and the confinement of his work, which was mostly in engineering courses in the Scientific School, was apparently too much. In the middle of his senior year, ill health compelled him to leave college. He never fully recovered his health. Those who knew him at college will recall that he was particularly happy in disposition and loyal as a friend. To those who knew him later, his fortitude in long illness was inspiring.

TIMOTHY FRANCIS BURNS

The summer after graduation I spent mostly camping in Banff, Alberta, Canada, with a few weeks, however, in the prairie near Calgary. In the following year I had the management of real estate in Cambridge. I entered the Harvard Law School in the fall of 1907, enlisting during my third year in Troop C, M.V.M. After my marriage my wife and I went abroad for about three months, visiting Ireland, England, Cologne, Munich and Paris. We are now residing in Cambridge. Since my admission to the bar in 1911, I have been in the office of M. J. Sughrue. I was married August 17, 1910, to Katherine E. O'Leary, at Haverhill, Mass. Eleanor Mary, born May 10, 1911. Business address: 509 Pemberton Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 51 Lexington Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

ISAAC TUCKER BURR, JR.

After travelling around the world for a year following graduation, I entered Stone and Webster's in Boston, remaining there for a year and a half. Since then I have been in the same city with Parkinson and Burr. My life has been sedentary and comparatively uneventful. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 53 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Milton St., Milton, Mass.

WILLIAM FAIRFIELD BURR

A son of Professor William H. Burr, of Columbia University, and of the late Caroline Kemp Burr, died at Lake View, Ore., July 15, 1908. He was born at Troy, N. Y., February 7, 1884, and prepared for college at the Berkeley School, New York City, and at Agassiz Hall, Alta, Cal., spending his last year before entering college at the latter school. He completed his college course in three years, and after receiving the degree of A.B., entered the Law School of Columbia University, in the fall of 1905. His health, however, required an out-of-door life, and accordingly, in the fall of 1906, after a year in the law school, he entered the Cornell School of Agriculture, remaining there for one year, when he went west to live on a ranch at Diamond, Ore. He was on his way from there to California, when he was taken ill and died of pneumonia. His body was brought home and interred in Woodlawn cemetery. Underlying a somewhat diffident nature, Burr possessed the sterling qualities of a true and considerate friend, one whose sincerity might be counted on in any emergency. He had a fund of quiet humor, a wholesome fondness for simplicity, bordering almost on severity, and the seriousness of purpose and determination which unite in healthy living. He was not constitutionally strong, but was never known to complain, and seldom even to admit physical ailment. At all times slow to form an ill opinion of his neighbor, he was even slower to give it utterance, and he ever reserved to himself the refreshing right of keeping his mind open to conviction of error. From the lives of his friends Burr's death has taken that which cannot be replaced, the enjoyment and inspiration of his companionship, but the memory of him which will always be fresh in the minds of those who knew him best goes far to soften the sorrow of his death.

HERBERT INGERSOLL BUTTRICK

In October, 1906, I started work in Boston for Merrill, Oldham and Company, bankers. I am still connected with this firm, for whom I have charge of the municipal bond and circular departments. Last October my engagement to Miss Marion A. Hassett of Waltham was announced. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 35 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 9 Wendell St., Cambridge, Mass.

ROBERT OTTO BUTZ

In January, 1905, I left college because of illness. The following September I entered the Northwestern University

SAMUEL CABOT

Since leaving college I have been in my father's business, Samuel Cabot, Incorporated. In 1910 I was elected president of the company, a position which I am still holding. In connection with my business I have been doing some research work in chemistry, and have taken a course in that subject at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. I expect soon to publish some articles on technical subjects. I was married October 16, 1909, to Nancy Graves, at Newburyport, Mass. Samuel, born September 23, 1910; Helen Augusta, born December 24, 1911. Member: Tavern Club of Boston, Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, City Club Corporation of Boston. Business address: 141 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Elm St., Canton, Mass.

PHILIP SHERIDAN CAMPBELL

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906, receiving in 1907 the degree of LL.B. from the New York Law School. Since my admission to the bar, in November, 1907, I have been practicing law in Brooklyn, N. Y. I am in the firm of Campbell and Carleton. I was married April 4, 1910, to Gladys Livingston Tapscott, at Brooklyn, N. Y. James Alexander, born January 6, 1911. Member: Mistletoe Lodge No. 647, F. and A. M., Brooklyn Lodge No. 22, Elks. Business address: 44 Court St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Present residence: 135 Woodruff Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

ROBERT GRAEME CAMPBELL

At midyears of my junior year I left college with the intention of returning the following fall. Business considerations, however, made this impossible. I accordingly took a position as master mechanic at the Walcott and Campbell Spinning Company, New York Mills, N. Y. I continued in this until June, 1908, when I accepted a similar position with the New York Mills Company of the same town. In January, 1911, I resigned to become assistant treasurer of the Walcott and Campbell Spinning Company. Member: Sadaquada Golf Club, Fort Schuyler Club. FREDERICK ARTHUR CARRICK

I left college at the close of my junior year. I then went to work at Beverly, Mass., for the United Shoe Machinery Company, where I was assistant to the local superintendent. The following year I went on the road as salesman for a cut sole house in Boston. After working a year at this I started in Haverhill a business of my own, cutting toplifts, counters and shanks. This I continued until January, 1912, when I sold out. I am now a manufacturer of women's medium grade turn slippers. I was married June 25, 1910, to Sarah K. Kaulbach, at Haverhill, Mass. Member: Pentucket Club, Island Golf Club, Masons. Business address: Haverhill, Mass. Present residence: 102 Webster St., Haverhill, Mass.

LAUREN CARROLL

During my senior year, while on leave of absence, I did work in the Graduate School. I received my degree in 1906. Immediately after Commencement I went to Europe, traveling through England, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Austria and Italy. In October, 1906, I entered the Harvard Law School. In 1907 I received the degree of A.M. in political science. In the summer of 1907 I travelled extensively through Canada and the United States. In 1907-1908 and 1908-1909 I was assistant to Professor Ripley in Economics 9a. During the summer of 1908 I visited Montenegro, Bosnia, Herzegovinia, Italy, Austrian Tyrol, Switzerland, Germany and Holland. In March, 1909, I was admitted to the New York Bar, receiving my LL.B. degree in the following June. In the summer of 1909 I again went abroad. Since September, 1909, I have been engaged with Gould and Wilkie in the general practice of law. I have taken an active part as a Republican in the local campaigns and elections of 1909, 1910 and 1911. I have been election district captain, member of the Executive Committee of the Assembly District, Chairman of the Assembly District Law Committee, and member of the New York City Committee and the New York County Committee. HARRY CLARKSON CARTER

Son of Oscar Martin and Cinderella Thomas Carter, was born August 15, 1880, at Ashland, Neb., and died March 17, 1904, in Stillman Infirmary, Cambridge, Mass. He received his early education in the public schools of Omaha, Neb., and Denver, Colo., was interested in the school athletics and prominent in the student military organizations and social clubs. After being graduated from Denver High School, he became interested in a gold, silver and lead mine in a remote section of Colorado, remaining there three years. He worked hard all day in the mine and at night studied Greek, Latin and trigonometry preparatory to going to college. In the mine work he received much valuable experience, developed a strong, robust body, and was highly respected and liked by the mining men of the district. In the fall of 1902 he entered Harvard without conditions, in the academic department, although he took as many scientific courses as possible and intended, ultimately, to fit himself for the profession of mining engineering. In college he made many friends, was elected to Pi Eta, and was keenly interested in all that makes up the better college life. He possessed a fine mind with the power of concentration and at the time of his death had progressed far enough to insure finishing a four years course in three years. He was a thoroughly manly fellow, broad-minded and tolerant, he could be patient and sympathetic with almost everything except vulgarity, meanness and hypocrisy. He was a man of convictions, clear and positive in the expression of his thoughts, yet possessed of a bright, cheerful disposition and gentle, lovable character. Through the intense suffering of his last illness, he showed great patience, endurance and unfaltering courage.

SAMUEL MEREDITH CARVER

After graduating I spent over a year in Mechanicsville, N. Y., in the employ of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. During 1907-1908 I took several courses in engineering in the Harvard Graduate School and the Summer School. I then returned to Mechanicsville. Early in 1909 I came to Easthampton, where I have since been with the Hampton Company, yarn and cloth finishers, mercerizers, bleachers and dyers. I am overseer of their chemical department. I was married October 23, 1911, to Amalia C. D. Sanders, at Medford, Mass. Business address: Hampton Company, Easthampton, Mass. Present residence: 21 Main St., Easthampton, Mass.

PHILIP CASTLEMAN

I entered college in my junior year and in June, 1906, completed my work for an S.B. degree in chemistry, which I received in 1909, as of 1906. In September, 1906, I entered the employ of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., as assistant chemist. In 1907 I commenced the study of medicine, completing the full course in three years. In 1910-1911 I took post-graduate work in medicine, although still an undergraduate, as no degree in medicine is given in less than four years. I have also taken post-graduate work in chemistry. In June, 1911, I received my degree of M.D. and in February, 1912, my degree of M.S. in chemistry. In March, 1911, I successfully passed an examination for physician of the United States government, by which I was appointed physician to the Indians. For a while I was stationed at Cheyenne River Agency. I was then transferred to Santée Agency, Nebraska. I expect another transfer in the very near future. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Curing of Meats and the Changes That Follow in the Meat and the Pickle," "Chemical Examination of Sour Meats," "Determination of Starch in Meat Products." GEORGE HART CHACE

I left college in my junior year. Since then I have been with the Prudential Insurance Company in Newark, N. J. In 1907 I was elected president, not of the Prudential, but of the Coöperative Society, an organization of the home office employees, which does an annual business in savings and loans of $150,000. I am still holding this position, which comes under the heading of "offices of profit, honor or trust," with the accent off the profit. In 1911 I was also made the first president of the company's newly formed athletic association. I am treasurer of the University Club of Newark. I have been laboring strenuously these several years to secure the wherewithal to obtain little enjoyments of life, while endeavoring at the same time to make myself as useful as possible to the Prudential. The result has been a nose badly blunted by the grindstone, with very little time for the frivolities of the more favored. However, I still have hopes. Member: University Club of Newark, Park Athletic Association of Newark. Business address: Prudential Insurance Company, Newark, N. J. Present residence: 7 Hillside Ave., Newark, N. J. Permanent address: Box 378, Newark, N. J.

FRANK MERRIAM CHADBOURNE

I moved to New York after my graduation, to take up banking. My first position was with Moffat and White of 5 Nassau Street, New York, with whom I studied for several years the various phases of the bond and investment business. In 1909 I left them to enter the employ of Spencer, Trask and Company of New York, Albany, Boston and Chicago. The summer of 1910 I spent abroad, partly in studying foreign banking methods and partly in enjoying a short vacation in England and Scotland. In January, 1911, I formed with Seymour M. Peyser, 1906, a partnership to carry on a banking and investment business in New Jersey; our offices are in Newark under the firm name of Chadbourne and Peyser. We are correspondents of Spencer, Trask and Company. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Ardsley Club of Ardsley-on-Hudson, Economic Club of New York. Business address: Firemen's Insurance Building, Newark, N. J. Present residence: 12 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

GEORGE MATHER CHAMPNEY

I entered college in my sophomore year. Immediately after graduation I began work in Boston for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. Present residence: 20 Shepard St., Cambridge, Mass.

ARTHUR OLAF CHRISTENSEN

In the middle of my junior year I transferred from Harvard to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where I was graduated in 1907. I then set out to familiarize myself with the mining industry of the continent. My experiences were varied and interesting. In Michigan I worked first in the Calumet and Hecla and the Centennial copper mines, then in the iron mines. After putting in a few weeks surveying land in Wisconsin, I went to Cripple Creek, Colo., where I worked as miner in most of the larger mines. As the panic of 1907 forced me to return to Boston, I became an assistant at Technology. At the end of the term I again went west, this time to the Aspen district of Colorado, where I worked for fifteen months as miner, boilermnan and engineer, mechanic, mine surveyor and assayer. When an offer came to go to Mexico as mine superintendent of the La Novia silver mine, I accepted. The experience in Mexico was well worth while. Conditions improved so steadily that after fourteen months I was given a leave of absence in which to return to the states to secure a wife. Hardly had we become settled there when the revolution so stirred things up at the mine that we all decided it was no place for a lady. In July, 1911, my wife and I accordingly left the country to its fate. During the past fall and early winter I visited the Cobalt and Porcupine districts. At present I am employed by the brokerage firm of Thomas Rheinhardt. I was married January 25, 1911, to Helen M. Eddy, at Groton, Mass. Member: American Institute of Mining Engineers. Business address: 54 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Groton, Mass. Permanent address: Beaufort, S. C.

WILLIAM FOLLEN CLAPP

JULIUS VENNARD CLARK

The first year after I was graduated I was employed at the home office of the Macmillan Company of New York. I left them to enter the newspaper field in Boston, where I was connected, first with the Boston Herald and later with the Boston Evening Record, as reporter, reviewer, city editor, etc. My only extended vacation was a European trip in 1908. Though I have published no books, I have written reviews and contributed articles to various papers. Business address: Boston Evening Record, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 109 Myrtle St., Melrose, Mass.

LESTER WILLIAMS CLARK, JR.

Son of Judge Clark, of the Supreme Court of New York, and of Irene Marie (de McCarty) Clark, died at Staten Island, N. Y., on September 13, 1909, from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. Clark was born January 7, 1885, at New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., and prepared for college at the Staten Island Academy. In college he was not so generally known as Montgomery or Emerson, whom our class has also lost, his interests being perhaps rather more studious than theirs. He took an active interest in class and club rowing, however, and was one of the men who, although not caring for a leading part in undergraduate affairs, was always ready to give his time to doing tiresome things that he thought ought to be done. Next to rowing, his chief interests as an undergraduate were in studies of psychology and of natural history. He was a member of the D. K. E., Institute of 1770, Memorial and Signet societies, and the Fencing, Stylus and Hasty Pudding Clubs, and also of the Natural History Society and the Psychological and Philosophy Clubs.

On leaving college, he entered the Harvard Law School, where in a very quiet way he soon won an important place for himself. He was the sort of man whom students in the school from other colleges, and in need of advice as to the ways of Cambridge, would pick out as the man to whom to take their doubts. He was a member of the Pow-Wow Law Club and of the Choate Chapter. After graduating from the Law School in June, 1909, cum laude and the marshal of his class, Clark spent the summer in Europe travelling with his family, having arranged to enter a large New York law office in the autumn. He returned to New York earlier than he expected, in order to undergo an operation for appendicitis, from the effects of which he died before his family could reach him. In the death of Clark the class has lost a man of great ability and remarkable and humble unselfishness who constantly spent himself in helping other people through their difficulties and upon whose future the class was entitled to look with particularly high hope.

WILLIAM ARMSTRONG CLARK

In June, 1906, I started work in the lumber yard of Blacker and Shepard Company of Boston. In the fall I went to Burlington, Vt., where I was employed in the yard and mill of the Shepard and Morse Lumber Company. About six months later they sent me to Ottawa to learn the business there. In October, 1907, I returned to Boston to buy and sell lumber for Walter D. Noyes. I have made no change since that time. Business address: 33 Broad St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 31 West Cedar St., Boston, Mass.

ROGER HENRY CLARKE

After studying law at the Harvard Law School, I began to practice in private offices in New York. Since January, 1910, I have been assistant United States attorney for the southern district of New York. I was married June 1, 1910, to Janet Thompson Carter, at East Orange, N. J. Samuel

EDGAR THOMAS CLEMENTS

In October I entered the junior class at the Union Theological Seminary, New York. In June, 1909, after receiving the degree of B.D., I was called by the Westchester Congregational Church, White Plains, N. Y., to become one of its pastors. I began my work in August, 1909. On October 28 I was regularly ordained to the Christian ministry by a council of Congregational churches from New York and vicinity. I am still pastor of the Chatterton Hill congregation of the Westchester Church. The summer of 1907 I spent abroad, visiting England, Scotland, France and Switzerland. During my vacations for the last three years I have preached at Chatham, N. J. Member: Manhattan Ministers' Association, White Plains Civic Club, University Club of White Plains. Present residence: 5 First St., White Plains, N. Y. Permanent address: 70 Hillside Ave., Nutley, N. J.

CLEVELAND COBB

After the summer following graduation I got a position with the Morton Trust Company of New York, where I remained for about two years. I then took a trip through the middle west and south, visiting Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, Mobile and various smaller places. On my return to New York in December, 1908, I went into the office of J. S. Bache and Company, bankers and brokers, by whom I was employed until I accepted my present position, about a year ago, in the commercial paper department of F. S. Moseley and Company's New York office. Business address: 26 Exchange Place, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 449 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

HORACE BUTTERFIELD COBURN, JR.

A year with the "sand hogs" in the East River tunnels, two years on New York subway construction and three years as a "student in railroad operation" on the Harriman lines in Oregon, with a partnership in a contracting firm on the side, comprise my business experience. The only offices of profit that I have held are the secretaryship of the University Club of Portland and of the North Coast Contract Company of Portland. Member: American Society of Civil Engineers, Harvard Club of New York, University Club of Portland. Business address: 912 Lewis Boulevard, Portland, Ore. Present residence: University Club, Portland, Ore. Permanent address: 275 Andover St., Lowell, Mass.

LESLIE ROLAND COFFIN

Immediately after leaving college I went into the statistical department of Stone and Webster's Boston office. In April, 1907, I was transferred to the Whatcom County Railway and Light Company at Bellingham, Washington, where I have been wireman's helper, meter repairer and electrical engineer. For about two years I have been manager of the company. I was married October 14, 1909, to Fanny M. Johnson, at Cambridge, Mass. Member: Stone and Webster Club of Washington, Cougar Club of Bellingham, National Electric Light Association, American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Business address: Care of Whatcom County Railway and Light Company, Bellingham, Wash. Present residence: 148 Elk St., Bellingham, Wash.

WILLIAM LESLIE COGGINS

Upon taking a special course at Harvard in 1902-1903, I became principal of the grammar school at Whitman, Mass. Since 1905 I have been superintendent of schools at Rockland, Mass. I was married July 3, 1899, to Carrie A. Pond, at Nashua, N. H. Paul Pond, born July 28, 1900. Member: Masons. Business address: 394 Union St., Rockland, Mass. Present residence: 38 West Water St., Rockland, Mass.

EDMUND STRONG COGSWELL

Since graduation I have been connected with the actuarial department of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company; I am employed on mathematical work at the home office in Boston. In the autumn of 1910 I had the pleasure of a short trip abroad, visiting Great Britain, Belgium and France. For five years I have been a member of the Second Corps of Cadets, M.V.M., in which I am now sergeant. I spent two weeks at Lawrence during the recent period of disorder there. Masonic work is one of my interests; I hold an office in the blue lodge. I have been auditor and member of the board of trustees of the First Baptist Church of Salem. Member: Boston Life Underwriters' Association, Boston Baptist Social Union, Salem Charter Association, F. and A. M. Business address: 87 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 64 Washington Square, Salem, Mass.

WALTER CLEVELAND COGSWELL, JR.

Late in the spring of 1906 I left college as I was suffering with rheumatic fever. The next fall I entered my father's law office to take up the study of law. In March, 1910, I was admitted to the bar. In 1907 and 1911 I coached the Harvard Chess Team. In the summer of 1910 I took a canoe trip down Lakes Champlain and George. With this exception my vacations have all been spent at North Scituate, Mass. This little town is near enough to Boston to allow frequent golf and tennis during the week, if now and then one is able to leave one's work early. Member: Boston Press Club, Boston Chess Club, Konihassett Boat Club, Hatherly Playground Association. Business address: 11 Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 32 Paul St., Newton Centre, Mass.

AUGUSTUS COHEN

I spent the year 1906-1907 in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. Immediately afterwards I went to Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., to enter the employ of the Hastings Pavement Company. The next two years were spent in the mechanical and administrative departments of the asphalt industry, after which, in the spring of 1910, I was named superintendent of the New Castle Asphalt Block Company, with works at New Castle, Pa., and offices at Pittsburgh, Pa. In January, 1912, I was recalled from New Castle to take charge of the manufacturing and construction work of the Railway Asphalt Block Company, Bridgeport, Conn., with which I am at present connected as superintendent of manufacturing. I was married December 18, 1910, to Marion C. Lally, at Yonkers, N. Y. Reid A., born November 16, 1911. Business address: 90 West St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 483 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

REUBEN SOLOMON COHEN

I attended Harvard from 1900-1902 and from 1903-1906. After leaving, I went to Mazagan, Morocco, to enter the importing and exporting business with my brothers, under the firm name of Meir Cohen and Company. Since January, 1911, I have been endeavoring to establish in New York a business of my own. In the meantime I am studying law at the Columbia University Law School. I was married March 31, 1909, to Evelyn Schweitzer, at Paris, France. Present residence: 672 St. Nicholas Ave., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM ISAAC COHN

The year following my graduation I spent in France at the Sorbonne. After my return home, I established in 1908 the banking firm of W. I. and J. Cohn, with headquarters in Fort Smith, and branch offices in New York. This is now my occupation. Member: Progress Club Association of Fort Smith. Business address: Fort Smith, Ark. Present residence: Fort Smith, Ark.

BERT LAWLOR COLBY

I completed my course at midyears, receiving my degree at Commencement. The following autumn I entered the Harvard Law School, where I read law for about a year. A summer vacation in the country was extended past the opening of college and lengthened into the winter season. The next September, when the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration was opened for the first time, I enrolled in this department, taking up the regular business school courses, with emphasis, if any, directed along the line of railroading. Some experience in transportation matters I obtained by investigation and work with the Southern Railway at Washington, D. C., during the three months' interval between the two years of the course. In June, 1910, I received an M.B.A. degree. I did not at once take up work with any firm, but was engaged in family affairs for the greater part of the following year. In connection with confidential family business I travelled considerably in the northeastern portion of the country. Last July, when the reorganization of the Boston and Albany Railroad centralized its control and operation at Boston, I became connected with that railroad. I have since had charge of all the statistics of the department of passenger accounts. Member: Odd Fellows. Business address: South Terminal Station, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 163 Lexington St., East Boston, Mass.

EDWIN ROY COLPITT

My senior year was one of broken health, which prevented me from completing the requirements for my degree. I accordingly went to live with an uncle on a small farm in Fayville, Mass. A year later I moved to West Acton, Mass., where my parents had bought a dairy farm. In 1911, after a short trip to Alberta, Canada, I returned to Massachusetts, where I am at present engaged in the poultry and farming business with my father and a brother. Business address: R. R. No. 1, Taunton, Mass. Present residence: R. R. No. 1, Taunton, Mass.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

MAURICE VERNON CONNER

I received my degree in 1910, as of 1906. From 1906 to 1910 I was engaged in selling typewriters. I am now manufacturer's agent in New England for advertising signs. I was married October 27, 1909, to Anna May Wharff, at Cambridge, Mass. Member: Masonic Orders. Business address: 15 School St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 106 Oxford St., Cambridge, Mass. Permanent address: Orange, Mass.

MARTIN JOSEPH CONNOLLY

In 1906 I left college. For one year I worked in Utah for the American Smelting Company; for one year I was engaged in experimental work at Salida, Colo.; for the next I prospected in British Columbia; and for two and one half years I was in the technical department of the du Pont Powder Company. The last kept me mostly in the southeastern part of the United States. I am now with the du Pont Powder Company in Chicago. I was married July 4, 1910, to Olive Borden, at Boston, Mass. Business address: du Pont Powder Company, Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: 214 Centre St., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

HERBERT LEWIS CONVERSE

I left college in March of my freshman year. For the last three years I have been in the automobile business. At present I have an agency for a western car. Business address: 321 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 39 Florence Ave., Arlington, Mass.

ARTHUR MAYHEW COOK

After graduation I entered the Yale Forest School. In the spring of 1908 I spent some months estimating timber, mapping and working about camps in the yellow pine region. That same spring I took the United States civil service examination for the position of forest assistant, and in July, after receiving at Yale the degree of M.F., I reported for duty on the Cheyenne National Forest of southern Wyoming. After a year there I was transferred to the Hayden Forest as deputy supervisor. I was promoted in another year to forest supervisor, taking charge of the Arapaho National Forest, with headquarters at Fraser. During the winter of 1910 I was elected an active member of the Society of American Foresters. Member: Society of American Foresters. Business address: Forest Service, Fraser, Colo. Permanent address: 135 Academy St., Laconia, N. H.

HAROLD OATMAN COOK

In the Graduate School of Applied Science I completed the course in Forestry which I had commenced in college. Upon receiving the degree of M.F. in June, 1907, I immediately took a position as technical forester in the office of the Massachusetts state forester. I am still connected with the department, now as assistant forester. I was married September 21, 1910, to Helen Crane Parkhurst, at Everett, Mass. Books or plays of my authorship: "Forest Mensuration of White Pine," "Forest Thinning in Massachusetts," "Forest Fire Situation in Massachusetts." Member: Society of American Foresters, Association of Northeastern Foresters, Massachusetts Forestry Association. Business address: 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 232 Melrose St., Auburndale, Mass.

CLARENCE DENIS COUGHLIN

I entered college from Wesleyan University in my sophomore year, remaining at Cambridge through the summer of 1905, when I finished enough courses for my A.B. degree; this I received with the class after leave of absence in 1905-1906. I was then chosen a teacher of English in the Wilkes Barre High School. I resigned in four years, however, to practice law in Luzerne county, Pa. I was married June 27, 1910, to Helen Verner Barring, at Wilkes Barre, Pa. Member: Free and Accepted Masons, J. O. A. M., Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Wilkes Barre Press Club, Wilkes Barre Franklin Club, Wilkes Barre Board of Trade, Harvard Club of Northeastern Pennsylvania. Business address: 401 Coal Exchange Building, Wilkes Barre, Pa. Present residence: 49 Terrace St., Wilkes Barre, Pa.

JOHN JOSEPH COURTNEY

Since 1902 I have been organist and teacher of pianoforte in Plymouth. From 1905 to 1907 I studied pianoforte with Mr. B. J. Lang, at the same time teaching music at the Ellen Miles Whitman School for Boys. Since 1907 I have been teaching at Plymouth and at 6 Newbury Street, Boston, where I am also an accompanist in the studio of Mr. Stephen Townsend. Business address: 6 Newbury St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Highland Ave., Plymouth, Mass.

JOHN KARLTON COUTANT

Since graduation I have been working for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. I am at present in the sales department of their New York office. I was married January 5, 1910, to Alice Hoyt Smith, at Newburgh,

GRAHAM COVENTRY

After receiving my degree, I entered the employ of the First National Bank, Utica, N. Y. In December, 1908, I left to accept a position as note teller at the Utica Trust and Deposit Company, of which I was later elected assistant secretary; I am now holding that office. I was married October 11, 1910, to Mary MacDonald Cooper, at Utica, N. Y. George, born December 17, 1911. Member: Yahmindasis Golf Club. Business address: 162 Genesee St., Utica, N. Y. Present residence: 20 Clinton Place, Utica, N. Y.

GEORGE HOWLAND COX, JR.

In the fall of 1904 I entered college as a special student in the class of 1906, remaining until May, 1906. From Cambridge I went to Cincinnati, where until December, 1908, I was engaged in the bond business. As I was not in good health, I returned to Boston, afterwards spending seven months in the White Mountains. In September, 1909, I relinquished this pleasing occupation to act as bond man for F. H. Prince and Company of Boston. Here I remained until January 1, 1910, when I was offered a position in Thompson, Towle and Company, a firm which had just been formed. For a while I was in their New York office. I am now Boston manager for Lawrence Barnum and Company, bankers. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Colonial Club of Cambridge. Business address: 85 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Colonial Club, Cambridge, Mass.

PHILIP WESCOTT LAWRENCE COX

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I studied surveying at Squam Lake. In August I became foreman at West Somerville, Mass., for the Swift Soap Company, but resigned in November to become a master at Cloyne House School, Newport, R. I. At the close of the school year, however, I decided to take up agriculture, which had long appealed to me. I accordingly went to work as a laborer at Rawson's market garden in Arlington, Mass., at the same time tutoring candidates for entrance to Harvard. After graduate work in agriculture at New Hampshire College, I leased a farm in Norfolk, Mass., which I ran for a year. As the farm was a failure, I again turned to teaching. In the fall of 1908, following a summer school course at Harvard, I accepted a position at the Milton High School, Milton, Mass., where I taught for two years. In June, 1910, I was elected principal of the Oliver Ames High School, North Easton, Mass. A year later I became superintendent of schools at North Easton. I was married July 17, 1909, to Ruth Dillaway, at Marblehead Neck, Mass. Philip Wescott Lawrence, Jr., born September 12, 1910. Business address: Lincoln St., North Easton, Mass. Present residence: 7 Day St., North Easton, Mass. Permanent address: 80 Appleton St., Malden, Mass.

CHARLES ROBERT CRAIG

Until April, 1910, I was a civil engineer at Lowell, Mass. Since then I have been employed as steel foreman and labor foreman by the Aberthaw Construction Company of Boston, Mass. I am at present working in Buffalo, N. Y., on a reinforced concrete warehouse for the Larkin Company; this building is to be the largest of its kind in the world. I was married July 20, 1911, to Eleanor Waugh, at Tonowanda, N. Y. Business address: Aberthaw Construction Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Permanent address: Thoreau St., Concord, Mass.

RALPH EDWARD CROPLEY

At the end of my sophomore year I left college to find myself, within a week, hustling about Wall Street. A year later

HARVARD, 1906 — SECOND CLASS REPORT

I went out on the road. Since then I have travelled nearly 500,000 miles, periodically visiting Europe and the West Indies, and taking innumerable trips to Bermuda to see my folks. My travels and my deep love for the sea have furnished me with material for many yarns, which I have had published. As I am frankly ashamed of them, I don't care to mention my nom de plume. In 1909 I was ill for seven months with typhoid, with every known complication, including an abscess of the liver. Since then I have had many ailments resulting from the fever. I recently had an accident, for which I was operated upon on the R. M. S. P. "Tagus" at sea. This experience, to me the most important since I had left college, was the means of my knowing and loving an Englishman, a typical sea-dog, who saved my life. The world has treated me rather roughly, but I am glad to say that although I have been accused of being a cynic, I have learned to smile, no matter what happens. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Bond and Goodwin, 111 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Summit, N. J.

ELIOT CROSS

I studied architecture until the end of my junior year, when I left college to take an extended trip through England and the continent. On my return to this country I spent two years in architects' offices. Since then, however, I have practiced architecture in partnership with my brother, J. W. Cross, under the firm name of Cross and Cross. Member: Metropolitan Club of New York, Harvard Club of New York, Racquet and Tennis Club of New York, Westchester Country Club. Business address: 527 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 6 Washington Square, New York, N. Y.

Although I was first sent out as inspector of machinery, I soon became resident inspector for Stone and Webster at the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y. I was married October 26, 1907, to Clara Peickert, at Cambridge, Mass. Member: American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Business address: 147 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 408 Rugby Road, Schenectady, N. Y. Permanent address: Marshfield Hills, Mass.

PHELPS CRUM

I attended the Harvard Law School in 1906-1907, after which I studied in the law offices of Carr, Stearns, Chamberlain and Royon, Cleveland, O. In June, 1909, I was admitted to practice in Ohio. I continued my practice with Carr, Stearns, Chamberlain and Royon until the death of Mr. Carr. I was then, in January, 1911, made junior member of Stearns, Chamberlain and Royon. Member: Union Club, Mayfield Country Club, University Club of Cleveland, Hermit Club, Black Horse Troop. Business address: 1500 Williamson Building, Cleveland, O. Present residence: Kent Road, Euclid Heights, Cleveland, O.

GEORGE ARVED CUSHMAN

My degree, which I had originally planned to take with my class, was granted me in March, 1906. My fourth year, 1905-1906, I spent in the Graduate School, where I received the degree of A.M. in history. Although I had thus specialized, I went to work after graduation as rodman for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This was a very pleasant year. The outdoor life, the hardy, muscular work of climbing up and down stone piers, scaling iron superstructures and the various other necessary stunts put me into the best of physical condition. Sometimes I even wish I were still at this work. As the pay, however, appeared to be of very slow increase, I decided to turn to teaching. My first position was in the Lowell Textile School, where I taught chemistry for four years. Because of the better pay and greater advantages in Boston, however, I desired to get into the Boston system. Last year, therefore, I took the examinations for high school positions. I was fortunate enough to get an immediate appointment in the English High School, where I had received some good preparation for the fuller life at Harvard. I was married June 26, 1908, to Helen E. Hernes, at Boston, Mass. Gladys Helen, born March 31, 1909; Ruth Hester, born February 3, 1911. Member: Masons. Business address: English High School, Boston, Mass. HENRY HYMAN DAMON

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. In the fall of 1905 I entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where in June, 1908, I received the degree of B.S. in civil engineering. During the summers of 1907 and 1908 I was engaged as rodman with the Charles River Basin Commission. The summer of 1906 I was employed in a similar capacity by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad. In the fall of 1908 I was appointed instructor in mathematics on the U.S.S. Ranger, the Massachusetts Nautical Training School. During my connection with this I visited the Azores, England, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, Germany, France, Gibraltar, Spain, Italy and Bermuda, spending about six months in Europe. Upon my return I found awaiting me an appointment as civil engineer in the Philippine service, which, after a short stay at home, I accepted. On my way I stopped for several days at Honolulu, Yokohama, Tokyo, Nagasaki, Kobe, Shanghai and Hong Kong. In February, 1910, I landed at Manila. After having been stationed for two years in Iloilo, I am now back again in Manila, where I am an assistant engineer. Member: Columbia Club of Manila. Business address: Bureau of Public Works, Manila, P. I. Present residence: Manila, P. I.

ALLSTON DANA

From 1906 to 1908 I studied civil engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, getting the degree of S.B. in June, 1908. After my marriage I went west to teach engineering for two years at the University of Montana. I left, however, to begin practical work with the American Bridge Company at Elmira; I am still employed there. I was married June 11, 1908, to Dorothy H. Goodale, at Cambridge, Mass. Children: Dorothy, born November 8, 1909; Allston, Jr., born June 15, 1911. Business address: Empire Bridge Company, Elmira, N. Y. Present residence: 714 West 1st St., Elmira, N. Y. WILLIAM BELL DINSMOOR

I remained at the University, taking graduate work in architecture and assisting in fine arts, during 1906-1907, then entered the office of George B. Post and Sons, architects, of New York. In the summer of 1908 I received the appointment which I now hold as Carnegie Fellow in Architecture in the American School of Classical Studies at Athens, Greece. There two tasks awaited me, study and restoration of the Propylaea and other buildings bordering the west entrance to the Acropolis of Athens, and architectural work in connection with the school's excavations in ancient Corinth. The completion of the drawings and the text of my study of the Propylaea, in preparation for publication, will require another year, making a total of five years that I shall have devoted to the work. At odd times during the past four years I have travelled about most of Greece. The short vacations which I have been able to take have been passed, the first in Sicily and Rome, the second in America, the third in the Aegean Islands. I was married September 8, 1910, to Zillah Frances Pierce, at Cambridge, Mass. ROBERT MONTGOMERY DOLE

Although sickness during one of my examinations cost me my degree, it is my intention to win before the class sexennial the one point I need. After Class Day I was at first undecided whether to choose astronomy as a profession or follow the usual course of men thrust out into the world by trying business. I finally started a business career at the Waltham Watch Company's factory. My work there, where I remained for two years, was very interesting. I then entered the purchasing department of William Filene's Sons Company. After a year there I was advised to try the publishing business. I have been connected in an editorial capacity with the "New England Magazine," "The Opera," a small theatrical sheet and the "Saturday Sun," a weekly paper. In 1912 W. B. Wheelwright, 1901, established a paper called "Infancy," of which I am assistant manager. I advise all married men of the class to read it. My hobbies are birds, stars and writing. I am at present working on an astronomical novel. My chief delight in life is to study the mysteries of the heavens and the worlds which lie beyond. Member: Astronomical Society of Mexico. FRANKLIN HENRY ELLIS

I left college at the end of my junior year, returning in 1906 to get my degree with the class. The two years which followed I spent with the New York Central Railroad and with W. B. Hibbs and Company, brokers, in Washington. In October, 1908, I went into the contracting business with Harper and Voigt Company, of which I am now treasurer. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Metropolitan Club of Washington, Chevy Chase Club of Washington. Business address: 717 14th St., Washington, D. C. Present residence: 1526 New Hampshire Ave., Washington, D. C. Permanent address: Metropolitan Club, Washington, D. C.

PHILIP VAN RENSSELAER ELLIS

Ever since graduation I have been working in Boston for Wrenn Brothers and Company. The winter of 1910-1911, however, I spent travelling through England, Ireland, France, Germany, Egypt and other countries. Member:

Boston Athletic Association. Business address: Wrenn Brothers and Company, 53 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 69 Monmouth St., Brookline, Mass.

GEORGE LOVELL ELLSWORTH

In October, 1903, I entered Boston University Law School, from which I was graduated in 1906. While at the law school I was chosen as a member of the debating team which, in my senior year, defeated Georgetown University. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in September, 1906; and in the following December I was appointed notary public. In 1909 and 1910 I was instructor in bankruptcy, jurisprudence and criminal law at the Suffolk School of Law, Boston. At present I am a co-partner in the law firm of Thibodau and Ellsworth, Boston, and assistant general counsel of the Automobile Legal Association. I have contributed many articles to the New England Magazine and Motor News. Member: Legal Fraternity of Gamma Eta Gamma, Rabboni Lodge A. F. and A. M., Republican Club of Massachusetts, chairman Ward Sixteen Republican Committee of Boston. Business address: 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 50 Monadnock St., Dorchester, Mass.

HARRY WALLACE EMBRY

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906. Shortly after returning home I accepted a position with the Bell-Coggeshall Box Company, spending my first ten months at their saw mill at Lambert, Miss. On my return to Louisville I was elected secretary and treasurer of the company, and shortly afterwards, manager; these offices I am still holding. I was married October 10, 1911, to Janet Barbour Colston, at Louisville, Ky. Member: Tavern Club of Louisville, Masonic, Scottish Rite and Shrine. Business address: 16th and Maple Sts., Louisville, Ky. Present residence: Douglas Boulevard and Dorothy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

WILLIAM FORBES EMERSON

Son of Edward Waldo and Annie Shepard Keyes Emerson, and grandson of Ralph Waldo Emerson, was born in Concord, Mass., May 26, 1884. In spite of a septic pneumonia when a little boy, followed by loss of a bone from his foot, he grew up vigorous, active and strong. He was educated at the public schools in Concord; at Harvard College, which he entered in 1902. His scholarship was not found fault with in college, though he was greatly interested in athletics and class affairs and he became assistant manager and finally manager of the University crew, and in that capacity went with them to England in 1906 for the race with Cambridge. During his college course he did some successful private tutoring, and substituted at St. Paul's School. In vacations, he twice went to sea, once as a hand on a Gloucester fishing vessel; he also, by correspondence, prepared himself to be a railroad fireman, but proved color-blind. He served in Concord's militia company of the 6th Regiment, M.V.I., and became sergeant; then was transferred to Battery A, in which he rose to first sergeant. Stone and Webster, a firm engaged in large constructive enterprises, gave him a place in their securities department in Boston and he worked zealously for them. In 1908 and again in 1909 he was sent to their Chicago office, the last time being temporarily in charge there during the illness of the head of the office. There he fell ill with pneumonia, and died June 24, 1909. From childhood William was always social, public-spirited and very energetic and determined, in the village life, school, college athletics and clubs, and the militia. He was affectionate, of quick feelings, always democratic, and he never allowed himself to shirk, or to be afraid. He had the fortune to help many around him, and in his short life he accomplished much gaily and bravely.

WILLIAM BRIGHAM ESSELEN

I left college in December, 1905, to become private secretary to Edward A. Filene of William Filene's Sons Company of Boston. In March, 1907, I accepted my present position, the assistant managership of the Folsom Snow Guard Company of Boston, manufacturers of snow guards. In 1908, and again in 1911, I was a member of the Republican Ward Committee of Ward 23, Boston; in 1911, until I moved to Needham, I was treasurer. I have also been secretary, 1909-1910, of the Roslindale Citizens' Association, serving as their delegate both to the United Improvement Association, an organization representing eighteen or twenty improvement associations, and to the Neighborhood Conference of "Boston-1915." Of this conference I was secretary. I was married June 1, 1911, to Thirza Ballard Clark, at Roslindale, Mass. Member: Boston City Club. Business address: 4 Post Office Square, Boston, Mass. Present residence: Webster St., Needham, Mass.

GEORGE HAMILTON EVANS

I attended Harvard during 1902-1903 as a special student. In November, 1903, I located in Chickasha, Okla., where I became one of the publishers of the Chickasha Daily Express, of which I have since been editor. I have served one term as president of the Oklahoma State Press Association. I was married June 28, 1911, to Hazel E. Smith, at Chickasha, Okla. Member: Harvard Club of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State Press Association. Business address: 111 North 3d St., Chickasha, Okla. Present residence: 711 Iowa Ave., Chickasha, Okla.

GEORGE HERBERT EVANS

Son of Robert J. and Mary Bogert Younglove Evans, was born at Johnstown, N. Y., August 18, 1882, and met death by drowning in Canada Lake, Fulton County, N. Y., August 10, 1903. He prepared for Harvard at the Johnstown High School, graduating in 1900; also at St. Paul's School, Garden City, Long Island, graduating in 1902. In these schools he was prominently identified with all forms of school activity, playing on the football teams of both, impressing always a strong character and personality on school companions. Concluding his first year at Harvard, Mr. Evans went to his home in Johnstown, going early in August to Canada Lake for the remainder of the summer. On Monday morning, August 10, he was drowned in this lake. His body was recovered Monday, August 17, and funeral services were held at St. John's Church, Johnstown, Tuesday, August 18, his 21st birthday, interment being made in the Johnstown cemetery. He was a communicant of St. John's Church, Johnstown. Surviving are the mother, one sister, Miss Lillian Evans, and one brother, Robert Younglove Evans, of Little Silver, N. J. Strong, vigorous, manly, gentle and generous—George Evans was all that. The possession of brilliant intellect, radiant nature and inspiring character, provided ample capacity and promise for the large places of honor and usefulness among his fellow men. The untimely hand of Death brought to a sudden and tragic close a young life filled with promise and surrounded by deepest love of family and friends.

RICHARD TAYLOR EVANS

After graduation I attended the Harvard Law School, receiving in 1911 the degree of LL.B. Since 1909 I have been a teacher of international law and Roman law at the Pei-Yang University, Tientsin, China. I am now chairman of the law faculty. We are proud to have a share in the development of an institution that will one day be great, thinking none the less of our opportunity because the university is managed solely by Chinese. I am a director of the American Machinery and Export Company, a very small corporation engaged principally in export to the United States. Member: American International Law Association. Business address: Pei-Yang University, Tientsin, China. Present residence: Tientsin, China.

SHIRLEY BLAKE EVERETT

Since leaving college in December, 1904, owing to circumstances beyond my control, as well as much against my own desires, I have done very little of special interest. Four years as clerk in the wholesale paint business, with three years travelling in the importing starch trade, cover the eight years. The details of the work would interest no one, while the details of the pleasures had better be left to the imagination. Although I never received my degree, still I am sure there is no one any stronger for old Harvard and 1906 than yours truly. Member: Dorchester Yacht Club. Business address: 60 India St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 40 Pleasant St., Waltham, Mass.

HAROLD KNIEST FABER

I lived in Detroit for a year after graduation. In October, 1907, I entered the department of medicine and surgery of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., graduating in June, 1911. In July following I became medical interne in the New York Hospital, New York. Present residence: (till July 1, 1913) 8 West 16th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 344 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

WILLIAM PRESTON FARGO

I received my degree in 1909, as of 1906. Since leaving college I have been connected with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York. I am to start this month on a trip to Europe. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Rumson Country Club, Squadron A. Business address: 22 William St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 56 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

FERDINAND FARLEY

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I entered the Harvard Law School. In April, 1906, I left to spend a year in

New York, but returned in April, 1907. In 1909, upon receiving my LL.B. degree, I came to Manchester, N. H., where I have since been practicing law. I was married January 30, 1910, to Maria Theodora Malenfant, at Nashua, N. H. Alice Cécile, born October 30, 1910. Business address: 936 Elm St., Manchester, N. H. Present residence: 272 Manchester St., Manchester, N. H.

HAROLD SUMNER FARNHAM

For nearly four years I was engaged in engineering work in New York. Early in 1910, however, I purchased a half interest with my father in the dry goods business in Antrim, N. H. I am now located there. Business address: Antrim, N. H. Present residence: Antrim, N. H.

EDWARD MILLER FARNSWORTH, JR.

Until August, 1908, I was employed by Stone and Webster. Since then I have been with E. M. Farnsworth and Company, bond dealers. I was married October 14, 1908, to Margaret A. King, at Boston, Mass. Margaret K., born November 13, 1909. Business address: 24 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 260 Aspinwall Ave., Brookline, Mass.

THEODORE SLEVIN FARRELLY

In the summer of 1906 I travelled in Europe, meeting several members of the class at Innsbruck. I arrived in London in time for the Cambridge boat race. At the end of the summer I prepared to enter the University of Leipzig, where I found many courses of interest to Americans. After I had chosen my subjects, however, I changed my mind as to the delights of living in a town where the inhabitants had never heard of English A, so finally decided to sail for New York. I have remained in this city ever since, where I am now engaged in the insurance business. My only outside activities have been trips in the summer to Seabright, N. J., and service as a cavalry trooper in Squadron A of the National Guard of New York. I have twice taken part in army manoeuvres near Lake Ontario. Member: Rumson Country Club, Squadron A Club. Business address: 60 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 182 West 58th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 9-13 Park Place, New York, N. Y.

I was married August 2, 1905, to Bernice Parkman Ladd, of Haverhill, Mass. Business address: 20 Washington St., Haverhill, Mass. Present residence: 77 Webster St., Haverhill, Mass.

CHARLES LEONARD FICKLEN

He was born September 29, 1884, and departed this life August 12, 1911, at his home in Memphis, Tenn. He received his early education at the Memphis University School, where he was prominent in athletic, as well as academic life. He entered the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville, Tenn., in 1901, and joined Tennessee Kappa Chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. In 1902 he entered Harvard University and affiliated with Massachusetts Gamma Chapter of his fraternity. He played a leading part in University affairs, displaying a spirit of interest and energy that was destined to make his way for him later in the business world. After leaving college he engaged in the cotton business in his home city for a year or two, and in 1907 became manager of the Insurance Department of Martin and Raine, bankers, a prominent bank and trust company of Memphis. From this time Mr. Ficklen's advance in business life was rapid and sure. He took charge of the Insurance Department of this bank when it was in its infancy, and by his ability and tireless energy made it one of the best paying features of the institution. His loss was indeed a severe one to his business associates. Charles L. Ficklen was a member of one of the first families of the south. He was a true type of the southern gentleman,—manly and courageous with men, courteous and gentle with women. He was, as was natural, a leader in the social life of his city, and was admired and held in high esteem by all. Those who knew him intimately were devoted to him, and his untimely death left a host of bereaved friends to mourn.

GEORGE HAYES FIELD

Although I was given my degree in 1906, I had left college at mid-years of my senior year, to recover at Mentone, France, from typhoid. In the fall I entered the Harvard Law School, graduating in 1909. During the two summers which followed, I motored through France, Germany, Austria, Italy, and Switzerland, with a side trip down the Dalmation coast. In March, 1911, I entered the law offices of Henefick, Cooke, Mitchell and Bass, Buffalo, N. Y., where I am now working. Member: University Club of New York, Racquet and Tennis Club of New York, Harvard Club of New York, University Club of Buffalo, Park Club of Buffalo, Country Club of Buffalo, Saturn Club of Buffalo. Business address: 558 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y. Present residence: 452 Delaware Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

HENRY WHITE FISHER

He died at the home of his grandfather, H. H. White, at Evergreen Farm, near Lewes, Del., November 5, 1904, aged 22 years. He left a widowed mother and one brother Charles, who graduated from Harvard in 1904. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. R. Henderson, at White's Chapel and interment made in the adjoining cemetery. That he was of unusual mentality and brilliant promise is attested by the many prizes and scholarships which he received. His life was one of singular purity. He was never known to be guilty of a vicious act or habit. Not only was he virtuous, but he was a professing Christian from early youth. Like Galahad of old he went forth—to be vanquished by death only. Death, indeed, loves a shining mark and while hearts are crushed with sorrow, in such a death there is no sting. "He lived not long, but well." One of his instructors wrote of him: "It was good for Harvard to have such as he." In the delirium of the death struggle, the last intelligible words were about the class of 1906.

REGINALD FITZ

I received my degree in 1906, after completing my course in three years. For four years thereafter I attended the Harvard Medical School, graduating in 1909. I then spent sixteen months in the Massachusetts General Hospital. For the past eight months I have been working in the non-

PHILIP WITTER FLINT

I was formerly secretary and assistant treasurer of the Diadem Manufacturing Company of Fitchburg, Mass. Although I am still a director, I resigned the above positions in December, 1911, to enter the employ of the Star Worsted Company of Fitchburg. I am now assistant treasurer and a director of this concern. I am a director of the Worcester Pure Water Company also. I was married October 2, 1911, to Florence M. Smith, at Fitchburg, Mass. Member: Tatnuck Country Club of Worcester, Alpine Golf Club of Fitchburg. Business address: Star Worsted Company, Fitchburg, Mass. Present residence: 126 Pleasant St., Fitchburg, Mass.

ROBERT FRANZ FOERSTER

Graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I spent in Europe fourteen months of 1905-1906, travelling in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Holland and Belgium. For four months I was in Italy, for five in Berlin, where I took courses at the university. In the fall of 1906 I returned to Harvard, where for three years I was in the Graduate School. In 1909 I received the degree of Ph.D. in economics, my thesis dealing with Italian emigration. From 1908-1909 I was an assistant at Harvard in social ethics, from 1909-1911 an instructor, and since 1911 an instructor on the Faculty. I am chairman of the Immigration Committee of the American Unitarian Association and director of the Social Research Council of Boston. The latter has recently been affiliated with the department of social ethics, with offices in Emerson Hall, Cambridge. Books or plays of my authorship: "A Statistical Survey of Italian Emigration," Quarterly Journal of Economics, November, 1908; "The French Old Age Insurance Law of 1910," Quarterly Journal of Economics, August, 1910; "The British National Insurance Act," Quarterly Journal of Economics, February, 1912; reviews and translations in economic journals; bibliographies in "A Guide to Reading in Social Ethics and Allied Subjects," Harvard University, 1910. FREDERICK FRASER

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906. For one year I taught mathematics in the West Chester High School, West Chester, Pa. Then I came to the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., where I have remained. I was married June 28, 1909, to Anna Eleanor Ransom, at Wellington, O. George Ransom, born November 19, 1911. Business address: The Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.

EVAN (JAMES) FRASER-CAMPBELL

In November, 1906, I went to Pachuca, Hidalgo, Mexico, where I began the practice of mining engineering. After three months spent in examining mining properties, I was transferred to a spot about thirty miles from Uruapan, Michoacan, where I remained until November, 1907. I then came back to New York, returning to Mexico in the following January. While in the city of Mexico, I accepted a position with the Mexico Mines of El Oro, Limited, at El Oro, where I served eighteen months as shift boss and assistant mine foreman. In 1909 I was made underground superintendent of one of the mines of the El Oro Mining and Railway Company. In September I came to Boston to get married, returning to El Oro immediately afterwards. In February, 1910, I left for New York, where I spent the rest of that year. January, 1911, found me in Bisbee, Ariz., in the employ of the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company, with which company I am still connected. My present position is assistant on the engineering corps. I was married October 20, 1909, to Nancy Thompson Tyler, at Brookline, Mass. Mary, born September 7, 1910. ROLLIN McCULLOCH GALLAGHER

In June, 1905, I left college, as I had completed the work for both my A.B. and A.M. degrees; these I received in 1906 and 1907 respectively. In the fall of 1905 I became a master in the Middlesex School, Concord, Mass., where I have been ever since. In 1908, in partnership with a colleague, I started South Pond Cabins, a summer camp for boys, at Fitzwilliam, N. H. This has been very successful. I was married June 17, 1911, to Julia Goodspeed Reed, at Belmont, Mass. Business address: Middlesex School, Concord, Mass.

FREDERIC JOSEPH GALVIN

In 1907 I was graduated from the Boston University Law School. I am practicing law in New York, N. Y. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Present residence: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

HENRY EDWARD GARCEAU

I was given my degree in 1907, as of 1906. After graduation I worked for a year with the L. E. Knott Apparatus Company of Boston, resigning, however, to enter the printing business with the Plimpton Press at Norwood, Mass. From there I went to the Rumford Printing Company at Concord, N. H., finally returning to Cambridge to accept a position with the University Press, where I am at present employed. Business address: Care of University Press, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 15 Ashford St., Allston, Mass. Permanent address: 66 Vose St., Woonsocket, R. I.

EDWIN DANIELS GARDNER

On leaving college, as I felt that what I wanted was a fine business life, I entered the employ of C. A. Cross of Fitch-bury as a travelling salesman. Seven weeks of this, however, proved to me that the world was too hard on beginners. In the fall I accordingly entered the Harvard Medical School. While there I joined the First Corps of Cadets, with whom I had some real service at Pine Camp, N. Y., and on the Cape. After graduating from the Medical School I went abroad for five months, visiting England, France, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. Almost as soon as I arrived home I began a sixteen months' appointment as interne in the Massachusetts General Hospital. I finish this service on May 1, 1912. As yet I have not decided where I shall practice. In June, 1911, I announced my engagement to Miss Evelyn Howes of Rockland, Mass. Member: Boylston Medical Society. Business address: Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Mass. Permanent address: Holliston, Mass.

WALTER THOMPSON GARFIELD

In 1909, after my graduation from the Harvard Medical School, I became house officer at the Boston City Hospital. In April, 1911, as the time for which I was appointed had come to an end, I became for six months assistant to the visiting physician of the out-patient department of the City Hospital. In September, 1911, I settled in Belmont. My engagement to Miss Elsie Louise Griffen of Portland, Maine, was announced in November. Business address: 229 Belmont St., Belmont, Mass. Present residence: 229 Belmont St., Belmont, Mass.

ELLIS GIFFORD

Although I finished college in three years, I took my degree with the class. In June, 1905, I entered my father's jewelry store, C. E. Gifford and Company, of which, after my father's death in 1908, I assumed the management. I have been actively interested in the Unitarian Society of Fall River, of which I am at present treasurer. I am on the executive committee of the Harvard Club of Fall River, serving as treasurer in 1907-1910. I am also secretary of the B. M. C. Durfee High School Alumni Association; secretary of the Fall River High Athletic Association; and treasurer of the Fall River Merchants' Association. In 1911 I was treasurer for the Fall River Cotton Centennial Carnival. I was married June 1, 1909, to Mary Hamilton Beattie, at Fall River, Mass. Isabel Miles, born June 16, 1910. Member: Quequechan Club, Fall River Merchants' Association, Harvard Club of Fall River. Business address: 40 North Main St., Fall River, Mass. Present residence: 244 Winter St., Fall River, Mass. Permanent address: 40 North Main St., Fall River, Mass.

FITCH GILBERT, JR.

After graduation in 1906 I spent two years at the Harvard Law School and one at the New York Law School. I am now living in the village of Gilbertsville, N. Y., where I am engaged in farming and the manufacture of milk products. I am also interested in local politics. I have served on the board of trustees of the State School of Agriculture at Morrisville. Business address: Gilbertsville, Otsego County, N. Y.

LESTER FREDERICK GILBERT

As I finished in 1905 the requirements for my degree, I took advantage of a year's leave of absence to enter the Law School, from which I was graduated in June, 1908. In October I came to Buffalo, entering the law office of Rogers, Locke and Babcock, where I remained till March, 1912. Then I became connected with the firm of Hoyt and Spratt. In the summer of 1906 I visited the Canadian Northwest, returning by way of Seattle and the Yellowstone. In 1907 I visited Germany, France and Switzerland. The following summer I again went abroad, this time with Lauren Carroll, spending most of the time in Italy and the Balkan States. In 1911 I visited Norway, Sweden and northern Europe. I was married May 11, 1911, to Josephine Ballard Hoyt, at Buffalo, N. Y. Member: Saturn Club of Buffalo, Park Club of Buffalo, Automobile Club of Buffalo, Lawyers' Club of Buffalo, Erie County Bar Association. Business address: 77 West Eagle St., Buffalo, N. Y. Present residence: 377 Elmwood Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

AUSTIN GODDARD GILL

After graduation from the Harvard Law School, I spent a year in the office of Hill, Barlow and Homans, Boston. I then opened in Boston an office of my own for general practice of law. Member: Union Boat Club of Boston. Business address: Room 1050, 53 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 161 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM EVERETT GILL

I entered Harvard after having attended the University of Maine for two years. I left, however, to begin advertising work with the "Superintendent and Foreman," a shoe trade publication, of which I am now part owner and manager. Two years ago I founded a new publication, "Shoe Repairer and Dealer," which is published by the Superintendent and Foreman Company. I have taken annual trips to Europe, where I have studied shoe trade conditions in Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and Scandinavia. A year ago I established French and German editions of "Superintendent and Foreman." I was married October 23, 1907, to Caroline Lura Woods, at Worcester, Mass. Monroe Woods, born August 18, 1908. Member: New England Trade Press Association, Boston Boot and Shoe Club, United Managers and Foremen Provident Association of Leicester, England, Masons. Business address: 127 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 266 Highland Ave., West Newton, Mass.

ALDEN PINUS GILSON

I entered Harvard in my sophomore year, graduating in 1906 with the class. The following year I was assistant in mechanical engineering in the Lawrence Scientific School. I then entered the employ of the Lanston Monotype Machine Company of Philadelphia. Until November, 1908, I worked for them in New England as erector and inspector. I was next sent for a year to the West Indies, where as their salesman I visited the principal cities of Porto Rico, Cuba, Jamaica, the Dominican Republic and Haiti. In November, 1909, I returned to their home office in Philadelphia, where I remained till the end of 1911. I am now with the Stanhope Press, printers and binders, Boston. Business address: 58 Stanhope St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Cliff Road, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

EDWARD BENJAMIN GINSBURG

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906, graduating in 1908 from the Harvard Law School. I practiced law in Boston till February, 1910, when I gave it up to go into business with my father. I am now president of the Harvard Bazar, retail clothiers and furnishers, Cambridge. I was married March 29, 1911, to Sophia Himmel, at Boston,

SAUL SUMNER GORDON

After graduation I went to New York, where I attended the Columbia Law School, and at the same time engaged in the insurance business. In 1907, owing to illness, I returned to Boston and took up my law studies at the Harvard Law School. In the fall of 1908 I settled in Houston, Tex., where I entered the law office of Lewis and Austin. While in Houston I was interested in the Y. M. C. A. activities and belonged to the Houston Symphony Orchestra. I next returned to Boston to engage in the insurance business with H. Gordon and Company. During 1910 I became Rhode Island secretary of the Lincoln Jefferson University. In 1911 I again went to New York to undertake social work. I am now with the firm of Harry Gordon and Company, general insurance agents, 27 School Street, Boston. Business address: 27 School St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 26 Porter St., Malden, Mass.

FRED DARWIN GORTON

In 1904 I was forced by sickness to leave college. After my recovery and subsequent marriage I moved to Denver, Colo., where I worked as real estate agent for a large apartment building; electrician for the Griffin Electric Company; shipper for the Denver Dry Goods Company, and others; and timekeeper for the Union Pacific Railroad. In September, 1911, we returned to Boston, where I am now incorporating a company for the manufacture of glue. I was married September 21, 1908, to Pearl Mereley, at Newtonville, Mass. Fred Stuart, born December 22, 1910. Business address: 394 Atlantic Ave., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 25 Perkins St., Winthrop Beach, Mass.

WILLIAM PINKHAM GOVE

In January, 1907, after completing my course, I entered the employ of a mica mining and manufacturing company. In December of the same year I began my present work in the Lydia E. Pinkham Medical Company, where I have charge of a branch of the advertising of their preparations. In 1907 I took a short trip to Canada, in 1908 another to Newfoundland, in 1909 to Bermuda, and in 1911 to the West Indies, Panama and northern South America. At present, February, 1912, I am on a trip through the Mediterranean, Portugal, Spain, Italy, France, Algiers, Egypt, Greece, Palestine and Constantinople. I am planning to return about May 1, 1912. I was married June 22, 1907, to Olga Regina Boyer, at Salem, Mass. Priscilla, born January 4, 1908; Karl John Edward, born February 4, 1911. Member: Knights Templar, Masons. Business address: L. E. Pinkham Medical Company, Lynn, Mass. Present residence: 235 Lafayette St., Salem, Mass.

ROBERT FELLOWS GOWEN

As president and general manager of the "Weld Phonopterograph Company," Harvard, first and foremost "wireless" club, I became so imbued with the "wireless bug" that I spent 1906-1907 in wireless telegraph research at the Jefferson Laboratory. I took my degree at mid-years, as of 1906. In the fall I returned to the laboratory as assistant to Professor Lyman. I stayed with him until February, 1909, when I accepted a position with the Rhode Island State Board of Health as comptroller and engineer of their tuberculosis exhibits. The summer of 1908 was killed by surveying the Delaware and its branches for power dams, under the auspices of the New York State Board of Water Supply. In June, 1909, I became one of the engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Ever since then I have been endeavoring to improve the "universal service" at 15 Day Street, New York. Members of the "Weld Phonoptero-

ROBERT GRANT, JR.

Shortly after leaving college I entered the banking house of Lee, Higginson and Company, Boston. Three years later I was sent abroad to Higginson and Company, London, which in England represents Lee, Higginson and Company. In April, 1911, I was made a partner of the London house. I was married January 1, 1910, to Priscilla C. Stackpole, at Boston, Mass. Robert, 3d, born April 27, 1911. Business address: 1 Bank Building, Princess St., London, E. C., England. Present residence: 34 Sloane Court, London, England.

RUPERT WINFRED GRAVES

As I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906, I am sorry to say that I missed the enjoyment of our cap-and-gown year. Since 1905 I have been busily occupied at Mercersburg Academy in bringing the beautiful intricacies of German to the attention of some three hundred boys a year. My love of things German—here I do not confine myself to the language—has twice taken me across the ocean. In Paris and Berlin I was lucky enough to run across classmates, a fact which proves that wherever you may go the good things of the earth are to be found. Business address: Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa. Present residence: Box 24, Mercersburg, Pa.

WILLIAM GRANT GRAVES

Since 1909, when I was graduated from the Harvard Law School, I have been practicing law in St. Paul, Minn. I am also instructing in law at the University of Minnesota Law School. HUGH PAYNE GREELEY

Although I finished college in three years, I received my degree with the class. From 1905 to 1909 I was buried in the Harvard Medical School; then disinterred for reburial in the Massachusetts General and Bellevue Hospitals, where I remained for two years. I was finally exhumed and transported to Newfoundland to take up the work of the Deep Sea Mission. I am starting a hospital at Pilley's Island, in connection with Dr. Grenfell's work. I was married April 20, 1911, to Floretta G. Elmore, at Milwaukee, Wis. Business address: Pilley's Island, Newfoundland, Can.

WILLIAM VINCENT GREEN

Chemist. Has not been heard from. His address is 29 McCarty Ave., Albany, N. Y.

BRECKINRIDGE DAVID MARX GREENE

I arrived in San Francisco just prior to the earthquake and fire. Although for a couple of years I was in the real estate business, I left that to practice law; I was admitted to the bar in November, 1908. After a year in a law office I branched out for myself. Early in 1910 I was appointed town attorney of Antioch, Cal. Several months later I was made city attorney of Pittsburg, Cal. In July, 1910, I became assistant city attorney of Berkeley, succeeding early in 1911 to the office of city attorney. This I held until July, 1911, when I resigned to re-enter private practice. I still hold my municipal positions in Antioch and Pittsburg. Although engaged in general practice, I am also specializing in municipal corporation law. When I became connected with Berkeley, I moved my offices there, where I am now permanently located. I was married March 7, 1907, to Florence E. Davidson, at Berkeley, Cal. Frances Marx, born June 4, 1909. Member: Sierra Club, City Club of Berkeley, Harvard Club of San Francisco. Business address: 400 First National Bank Building, Berkeley, Cal. Present residence: 11 Hillside Court, Berkeley, Cal.

CHARLES PELHAM GREENOUGH, 2D

Graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I began work in the fall of 1905 as a clerk in the Shawmut Bank. In 1906 I became a salesman for Parkinson and Burr. In 1909 I bought a seat in the Boston Stock Exchange, where I was floor broker for several houses. Two years later I became partner in the stock brokerage house of Darr and Moore, which has offices in New York and Pittsburgh, as well as in Boston. I am still with this firm. I was married January 15, 1907, to Margaret B. Perkins, at Boston, Mass. Charles Pelham, 3d, born November 16, 1908. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Brookline Country Club. FRANK HERBERT GREY

I left college at the close of my junior year, but returned in the fall of 1906. Before the end of the year, however, a nervous breakdown compelled me to abandon hope of winning a degree. I have been connected as musical director with running several theatrical enterprises of a musical nature, spending my spare time in composing and publishing productions, pieces, songs and instrumental numbers. I was married February 24, 1909, to Retta M. Spelley, at Southern Pines, N. C. Books or plays of my authorship: Songs and instrumental compositions: "Lovely Eyes," introduced in "Midnight Sons"; "Tottie" and "How'd You Like to Be By Beau," in "At the Waldorf"; "When You Do That Turkey Trot," in "Little Miss Fix-It"; etc. Business address: Metropolitan Music Publishing Company, New York Theatre Building, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Sagamore Road, Bronxville, N. Y.

HANCOCK GRIFFIN

At Christmas of my sophomore year, I left college on account of ill health, spending the remainder of the year in Arizona. Since May, 1904, I have been with the General Electric Company; I am now manager of the western electric department. During my residence in Schenectady I have been interested in the National Guard, in which I am first lieutenant. We have attended the manoeuvres at Manassass, Mount Gretna, Felts Mills and Pine Camp. I also, in March, 1910, served for two weeks at Corinth in the International Paper Company strike. I was married January 6, 1912, to Katharine Langdon Marvin, at Albany, N. Y. Member: Fort Orange Club of Albany, Albany Country Club, Mohawk Club of Schenectady, Army and Navy Club of New York, Racquet Club of Albany, Jest and Song Club of Schenectady, New York Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars. Business address: General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Present residence: 236 Lark St., Albany, N. Y.

ROY BRADY GRIFFITH

I remained at college during my freshman year only. I have since been reporter, cartoonist, special story writer, humorist, newspaper and magazine illustrator, editorial writer, advertising writer and designer, syndicate "feature" man, correspondent and campaign man. My work as a newspaper specialist has appeared all over the United States. Member: Freemasons (Lodge of Stirling, A. F. & A. M., Malden, Mass.), Boston Press Club. Business address: Greenwood, Mass. Present residence: Greenwood, Mass.

ARTHUR WALDRON HALE

I left Harvard at the end of my freshman year. In the fall of 1903 I entered the sophomore class at Amherst College, where I received my A.B. degree in 1906. Since then I have taught in high schools at Middletown, Conn., and Ardmore, Pa., in the Cloyne House School at Newport, R. I., and in the Cascadilla School at Ithaca, N. Y. I was married June 21, 1911, to Mary Alice Lincoln, at Meredith, N. H. Member: A. F. and A. M. Business address: Cascadilla School, Ithaca, N. Y. Present residence: 320 Dryden Road, Ithaca, N. Y. Permanent address: 57 Pope St., Hudson, Mass.

ROBERT LEE HALE

For three years I attended the Harvard Law School, during the second two acting as assistant in Economics 1. I then passed the winter as clerk in the law office of Rosenthal and Hamill, Chicago. In the winter of 1910-1911 I was in the legal department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company of New York. The following summer I visited Holland, Germany and England. I am now doing some independent research work on the theory of public utility rates. Member: University Club of Chicago, City Club of Chicago, Harvard Club of New York. Present residence: 163 East 36th St., New York, N. Y.

HENRI MASON HALL

As I had finished college in three years, I spent my senior year in work for an A.M. degree, which I received in 1907. I then entered the employ of the Journal Printing Company, publishers of the Jamestown (N. Y.) Journal, as advertising solicitor. I am now business manager and treasurer of the company. I have been interested at times in the automobile and real estate business, which have been side issues, however. In 1909 I attended the triennial reunion of the class. This trip and a visit to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Bermudas are the only occasions on which I have left Jamestown. Member: University Club of Jamestown, Masonic bodies, including Lodge, Chapter, Commandery and Shrine. Business address: 12 West 2d St., Jamestown, N. Y. Present residence: 211 Lakeview Ave., Jamestown, N. Y.

THEODORE MUNROE HALL

He was born in Bradford, Mass., October 19, 1883. He attended the public schools of his native town through the second year in the high school. In 1900 he entered the middle class of Phillips Andover Academy, and was an honor student the first year. He graduated in 1902 and entered Harvard University that autumn. In the spring of his sophomore year, he was operated upon for appendicitis at Stillman Infirmary, and making a poor recovery, was sent to California to recuperate. His college career ended at this point. In 1904 he returned east, and entered the employ of the American Woolen Company at Lawrence, Mass. He became proficient in the selection of various wools, serving an apprenticeship of two years. In 1907 he returned to California, where he died four months later, January 26, 1908. Mr. Hall was a young man of winning personality, easy address and excellent diction, and with rare musical ability. The testimonials from many quarters at the time of his death attested the appreciation of all.

EDWARD DE PASS HAMILTON

In 1905, having finished in three years the requirements for my A.B. degree, I entered the Lawrence Scientific School, where I remained for one year. I received my A.B. degree with the class and an S.B. degree a year later. I spent the year 1906-1907 teaching at Biddle University, Charlotte, N. C. Since then I have been teaching at the Sumner High School, St. Louis, Mo. During the summers of 1908 and 1909 I had charge of a New York playground. During those of 1910 and 1911 I studied at the University of Chicago and at Cornell University, respectively. Member: Association of Harvard Chemists. Business address: Sumner High School, St. Louis, Mo. Present residence: 2645 Lawton Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

RICHARD FOX HAMMATT

I entered the Lawrence Scientific School in my sophomore year, graduating in 1906. On July 15, 1906, I entered the United States Forest Service as forest assistant. For six months I worked on the Cascade National Forest of Oregon and for six months on the Goose Lake National Forest in central Oregon. In the summer of 1907 I was detailed for three months to the office at Washington, D. C. From here I went to Arizona for a month and was then assigned to the Shasta National Forest, Sisson, Cal. In July, 1908, I was made deputy forest supervisor there. In 1909 I was transferred to the district forester's office in San Francisco, Cal., acting as chief of lands and later assistant district forester in operation. In May, 1910, I was promoted to forest supervisor of the Shasta National Forest, Sisson, Cal., where I am now stationed. The Shasta has an area of a little more than one and one-half million acres, including Mt. Shasta and the headwaters of the Sacramento and McCloud rivers. There is plenty of work, with good hunting and fishing. I was married June 30, 1908, to Lucile Matthews, at Sacramento, Cal. Nancy, born November 13, 1909. Business address: Care of Forest Service, Sisson, Cal.

PAUL LYMAN HAMMOND

ROGER NOEL HAMMOND

After leaving college in 1904, I started in business in New York, where I have been ever since. At present I am business manager of Miller, King, Lane and Trafford, attorneys. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Seawanhaka Yacht Club of Oyster Bay, Squadron A. Business address: 80 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 142 East 40th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES MURRAY HANRAHAN

Since January, 1907, I have been a clerk with Hayden, Stone and Company, bankers, Boston. Member: Harvard Club of Lawrence, Merrimac Valley Country Club, Lawrence Canoe Club. Business address: 87 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 175 Haverhill St., Lawrence, Mass.

HARVEY ROBERT HANSON

After graduating in 1906, as my health was very poor, I spent six months with different relatives in the country. Since then I have done more or less tutoring, both for college students and outsiders. I am a member of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene, where I have been on the church boards. I am now secretary of the Sunday School. I have written various articles for the church papers, among which are "Signs, Wisdom and Christ," "Five Reasons Why I Vote Prohibition," "Who is Your Father?" and "God's Call to Service." At present I am teaching a young lady English grammar and literature, though my specialties, however, are French, German, Greek and Latin. Present residence: 18 Antrim St., Cambridge, Mass.

FORREST FORD HARBOUR

I entered college in the fall of 1903. After spending in the Graduate School the year following graduation, I became instructor of mathematics in St. John's School, now Manlius School, Manlius, N. Y. There I remained during 1907-1908, after which I was employed for six months by W. C. Blodgett and Company of Roxbury, Mass. I was then appointed assistant at the United States Naval Observatory at Washington, D. C. In February, 1911, I entered the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and I am now in that service; I have been stationed near Chesapeake Bay on vessels of the Survey. Business address: Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C. Permanent address: 3 Bowdoin Ave., Dorchester, Mass.

HOMER HOWELLS HARBOUR

After receiving my degree I was for one year professor of English in Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa. The year following I taught in Dummer Academy, South Byfield, Mass., and in the Missouri State University. In 1908-1909 I was registered in the Harvard Graduate School. I taught last year at the Sedgwick School, a private tutoring school in Great Barrington, Mass. This year I am teaching in Heathcote Hall, a private school for boys in Harrison, a suburb of New York. Present residence: Heathcote Hall, Harrison, N. Y. Permanent address: 3 Bowdoin Ave., Dorchester, Mass.

JAMES ARTHUR HARLEY

Minister. Has not been heard from. His address is care of Jesus College, Oxford, Eng.

CHARLES PRATT HARRINGTON

After Class Day I went abroad with C. D. Davol '06. On my return I became associated with Kidder, Peabody and Company, Boston, with whom I stayed four years. I am at present selling for the Pyrene Company of New England. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Boston City Club, Battery A. Business address: 176 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 57 Orchard St., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

RICHARD HARRINGTON HARRIS

I was graduated in 1907, as of 1906. I then entered the employ of Stone and Webster, with whom I remained in Boston until March, 1909, when I went to work for William A. Read and Company, bankers. In September, 1910, I became interested in the B. H. Piper Company, wood turners. Business address: The B. H. Piper Company, Manchester, N. H. Present residence: 948 Union St., Manchester, N. H.

WILLIAM FRAZIER HARRISON

Agriculture. Has not been heard from. His address is 1616 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

HUNTINGTON HICKS HARTER

I entered Harvard in my sophomore year and left in March of my junior year. I have not been in business or other occupation. I have travelled a good deal, visiting Europe, Canada, the west and the West Indies. Member: Harvard Club of Cleveland. Present residence: Mansfield, O.

ROBERT E HARTSOCK

I entered Harvard in 1903, graduating in 1906. I then became principal of the Pittsburg High School, Pittsburg, Kan., an office which I held for five years. I am now assistant professor of mathematics in the Oklahoma State Agricultural College. I was married August 3, 1911, to Sarah P. Chandler, at Pittsburg, Kan. Business address: Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, Stillwater, Okla. Present residence: 324 Duck St., Stillwater, Okla. Permanent address: 514 South Summit Ave., Girard, Kan.

WILLIAM EUGENE HARTWELL, JR.

In 1906 I was office boy, later assistant exchange editor of the Boston Globe. The year following I covered in the interests of the Globe that beautiful haunt of rusties and rah rah boys, "where the wine is red, eyes are blue, hands are cold and go through you," Boston's South End. Then for three years I covered Dorchester, mixing in murders, accidents, sudden deaths and five o'clock teas. In 1912 I became yachting editor of the Globe, boss of the yachting department, with nothing to do but sail the bounding wave all summer, according to friends and associates. I was married July 6, 1910, to Ruth Whitten Hills, at Somerville, Mass. Ruth Hills, born May 7, 1911. Member: Merrimac Lodge of Masons, Boston Yacht Club. Business address: Boston Globe, Boston Mass. Present residence: Atlantic Boulevard, Atlantic, Mass.

EDGAR CLARENCE HASELTON

To my great regret I was obliged to leave college at the close of my second year. I accordingly went into business with my father. In 1905, after selling out the business, I entered the employ of the Locomobile Company, Bridgeport, Conn. I soon left there, however, to accept a position with the Graton and Knight Manufacturing Company, Worcester, Mass., by whom I was sent to their branch office in Chicago. On account of my wife's health I returned to Massachusetts, where I went to work in the stock ledger department of the Pope Manufacturing Company, Westfield, Mass. My next move was to the General Electric Company at Pittsfield, where I am at the present time. I am employed in the order and stores department, where I have charge of the stock records of the plant, which now employs about five thousand hands. One of the pleasant features of my life in Pittsfield has been my work as a member of the Mendelssohn Male Quartet. For the past two years we have done a considerable amount of concert, banquet and funeral work. I was married November 25, 1905, to Emma Edith Desautels, at Chicopee Falls, Mass. George Edmund, born September 27, 1906; Kenneth Edgar, born September 10, 1908; Lionel Henry, born February 15, 1910; Gerda Julia, born January

ROSCOE CONKLING HATCH

As I was ill during my senior year, I went west to Oklahoma, where for seven months I lived an out-door life riding horse-back on the plains. Returning later, I received my degree in 1909, as of 1906. Two years previous to this I had entered the General Theological Seminary in New York, where I studied for three years. Senior years seemed to be my "hoodoo," for I was again ill, going to Bermuda without graduating. Fortunately I had passed all my canonical examinations for both deacon and priest, so on Trinity Sunday, 1910, I was ordained deacon, the following year priest. During the year intervening I acted as a curate at St. Ann's Church, New York, where I had a valuable experience in one of the best organized parishes in the city. I worked with one of the finest men in any city, the rector, Rev. Charles C. Harriman, a Harvard graduate. In connection with this I had joint charge of St. Martha's Chapel, a mission in Van Nest in the Bronx. Last June I took up my present charge, that of rector of Christ Church, Tarrytown-on-Hudson. "Sleepy Hollow" is only a stone's throw from the town; the "Headless Horseman" bridge, the school house where "Ichabod Crane" taught, all the places which Washington Irving's genius made famous, one might almost say historic, are in this region. His home, "Sunnyside," is only a mile distant. For many years he was warden and vestryman of this church; during the year we receive people from all over the world who have made a pilgrimage here to see the pew in which he worshiped. On November 23, 1911, we celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone, Hamilton Wright Mabie, a former communicant of the church, giving the historical address. In spite of the "Sleepy Hollow" atmosphere pervading the place, of which the inhabitants are undeniably proud, there is plenty to do; already, owing to the presence of the Maxwell Automobile works, the scope of the work has widened. I trust that if any of the members of the class are in the vicinity they will not fail to visit the church, and incidentally, call on me. One of the hard lessons a minister has to learn is that he must give up the comradeship of friends because of the almost incessant demand upon his time. The work, however, more than repays one. Member: Churchman Association of New York, Junior Clergy Missionary Association, Harvard Club of New York. Present residence: Christ Church Rectory, Tarrytown-on-Hudson, N. Y. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

CLEMENT FURMAN HAYNSWORTH

I entered Harvard College in the fall of 1904 and received my degree in 1906. I then entered the Harvard Law School and received the degree of LL.B. in 1909. In July I began the practice of law in Greenville, S. C., where I was associated with the firm of Haynsworth, Patterson and Blythe. In the fall of 1909 I was made a member of the firm, the name of which was later changed to Haynsworth and Haynsworth. I was married November 7, 1911, to Elsie Hall, at Washington, D. C. Member: Poinsett Club of Greenville, Sans Souci Club of Greenville, South Carolina Club of Columbia, Harvard Club of New York, Masons, Knights of Pythias. Business address: 405 Masonic Building, Greenville, S. C. Present residence: 116 West Earle St., Greenville, S. C.

E BARTLETT HAYWARD

Immediately after graduation I received a position with the Bartlett Hayward Company, engineers and founders. At the time my father was sole proprietor of the business, but in 1909, just before his death, he incorporated the enterprise in order that the business might survive him. Upon incorporation I was made first vice-president, and later, after my father's death, I inherited the office of president. Since the business is a large one, my time has been entirely devoted to it. In fact there is little outside of business that has claimed my attention, unless it is the severe nervous breakdown from which I have but recently recovered. As my health is now good, and as I have many things to live for, I wish all others of 1906 equal if not greater success and happiness. I was married April 3, 1907, to Helen Gladys Mason, at Baltimore, Md. Member: Oakley Country Club of Watertown, Railroad Club of New York, Lawyers' Club of New York, Harvard Club of New York, Maryland Club of Baltimore, Baltimore Club, Baltimore Country Club, Baltimore Athletic Club, Elkridge Kennel Club, Harvard Club of Baltimore. Business address: Care of the Bartlett Hayward Company, Baltimore, Md. Present residence: Winchester, Anne Arundel County, Md.

NATT SAMUEL HEAD

In March of my junior year I left college to go to Battle Lake, Minn., where for six months I was assistant cashier of a small private bank. The following half year I spent in Minneapolis, where I worked for the First National Bank and for a lumber company. In the fall of 1906, after going to Battle Lake for a few more months in the bank there, I came west to California, where in the town of Sawtelle I started a state bank for a couple of eastern men; as cashier I ran this for about a year. My next move was to Los Angeles, where for four years I was in the hotel business for Mr. A. C. Blicke, a well-known hotel man. In the spring of 1911 I started in for myself. I am now attempting to work up in Los Angeles a small brokerage business along realty lines. Member: University Club of Los Angeles, Los Angeles Athletic Club, Anandale Country Club, Harvard Club of Southern California. Present residence: University Club, Los Angeles, Cal.

HERBERT LESTER HEALY

In 1906-1907 I taught German and French in the Somes School, Aurora, N. Y., instructing during the following summer in the Summer Tutoring School, Ithaca, N. Y. In September, 1907, I accepted a position in the Harvard School, Los Angeles, Cal., resigning at the end of the year, however, because of interest in a land scheme. As this proved unsuccessful, I spent part of 1908 and 1909 at odd jobs around Los Angeles, afterwards attending the University of California Summer School. In September, 1909, I became a teacher in the Covina Union High School, where I am still employed. I was married December 17, 1909, to Ada M. Burns, at Los Angeles, Cal. Philip Porter, born November 2, 1910. Member: National Geographic Society. Business address: Union High School, Covina, Cal. Present residence: Covina, Cal.

ROBERT RICHARD HELLMANN, M.D.

Son of Dr. Frank F. Hellmann and Catharine (Richard) Hellmann, and grandson of Dr. G. H. C. Richard, was born on September 4, 1883, in Cincinnati, O. He attended school in his native city until the age of 17 and then prepared for college at Dr. Sach's School in New York. He was graduated from Harvard in 1906. What his career at Harvard College was, and how successful, his classmates already know.

While an undergraduate, he played on the University baseball team. During his course in the Medical School, which he completed in 1910, he was a member of Phi Rho Sigma, the Innominate Club, the Boylston Medical Society and Alpha Omega Alpha. He was the first house-officer on the newly organized children's medical service at the Massachusetts General Hospital, serving from July, 1910, to January, 1911. He was surgical house-officer at the same hospital from March, 1911, until his death. His efficiency and faithfulness won the appreciation of all with whom he came into professional association. He died of septicaemia on October 24, 1911, in Boston at the Massachusetts General Hospital. To his friends in the Medical School and in college, and to those who knew him so intimately in the hospital, as well as to all his fellow-members of the Aesculapian Club, his sunny disposition and never-failing good humor make his loss irreparable. His untimely death not only deprives us of a valued friend, but cuts off in its beginning a life which promised not only brilliant achievement but great service to his profession.

OSCAR LEONARD HELTZEN

I entered Harvard as a sophomore, after having spent my freshman year at Brown. I had to earn my way in the University. During the summer after my second year I secured a position as clerk of the Superior Court of Rhode Island, in counties of Providence and Bristol; this office I have retained for the last seven years. I immediately began to study law; three years later I was admitted to practice in all the state courts, and subsequently in the United States courts. Two years ago I ran for the office of judge of the Municipal Court of Providence but was badly beaten. In 1906, I joined the Rhode Island National Guard in which I am now adjutant. My travels have been confined to trips to my old home in Virginia and summer vacations spent in this country. Next summer, on my first trip abroad, I shall accompany my mother. Since leaving the University I have seen more of Harvard men than my work while in college permitted. I shall always be exceedingly proud of my connection with Harvard, for which I entertain a deep regard. If I have a son I shall endeavor to steer him to Veritas by way of Cambridge. I was married April 29, 1908, to Mildred Bancroft Knight, at Providence, R. I. Shirley Knight, born January 6, 1910. Member: Metacomet Golf Club, Rhode Island Bar Association, Masons, Officers' Association Rhode Island National Guard, Congregational Club. Business address: Providence County Court House, Providence, R. I. Present residence: 60 Oriole Ave., Providence, R. I.

WILLIAM HEMPSTEAD

Ill health compelled me to leave college two months after entering. Part of the next year I spent in England, returning only to experience a serious illness. I afterwards came to Albemarle County, Va., Jefferson's old home. Here I have been farming ever since. I was married October 1, 1906, to Mrs. R. D. Hartt, at Monroe, N. Y. Business address: Charlottesville, Va. Present address: Simeon, Va.

WILLIAM PAUL HENNEBERRY, JR.

I left college in the spring of 1905. The following year I entered the University of Chicago, where I obtained a degree of Ph.B. I am now connected with the Henneberry Publishing Company. In the summer I reside at Wheaton, Ill. Member: Chicago Golf Club, University Club. Business address: 1139 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 2618 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

JAMES JOSEPH HEPBURN

I was graduated from the Harvard Medical School in the class of 1909, of which I was elected secretary. After doing hospital service until 1911, I opened an office of my own at 416 Marlborough Street, Boston, where I am now practicing.

Member: American Medical Society, Massachusetts Medical Society. Business address: 416 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 416 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass.

OTTO JOHN HERMANN

In June, 1905, I finished my academic course at Harvard, receiving my A.B. degree in 1906. In the fall of 1905 I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I was graduated in 1909. During the summer of that year I travelled through Germany and parts of France and England. In November I began my service as surgical house officer in the Boston City Hospital; I served in that capacity until March 1911. Two months later I took and passed the Massachusetts examination in medicine. In the following month I went to Arizona, where I stayed six months. Late in December I returned to Boston, where early in February I started in private practice. Member: Massachusetts Medical Society, American Medical Society. Business address: 139 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 88 Parker Hill Ave., Roxbury, Mass.

EDGAR ALBERT HESS

Upon leaving college, after having spent one year there as a special student, I worked for over six years for the Wichita Wholesale Grocery Company, Wichita, Kan., holding for about half that time the position of head of the sales department. While in Wichita I was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Commercial Club, the Country Club, the Canoe Club and the Birai Brith, holding the office of president in the last. From Wichita I went to Seattle, Wash., where I established for myself a real estate business. I remained there a year and a half. In January, 1911, I went to New York for J. S. Bache and Company, bankers and brokers. After ten months there I came to Philadelphia as manager of that firm's branch office. Business address: 147 South Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: The

GEORGE DAVID HEYMAN

After leaving college at the expiration of my sophomore year, I entered the employ of the Bernheim Distilling Company, Louisville, Ky. I remained with them from October, 1904, until November, 1907, when I became connected with the Alvey-Ferguson Company of Louisville. In July, 1910, I moved my family and residence to Chicago to open a branch sales office for the Alvey-Ferguson Company; I am now in charge of this office, which covers the business of six states. I was married September 10, 1907, to Juliette H. Pollak, at Chicago, Ill. Elizabeth P., born June 9, 1909. Business address: 1335 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 4618 Lake Ave., Chicago, Ill.

CHARLTON BLACKINTON HIBBARD

I left college in 1905, receiving my degree with the class. I then worked for one year as salesman for the Dennison Manufacturing Company, Boston. In 1906 I entered the employ of the American Locomotive Company, Schenectady, N. Y. The company later transferred me, first to its Pittsburgh plant, and later to its automobile works at Providence, R. I., where I am now factory accountant. Business address: American Locomotive Company, Providence, R. I. Present residence: 181 Angell St., Providence, R. I.

LUCIUS SUMNER HICKS

I remained at Harvard till June, 1903. In September, 1905, I entered the Boston University Law School, where I was graduated with the class of 1908. In September, 1909, I began the practice of law at 39 Court Street. I have been election inspector, Republican, in Precinct 4, Ward 10, since 1908; president of the St. Mark's Muscial and Literary Union since April, 1910; and member of the settlement work committee of the Robert Gould Shaw House, 6 Hammond Street, and president of the advisory board of the C. C. C. and Progress Clubs, connected with the house, since 1911. In 1910 I was census enumerator for part of the district comprising Ward 10. Newspaper articles on political subjects and on the negro question. Business address: 39 Court St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 27 Holyoke St., Boston, Mass.

JULIAN HINCKLEY

In the fall of 1906 I became a reporter for the New York Evening Sun. In the summer of 1908, after having worked since 1907 as a bond broker, I left business altogether, spending part of the following winter in Colorado. In 1910, while I was in Innsbruck, Austria, I was taken with rheumatic fever; since then I have been seriously ill. Present residence: Homestead, Hot Springs, Va. Permanent address: Lawrence, Long Island, N. Y.

JOHN JOSEPH HINES

I was graduated from the Law School with the class of 1909. During the summer of that year, as the gentleman with whom I have since been associated in practice, insisted that my knowledge of civil law was elementary only, he and I studied for two months at the famous Abbaye, Place Pigall, Paris, at the Kursaal Ostende and at numerous other endowed Brassines in France and Switzerland. In September, 1909, I made my first appearance in the equity motion session and in the district court at Lynn. Since that time I have been fairly regular at both those courts, particularly when the "list" was to be called. In May, 1910, an old friend gave me a tort case against the Boston and Maine Railroad. I prosecuted it with vigor, but after I had attached all the real estate and rolling stock of the corporation, I found that my work was wearing me out. I was accordingly obliged to take a short trip to England, where I remained a month looking up authorities and buying post cards. Since then nothing worthy of note has happened. Member: Oxford Club of Lynn, Park Club of Lynn. Business address: 31 Exchange St., Lynn, Mass. Present residence: 40 Rogers Ave., Lynn, Mass.

LOUIS LOWENSTEIN HIRSCH

Born March 3, 1882. Son of Samuel Hirsch and Bertha Lowenstein. Died at Stamford, Conn., July 7, 1909.

HENRY ADLER HIRSHBERG

Leaving college at the end of my sophomore year because of illness, I later entered the University of Wisconsin Law School, where I was graduated in 1907 as commencement orator. In December, 1907, as another siege of illness had cut short my plan of practicing law in Chicago, I moved to San Antonio, Tex., where I have since been engaged in the general practice of law. Business address: Moore Building, San Antonio, Tex. Present residence: 102 Lewis St., San Antonio, Tex.

RICHARD BRYANT HOBART

I left college at the end of my junior year, as I had completed at that time the courses necessary for a degree; this I took later with the class. My senior year I spent travelling around the world with Professor A. C. Coolidge. During the first two months we visited the Philippines with Secretary Taft and the so-called Taft party. The most interesting incidents in the rest of our tour were a riding trip from Peking to Jehol, the summer resort of the Manchu emperors; a visit to Siam; a walking trip across the Malay Peninsula into Burma, and a hurried visit to British East Africa. In 1906 I entered the employ of the W. H. McElwain Company of Boston, shoe manufacturers. After two years spent in one of their factories in Bridgewater, Mass., I was transferred to their sales department, where I have since remained. Member: Tavern Club, Tennis and Racquet Club. Business address: 348 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 24 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass.

IRVING JOSIAH HOBBS

In June, 1903, after completing my first year in Harvard, I returned to my home in Madison, N. H., where for two years I assisted my father, Josiah H. Hobbs, in his law business. Then I moved to Rochester, N. H., where I lived until a year and a half ago. In Rochester I worked and studied in my father's law office. I returned, however, to Madison, where I have made my home. For several summers I have been actively engaged in the automobile business. I have studied law for three years; inside of a year I expect to begin practicing. Member: Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights Templar, Mystic Shrine. Present residence: Box 41, Madison, N. H.

CHARLES DAVIS HODGES

I was married December 27, 1905, to Ethel Gertrude Fuller, at Boston, Mass. Ransom Fuller, born September 25, 1906; Charles Davis, Jr., born March 29, 1909. Business address: 137 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Burditt Ave., Hingham, Mass.

EUGENE DAVID HOFELLER

Immediately after graduating I entered business with my father. I am now secretary and treasurer of Theodore Hofeller and Company, which deals in waste materials. I was married September 18, 1906, to Rena Gilberta Walter, at Baltimore, Md. Margaret, born January 24, 1909; Theodore, 2d, born December 31, 1910. Member: Harvard Club of Buffalo. Business address: 206 Scott St., Buffalo, N. Y. Present residence: 734 Auburn Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

LEE HAWLEY HOFFMAN

On leaving college I entered the office of Whitehouse and Fouillioux, architects. I am now superintending their outside work. I was married June 9, 1910, to Caroline Couch Burns, at Portland, Ore. Caroline Elizabeth, born January 23, 1912. Member: University Club, Waverly Golf Club. Business address: 809 Wilson Building, Portland, Ore. Present residence: 769 Irving St., Portland, Ore.

ROBERT HORNER HOGG

Before my sophomore year I left college to go into the carpet business with my father at Westboro, Mass. I gave this up, however, for a year at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, after which I spent three years with the Norton Emery Wheel Company, Worcester, Mass., in learning the abrasive business. In September, 1908, I became salesman for the Carborundum Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y. After devoting a year to New England and the middle west, I was made general agent for the railroad trade east of Chicago. I am now holding this position. I was married June 2, 1911, to Lillian Belle Vining, at Detroit, Mich. Member: Tatnuck Country Club of Worcester. Business address: The Carborundum Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y. Present address: Ivan Apartments, 47th St. and Baltimore Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

ARTHUR NORMAN HOLCOMBE

In 1906-1907 I returned to Harvard as assistant in economics. From 1907-1909 I held a travelling fellowship, studying in Europe, where I attended the universities of Berlin, Munich, Paris, Berne, and London. I then came to Harvard as instructor, first in economics, then in government. In 1911 I was elected secretary of the Massachusetts Association for Labor Legislation. I am a member of the committee of one hundred for the adoption of the new Cambridge charter, and of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Consumers' League. I was married August 30, 1910, to Carolyn Hawley Crosett, at Warsaw, N. Y. Waldo Hawley, born July 25, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: Public Ownership of Telephones, articles in Quarterly Journal of Economics, Political Science Quarterly, American Political Science Review, American Economic Review, Twentieth Century Magazine, The Survey, etc. Member: American Political Science Association, American Economic Association, American Association for Labor Legislation, Massachusetts Men's League for Woman's Suffrage. Business address: Department of Government, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 21 Follen St., Cambridge, Mass.

CLIFFORD MILBURN HOLLAND

Immediately after commencement, I went to New York, where I have since remained, except for occasional visits to the "Hub." My first position was as assistant engineer on alignment in the East River Tunnels. I am at present assistant engineer in charge of the constructing of the tunnel under Flatbush Avenue, and the open cut subway from Atlantic Avenue to Sackett Street along the line of the new Fourth Avenue subway in Brooklyn. I was married November 5, 1908, to Anna Coolidge Davenport, at Watertown, Mass. Anne Hasketh, born December 8, 1909; Clarissa Coolidge, born June 5, 1911. Member: Harvard Engineering Society of New York. Business address: 23 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Present residence: 933 East 22d St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

years I was an editor of the Harvard Law Review and secretary of the class. On graduation I became associated with Fish, Richardson, Herrick and Neave of Boston. In April, 1910, I joined the firm of Allen, Weyburn and Holmes. A year later I returned to Fish, Richardson, Herrick and Neave, where I am at present. I was married September 29, 1911, to Helen Lincoln Dunbar, at Brookline, Mass. Member: Boston City Club, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 84 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 8 Matchett St., Brighton, Mass. Permanent address: 1558 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

WALTER CHAPIN HOLMES

From 1906 to 1908 I was chemist at the Eastern Laboratory of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company. Since then I have been assistant in the Division of Organic Chemistry, Bureau of Science, Manila, P. I. I am at present spending a vacation in Spain, the United States, etc. I shall probably return to the Philippines, however, in a few months. Member: Harvard Club of the Philippines, University Club of Manila. Business address: Care of Bureau of Science, Manila, P. I. Permanent address: 180 Hawthorne St., Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WALTER CORNELIUS HOLMES

I was first employed as chemist by the Carnegie Steel Company. I am now assistant technology librarian at the Carnegie Library, Pittsburgh, Pa. JAMES WILLARD HOOD

I finished in three years the work necessary for a degree, which I received in 1906. In the fall of 1905 I entered Princeton Theological Seminary, where I spent three years, graduating in 1908. At that time I also received the degree of A.M. from Princeton University. In the summer of 1906 I visited Europe. In December, 1908, I was ordained to the ministry. For two years I was pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, Allison Park, Pa. I then resigned to accept a call to the United Presbyterian Church of Brookline, Pittsburgh, Pa., where I am now located. I enjoy my work very much indeed. Present residence: 819 Bellaire Ave., Brookline, Pittsburgh, Pa. Permanent address: 96 Magazine St., Cambridge, Mass.

JAMES RIPLEY HOOPER, JR.

After receiving my degree, I spent the summer travelling in Europe. In November, 1906, I entered the employ of Farnsworth, Thayer and Stevenson, wool merchants. Except for five months spent at the Arlington Mills, Lawrence, Mass., I have remained with them ever since. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 116 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 478 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM EVERETT HOOPER

Immediately after leaving college in June, 1906, I went to work as a runner in a New York banking house. In 1908 I joined the editorial staff of the Railway Age Gazette. I was married August 12, 1911, to Edith Field, at New York, N. Y. Business address: 83 Fulton St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: Mamaroneck, N. Y.

CHARLES FRANCIS HOVEY

Immediately after graduating I came to New York, where I engaged in the piano and player piano manufacturing business. Since October 4, 1907, I have been with the Milton Piano Company, of which I am now vice-president. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 12th Ave. and West 55th St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM JAMES HOWARD, JR.

At the beginning of my sophomore year I left Harvard to enter the University of Chicago, where I continued my college work and afterwards entered the Medical School. I completed my medical work at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, University of Illinois, graduating in the class of 1908. For one year I served as interne in Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D. C., then began the practice of medicine in Washington. I have been a member of the staff of Freedmen's Hospital and have conducted a clinic at the Social Settlement House in South Washington. Member: National Medical Association, Freedmen's Hospital Medical Society, Monocan Club, Medico-Chirurgical Society, Common Welfare Club, Mus-so-lit Club. Business address: 100 Massachusetts Ave., Washington, D. C.

DUDLEY ROGERS HOWE

I left college at the end of my junior year. Immediately afterwards I sailed for a two months' trip in Europe. In the fall of 1906 I started working for Chickering and Sons, where I remained till February, 1909. I then went into the office of E. A. Shaw and Company as cotton broker. I am still with this company. I was married September 5, 1908, to Ellen Mercer Atterbury, at Dark Harbor, Me. Katharine Anne, born November 22, 1909. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club. Business address: 50 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 138 Mountfort St., Brookline, Mass.

EDWARD MORRIS HOWLAND

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I spent the summer in Europe. Since 1908 I have been employed as travelling salesman by Hathaway, Smith, Folds and Company of New York, dealers in commercial paper. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York, Oakley Country Club of Cambridge. Business address: 60 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 46 Eliot St., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

EDWARD SANDS HOWLAND

In April, 1904, I left college to enter the employ of the Peace Dale Manufacturing Company, Peace Dale, R. I., where I remained until the spring of 1906. In September, 1906, I left for the west, spending a number of months in the mining business in Arizona and Mexico. In the fall of 1908 I started in with Clement, Parker Company, Boston, brokers. I was with them until November, 1910, when I became connected with Edwin Hooley Company, by which I am now employed. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 21 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 1642 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

ROBERT WELLS HUGHES

From 1906 to 1910 I taught music in Columbia, S. C. Since then I have been music master at St. George's School, Newport, R. I. Business address: St. George's School, Newport, R. I. Present residence: St. George's School, Newport, R. I.

ARTHUR MERLE HURLIN

From 1906 to 1909 I was Austin Teaching Fellow in music at Harvard, and from 1909 to 1911 instructor in French at Milton Academy. This year I am professor of French at Marshall College. I have visited England, France and Switzerland; have lectured occasionally on musical and theatrical topics; and have written more or less music—songs, incidental music for Elizabethan plays, etc. My recreations are reading, acting and music. Present residence: 1527 Sixth Ave., Huntington, W. Va. Permanent address: Fryeburg, Me.

ARTHUR EMLIN HUTCHINSON

In 1906 I entered the University of Pennsylvania Law School, from which I was graduated in 1909. I then accepted a position with Conlen, Brinton and Archer, attorneys at law. There I remained until October, 1911, when I became a member of the firm of MacCoy, Evans, and Hutchinson. I am engaged in the general practice of law. Business address: 1218 Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: Aldine Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa.

DANA CUTTING HYDE

For two years I was employed by the Hittinger Fruit Company of Belmont, Mass. In 1908, however, I entered the bond business with the firm of James A. Hutchinson of Boston. I am now associated with the treasurer of the Harvard Trust Company of Cambridge. Member: Economy Club of Cambridge, Episcopalian Club of Boston, Economic Club of Boston. Business address: Care of Harvard Trust Company, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 171 Hancock St., Cambridge, Mass.

CARL EDWARD INGRAM

I left Harvard in June, 1903, which I suppose is responsible for my unsophisticated yet egotistical freshman nature.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

When I arrived home in Indianapolis, Ind., my family thought it only proper that I should make some slight endeavor to support myself. I deferred to their wishes, working for a year in that delightful burg. In 1904 I came to Chicago to enter the office of the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company, where I am still making a strenuous endeavor to reach the top. Three years ago I bought a small plantation near Mobile, Ala. I have found that in addition to its being a charming spot and a source of much pleasure during my brief visits, it is the greatest recipient for the big end of my salary I ever ran across. I really believe it is more expensive than a wife. At least I know I won't be able to support the latter luxury until that farm is old enough to keep itself. Books or plays of my authorship: Newspaper stories. Member: Midlothian Country Club, Harvard Club of Chicago. Business address: Room 910, 134 South La Salle St., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 4919 Lake Ave., Chicago, Ill.

FREDERICK CARPENTER IRVING

In 1910 I was graduated from the Harvard Medical School. From then until August, 1911, I was surgical house officer at the Massachusetts General Hospital. Since December, 1911, I have been serving as house physician at the Boston Lying-in Hospital. I expect to be here till June, 1912. Present residence: Boston Lying-in Hospital, Boston, Mass.

EDWARD NATHANIEL JENCKES, JR.

As I finished my course in three years, I spent my senior year in working for my A.M. degree, which I received in 1907. For three years after graduation I was desultorily engaged in business and newspaper work. In the summer of 1907 I attended lectures at Columbia University. Between May and July, 1909, I filled temporarily the post of dramatic editor on the Springfield Republican. In September of that year I joined the local news staff of that paper, of which I am now dramatic editor. I was married September 14, 1909, to Methyl Jones, at Providence, R. I. Alison, born December 5, 1910. Business address: The Republican, Springfield, Mass. Present residence: 32 Temple St., Springfield, Mass. Permanent address: East Douglas, Mass.

FREDERICK WILLIAM JOCKEL

At the end of my sophomore year I left college to enter the New York Law School, from which I was graduated in June, 1906. The following year I travelled in Europe, Africa, and Asia. For the past four years I have been practicing law, operating in real estate, and have been engaged in building construction in New York. Member: New York Athletic Club, Harvard Club of New York, New York County Lawyers' Association, Elks, Masons. Business address: 265 Central Park West, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 265 Central Park West, New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM RUSSELL JOHNSON, JR.

I received my degree in 1906. Since leaving college my life, like the lives of many others, I suppose, has had its dark and bright sides. Yet I have counted it as so much experience that would work in most opportunely in the ideal I have always set myself, that of getting close to the one great economic problem, how all people in the very near future are to get an adequate living and lead a moral, sane, profitable life. The making of men and women rather than the making of profits, as some men seem to assume today, is the problem. This is embodied in the word "Socialism." I was a Socialist in college; I am still one. My personal experience has only led me still further along this same path. So much as preliminary. After working two years at literary work, I was burned out in the Chelsea fire, losing home, library, everything, in fact, but a half dozen books and the few clothes on my back. I went to Waltham, Mass., my old home town, where I took up teaching for a living. I taught first at the Waban School, Waban, Mass., teaching Latin and French there during 1909-1910. From there I went to East Greenwich Academy, East Greenwich, R. I., where I became head of the Latin department, besides teaching German. Meanwhile I was engaged again in literary and journalistic work, always keeping in view in this work the social and economic problem that came to interest me more and more. I am still engaged in this. Books or plays of my authorship: "An Essay on Bourgeois Respectability," "Man's Work, or God's?" "On Life's Edge," "Before the Judgment Seat," "The Miser," "The Barrier," "The Gathering of the Buzzards," "As to the General Strike and Socialism," "The Universal Kinship," "Variations on the 'Blue Bird' of Maeterlinck," etc. Member: Boston Socialist Club. Present residence: 344 Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.

CHARLES JONES

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I stayed at home for one year. In September, 1906, I came to the Irving School.

Tarrytown, N. Y., as instructor in classics and coach of athletics. I have remained here ever since. Member: Young Men's Lyceum of Tarrytown. Present residence: Irving School, Tarrytown, N. Y. Permanent address: Box 61, Milton, N. H.

ELLIS WILLIAM JONES

I left Harvard College at the end of 1906. The following year I spent in the National City Bank, 52 Wall Street, New York. In the fall of 1907 I entered the Harvard Medical School, graduating in June, 1911. I then became interne at the Massachusetts State Hospital. At present I am resident physician at the Waterbury Hospital, Waterbury, Conn. During the summer of 1908 I visited Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, France, England and Wales. The summers of 1910 and 1911 I passed at Camp Algonquin, Squam Lake, N. H. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Waterbury Hospital, Waterbury, Conn.

THEODORE FRANCIS JONES

In the summer of 1906 I travelled in England and central Europe, settling in the early winter at Paris, where I spent a year, ostensibly in study, at the Ecole des Sciences Politiques. During the Easter vacation I made a motor trip through Tunisia and Algeria, even penetrating into Morocco; I was in Oudjda on the very day the French army entered the city. The summer of 1907 I spent in Italy. In the autumn I returned to Cambridge, where I studied history in the Graduate School, until in 1910 I received my Ph.D. degree. I then received an appointment as instructor in European history at New York University, a position which I am still very happily occupying. During the summer of 1908 I lived in Venice; last summer I spent a few weeks in France, the Tyrol and Italy. Member: Harvard Club of New York, American Historical Association. Business address: New York University, University Heights, New York, N. Y.

MORGAN WHITE JOPLING

After leaving college I spent a year as an apprentice at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, East Pittsburgh, Pa. The next winter I attended the Michigan College of Mines, where I should have taken a degree in mining engineering, if the death of my grandfather had not called me home. Since August, 1908, I have been in business in Marquette, Mich. In April, 1911, I was elected a member of the city council, and in October, 1910, president of the Marquette Commercial Club. I am also a director in a number of local organizations. I was married November 23, 1909, to Sara P. R. Meigs, at South Bethlehem, Pa. Jane Perry, born October 27, 1910. Business address: 134 Washington St., Marquette, Mich. Present residence: 460 East Ridge St., Marquette, Mich.

ROBERT JORDAN

I received my degree in 1907, as of 1906. I was married January 4, 1912, to Jane Laurel Malcolm, at New York, N. Y. Member: Puritan Club, Boston Art Club, Harvard Club of New York, American Kennel Club, Santee Club, Airedale Terrier Club of New England. Business address: 450 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 28 Chestnut St., Boston, Mass. Permanent address: Box 55, Boston, Mass.

WALLACE BISHOP JORDAN

I was married November 20, 1909, to Florence Eleanor Jones, at Sacramento, Cal. Present residence: 1830 J St., Sacramento, Cal. Permanent address: 345 Central St., Springfield, Mass.

ARTHUR CURTIS JUDD

I am treasurer and general manager of the Huhn Metallic Packing Company. Business address: 410 East 32d St.,

New York, N. Y. Present residence: 12 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

MYER KABATCHNICK

I received my A.B. degree in 1905, as of 1906. In July, 1905, I entered the law offices of Willard, Warren and Knapp, Scranton, Pa. In the fall I engaged in the campaign for the nomination of Hon. J. Benjamin Dimmick, candidate for mayor at the Republican primaries, and later for his election. In April, 1906, I was appointed secretary to the mayor by Mr. Dimmick, mayor-elect, serving in that capacity until April, 1909. In December, 1907, I took the Pennsylvania Bar examinations and in March, 1908, I was admitted to the bar. On April 1, 1909, I was appointed assistant city solicitor of Scranton. I am now serving in that capacity as well as engaging in the general practice of law. I am now a candidate for delegate to the Republican state convention. Member: Masons, Elks, Woodmen, P. O. S. of A., Excelsior Social Club, Junger Maennerchor, South Side Athletic Club. Business address: City Hall, Department of Law, Scranton, Pa. Present residence: 334 Franklin Ave., Scranton, Pa.

WALTER NATHAN KAHN

Owing to the fact that I had several points to my credit on entering college, I was able to complete my course at the end of my junior year, after which I was given a year's leave of absence. In July, 1905, I went abroad, first travelling through various parts of Germany, Austria and Switzerland, and then spending four months in Bordeaux, France, for the purpose of mastering the French language. While in Bordeaux I occupied a position with a banking house and lived with a French family. In this way I accomplished my purpose to a more or less satisfactory degree. Returning to New York in January, 1906, I went into business with my father to learn the art of cutting diamonds. In June, 1906, I returned to Cambridge for the purpose of taking my degree. Since that time I have been steadily occupied at the diamond trade. I was married January 25, 1910, to Rose Erstein, at New York, N. Y. Marjorie Florence, born October 13, 1910. Member: City Athletic Club. Business address: 170 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 2176 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

ARTHUR JAMIESON KARR

In 1905 I left college and returned to my home in Washington. After studying stenography during the summer, I became stenographer for W. M. Galt and Company of Washington. In 1906 I came to Boston as secretary to Mr. W. S. Forbes of the Forbes Lithograph Manufacturing Company. From September of that year until March, 1907, I devoted my entire time to travelling through the east, doing what I could to settle the national strike which had been called in 1906. After the strike had passed I entered the sales department of the above company. I am now manager of what we call our sales planning department. Member: Pilgrim Publicity Association, First Corps Cadets. Business address: Forbes Lithograph Manufacturing Company, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 11 Willow St., Winchester, Mass.

HENRY KATZ

Has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

JOHN ALVIN KAY

Soon after leaving college I went to work at Readville, Mass., for the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company. I stayed there until December, 1908, when I was made chief clerk at the freight offices in Meriden, Conn. I was married October 14, 1910, to Sarah Andrew Woodworth, at Readville, Mass. Member: Harvard Club of Connecticut. Business address: New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, Meriden, Conn. Present residence: 35 Hobart St., Meriden, Conn.

WILFRED BERTRAM KEENAN

In 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, graduating in 1909. Since then I have been practicing law "all alone" at 15 Beacon Street, Boston. I am leading a simple life. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 15 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 80 West Fifth St., South Boston, Mass.

PERRY HANNAH KEENEY

After graduating I spent the following year in travel in Egypt and on the continent. I then entered the Harvard Law School, graduating in 1910. I then took my bar examinations for the state of Illinois. Upon my admission, in August, 1910, I immediately left for a tour of the world, returning in October, 1911. Since then I have been engaged in the practice of law in Chicago. I am associated with the firm of Calhoun, Lyford and Sheean. Member: University Club of Chicago, South Shore Country Club. Business address: 940 The Rookery, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 2622 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

NICHOLAS KELLEY

After graduation I entered the Harvard Law School, from which I was graduated in 1909. While in the Law School I was an assistant in Government I, then given by President Lowell. I was also assistant for two years in Professor Munro's course on municipal government, and for one year in his course on colonial government. For one year I was in charge of the classes at the Prospect Union. The summers of 1907 and 1908 I spent in Europe. In August, 1909, I entered the law office of Cravath, Henderson and de Gersdorff of New York, with whom I have been ever since. I am on the executive committees of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society and the Civil Service Reform Association of New York City. I am also a member of the Citizens' Union committees on the board of aldermen and on legislation. I was married June 19, 1909, to Augusta Lewis Maverick, at San Antonio, Tex. Nicholas, Jr., born March 27, 1910. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 52 William St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 423 West 118th St., New York, N. Y.

FOSTER STANDISH KELLOGG

I was graduated in 1910 from the Harvard Medical School. I am now interne at the Boston City Hospital, where I shall be until March, 1912. From June, 1912, to January, 1913, I shall serve an appointment at the Boston Lying-in Hospital. I was married June 14, 1909, to Rosalie Emmerton Hanson, at Chicago, Ill. Hanson, born August 11, 1911. Business address: 845 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass.

HAROLD FIELD KELLOGG

Almost immediately after graduating I left for Europe, where I spent the summer in England and France. In December I entered the Ecole des Beaux Arts. That winter and the following two I devoted to the study of architecture, passing my summer in Switzerland and Italy. In November, 1909, I received my diploma from the French government. Returning home by way of Italy, I arrived in Boston in February, 1910. Shortly afterwards I entered the office of Shepley, Rutan and Coolidge, architects. I am at present in the office of Edward T. P. Graham, 1900. Member: Boston Architectural Club, Harvard Club of Boston, Société des Architectes Diplômés par le Gouvernement Français. Business address: 20 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. ALAN DUNCAN KINSLEY

It was not until the third and presumably last call that I was brought face to face with the situation that I owed my life to the Class Report, and failing its early delivery, would become a "lost man." It must be confessed with some measure of regret that the even course of the last six years has been unruffled by any of the soul-stirring events so delicately hinted at as marriage, travel in foreign lands, the authorship of books, or membership in learned societies. The large charity of Kidder, Peabody and Company of Boston has granted me employment and formed the first line of defence against the Wolf at the Door. Some very miscellaneous reading and a little desultory study have occupied the eye not taking its turn at watching the aforesaid W.a.t.D. This is all till the celebration. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 115 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 127 Waverley Ave., Newton, Mass.

(JOHN) BURTON KLINE

As I am little more than a tramp member of the class, I am on that account all the more delighted to be included in the fold. After my freshman year I was offered a position with the Boston Transcript, which I accepted. I have often regretted since that I did not stay at college. For a year or more it has been my lot to get out the Transcript's regular section of special articles. Not the least of the pleasures attached to this task is the frequent opportunity it has given me to encourage younger Harvard men who incline to writing. I was married May 12, 1909, to Madeline Messinger, at Reading, Pa. Jane, born February 5, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: "Onslaught on Fame," a satire, published in the Boston Transcript; editorials and other articles for the Transcript; sketches and short stories. Member: Oakley Country Club, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 324 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 83 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

HAROLD AUGUSTUS KNOWLES

I entered college in 1903 as a sophomore. In the fall of 1906 I took a position with the traffic department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. After two years of extensive wandering about the New England states, whose fertile valleys and wooded hills I viewed from numerous points of vantage on telephone poles, I decided that I had had sufficient of the one-night-stand life. I accordingly withdrew from the telephone business to seek a trade that would permit my residing in one town long enough to have my laundry done. In October, 1909, after packing my other collar, I came to Pittsfield, Mass., a rurally beautiful burg in which I have brought my wanderings to an end. When I was on the road I envied him who ate his evening meal from the same table twice in succession. Now that I sit at my allotted place at a homelike table, I long for a different "carte du jour" each night. 'Twas ever thus. At the present time I am making fancy worsteds and woolen underwear, from which I trust that I may reap some shekels, if ever the tariff ceases to be a political plaything. Member: Park Club of Pittsfield. Business address: Pittsfield, Mass. Present residence: Pittsfield, Mass.

ARTHUR REID KNOWLTON

I left college at the close of my sophomore year. Since then I have been in the mercantile field. PHILIP ADOLPH KOBER

In 1903 I came to Harvard from Lehigh University, where I had completed my freshman year. My first position was in the laboratory of the United States Leather Company, New York. After six weeks, however, I resigned to become electro-chemist with the Roberts Chemical Company, Niagara Falls. In 1907, after an attack of typhoid fever, I resigned to undertake research work in the Medical School of Cornell University. In July, I accepted a research scholarship in the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York. A year later I was expert chemist with the "Remsen" Referee Board of Consulting Scientific Experts, working in the laboratories of the late Professor Herter, New York, and Professor Folin, Boston. In 1910 I became research chemist in the Roosevelt Hospital, New York. I am at present in charge of the Harriman Research Laboratory there. Our object is to study chemically biological processes, applying chemistry to the solution of pathological and physiological problems. I was married June 27, 1908, to Mary Agnes Maloney, at Albany, N. Y. Children: Adolph Philip, born April 24, 1909, (died April 20, 1910); Paul George, born September 30, 1910; Philip James, born December 27, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: Articles in the Journal of the American Chemical Society, the American Journal of Physiology, the American Chemical Journal, the Journal of Biological Chemistry, New York Medical Journal, etc. Member: Chemists' Club of New York. Business address: Roosevelt Hospital, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Box 385, Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

ALBERT CARL KOCH

I was at Harvard only the junior year, receiving my degree in 1906 at the University of Minnesota. I then took a seven months' walking trip through England and the continent. On my return I entered the bond department of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, with which I have been ever since. I am at present representing them in Milwaukee. Last summer my wife and I took a seven weeks' trip in England. I was married July 20, 1909, to Ruth Chamberlain, at Minneapolis, Minn. Member: University Club of Milwaukee. Business address: Railway Exchange Building, Milwaukee, Wis. Present residence: 733 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

CHARLES WENDELL KOHLER

From June to October, 1906, I worked as chemist for the Chapman Valve Company of Springfield, Mass. I then returned to Harvard as assistant to the director of the Chemical Laboratory, a position which I held till June, 1907. In December, 1907, I entered the employ of the Walworth Manufacturing Company of Boston, for which I worked as chemist until February, 1909. Since then I have been a chemist with the Diamond Rubber Company of Akron, O. Member: Harvard Club of Akron, Masons, Royal Arcanum. Business address: Diamond Rubber Company, Akron, O. JOSEPH MALCOLM LEVINE

I entered the Lawrence Scientific School in 1900. Upon leaving in 1906, I was employed by the Board of Water Supply of New York, which has supervision of the construction of the Catskill water supply system to supply drinking water for New York City. On entering the service I was taken on as a temporary rodman, three months later as a permanent rodman, some two years later as a topographical draughtsman, and in about a year and a half as an assistant engineer, my present grade. In each case civil service examinations had to be passed before promotion. For the last two years I have been connected with the city aqueduct department of the board in work on the deep pressure tunnel in Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond. For about six months I have been looking after the work, surveys, etc., of one of the shafts for the deep pressure tunnel in the Bronx. Member: Municipal Engineers of New York, Harvard Engineering Society of New York. Business address: Engineer's office, Shaft 5, 183d St. and Aqueduct Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 190th St. and Aqueduct Ave., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 82 Revere St., Boston, Mass.

BENJAMIN AARON LEVY

After leaving college, I entered the Boston University Law School, receiving my degree there in 1909. I then started the practice of law in Boston, where I am now associated with Judge A. K. Cohen. I have visited England, Germany, France, and Switzerland. I was married June 8, 1911, to Frances Rosaline Leavitt, at Boston, Mass. Business address: 611 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 70 Allen St., Boston, Mass.

CHARLES SUMNER LEWIS, JR.

I did not receive my degree until June, 1907, after which I went abroad for the summer with my mother and sister, and George F. Evans '05. We spent a month in England, then Evans and I crossed to the continent for a brief and energetic tour that gave us glimpses of France, Germany, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. Upon my return I entered my father's real estate development office in Indianapolis, continuing in this occupation until the spring of 1909, when I went to Akron, O., to take employment with the B. F. Goodrich Company, large manufacturers of rubber goods, including automobile tires. I have been with this company ever since. I am now in charge of motorcycle and bicycle tire sales, with aeroplane tires and cloth as a minor but interesting issue. A Harvard Club has been formed in Akron since I became resident here. The club is affiliated with the Associated Harvard Clubs and serves to keep a dozen or so of us in touch with events in Cambridge. Member: Harvard Club of Akron, University Club of Akron. Business address: Care of B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, O. Present residence: Oak Place, Akron, O. Permanent address 3036 North Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind.

CLARENCE IRVING LEWIS

As I finished my course in three years, I was given leave of absence for 1905-1906, during which I taught in the Quincy High School, Quincy, Mass. In the fall of 1906 I went to the University of Colorado as instructor in English; I remained there two years. I then studied from 1908 to 1910 in the philosophy department of the Harvard Graduate School. After receiving my Ph.D. degree, I stayed for a year as assistant in the department. In August, 1911, I became instructor of philosophy at the University of California. I was married January 1, 1907, to Mabel Maxwell Graves, at Haverhill, Mass. MILES AUGUSTUS LIBBEY

I left Harvard in my freshman year to take the entrance examinations for the United States Naval Academy, to which I was admitted in July, 1903. After graduating in 1906, I was ordered to sea with the U. S. S. New Jersey, on which I accompanied the fleet in its cruise around the world. We were absent for sixteen months, during which time we visited South America, the western coast of the United States, Honolulu, Australia, Japan, and the Philippines, returning by way of the Suez Canal. In September, 1909, I received my commission as ensign. In October, 1911, I was made lieutenant, and was ordered to post graduate study at the School of Marine Engineering, Annapolis. I was married May 22, 1910, to Ethel Wood Gaudelet, at Newtonville, Mass. Mem-

Present residence: 10 Francis St., Annapolis, Md. Permanent address: Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

HENRY LEWIS LINCOLN

After taking my degree, I spent a year in the Lawrence Scientific School, where I was an editor of the Harvard Engineering Journal. After receiving an S.B. degree in 1907, I entered the testing department of the General Electric Company at Schenectady. After a year and a half in the factory I was transferred to the engineering department and later to the commercial department. I then entered the contract department of the Commonwealth Edison Company, where I am at present. As power solicitor, I am a combination of salesman, electrical engineer and efficiency engineer. While in Schenectady I was secretary of the Harvard Club and member of the Jest and Song and Boat Clubs. The first was of quasi-dramatic character. The Boat Club was of athletic nature. As we were located on the Mohawk River, we had excellent opportunities for camping and regattas. During my last year there I was captain of the club. Member: American Institute of Electrical Engineers, National Electric Light Association, Schenectady Boat Club, Harvard Club of Chicago. Business address: Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 4647 Winthrop Ave., Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: 27 Cedar Road, Belmont, Mass.

ULYSSES JOHN LUPIEN

Immediately after Commencement I entered the employ of the General Electric Company, Lynn, Mass. My work, which from then until September, 1907, was in the turbine research department, consisted in developing equations and formulae in connection with steam turbines, gas engines and centrifugal pumps and compressors. I left there to accept my present position as instructor of electricity, physics and mathematics in the textile engineering department of the Lowell Textile School. Since my arrival here I have spent the majority of my summers in superintending the construction of buildings for the school. I have made my home in Chelmsford on a small farm purchased in March, 1908, for fruit and poultry raising. I was married August 19, 1907, to Eugenie M. Gosselin. Frank Ulysses, born February 2, 1909; Albert Joel, born July 24, 1910. Business address: Lowell Textile School, Lowell, Mass. Present residence: Chelmsford, Mass.

ROGER HENRY LUTZ

I left college in 1904. Since then I have travelled in India, China, Japan, Russia and many other countries. I have studied a year for the diplomatic service. Present residence: "Ravello," Warick, Bermuda.

JAMES OTIS LYMAN

In the fall of 1906 I entered the employ of the Westchester division of the New York Telephone Company. I remained there only until the following summer, however, as I was laid off in the panic of 1907. From then until May, 1908, save for a few surveys on my own account, I did nothing. In May I was employed by the Long Island Motor Parkway, Incorporated, a corporation formed to build a speedway about sixty-five miles long through the central part of Long Island. It is a toll road for the use of pleasure automobiles and motorcycles only, with no speed limit. During 1911 I had charge of the field work on a three and a half mile section having nine bridges. I am now resident engineer for an affiliated company, the Ridgefield Land Company, which is paving a thirteen-mile strip. Member: Harvard Club of New York,

HAROLD SIDNEY LYON

After leaving college I attended the Harvard Law School for three years, receiving my degree there in 1908. As there were at that time no vacancies in the United States Supreme Court, I concluded to accept temporary employment in a Boston law office. After two years I opened an office of my own in Bridgewater, where I should be glad to see any of my erstwhile classmates who by this time may be looking for divorcees or for counsel in breach of promise suits. I issue a warning, however, to any of my friends anticipating troubles at the Sexennial, that I never stoop to police court cases; besides, I expect to be engaged that week as a consumer and not as a "bailer." I have held only such offices as one of the Patres Oppidi, Overseer of the Poor, and the like. Business address: 40 Central Square, Bridgewater, Mass. Present residence: West Bridgewater, Mass.

After speculating until May, 1907, at the Chicago Board of Trade, I became a bond salesman for Peabody, Houghteling and Company of Chicago. In May, 1909, I was employed as advertisement writer by Long-Critchfield, an advertising agency in Chicago. I remained there until August, 1909, when I accepted my present position as advertisement writer and publicity writer for the International Harvester Company of America, and as editor of the "Harvester World." Business address: 606 South Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 1504 East 65th St., Chicago, Ill.

PAUL REVERE MANAHAN

After graduating in 1907, as of 1906, I became associated with the Avery Chemical Company of Boston, for whom I established a branch office in Peabody, Mass. In 1909 I became New England agent for William J. Bush and Company, an English concern, which manufactures essential oils and synthetics. In 1910 I accepted a position as chief chemist and technical adviser with the Walpole Rubber Company, Walpole, Mass. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, American Electro-Chemical Society, Society of Chemical

CLARK ROGERS MANDIGO

The summer of 1906 I spent as concrete inspector at Dilworth, Minn., for the Northern Pacific Railway. I then entered the Graduate School of Applied Science, where in 1907 I obtained an M.C.E. degree. From June, 1907, to January, 1908, I worked for the Northern Pacific Railway as inspector on the foundations of the Valley City Viaduct, Valley City, N. D. From January to March I was their constructing engineer at Ridgefield, Wash. I then became civil engineer and superintendent of construction in the Quartermaster's Department of the United States Army. For one year I was stationed at Fort Logan, Colo.; then for two years at Fort Riley, Kan. Since February, 1911, I have been assistant city engineer of Kansas City, Mo. I was married December 31, 1907, to Gladys Irene Allen, at Worcester, Mass. Allen, born July 23, 1910 (died August 6, 1910); James Allen, born October 25, 1911. MASON BROWNING ENDICOTT MAREAN

After receiving my degree I took a summer trip abroad, visiting Italy, Switzerland, France and England. In the early winter I started work at the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company of Cambridge. In October, 1910, I became superintendent at the C. C. C. Fine Hose and Rubber Company at Canton Junction. Except for short trips in the east,

I have done little travelling. I was married September 25, 1909, to Helen Downer, at North Falmouth, Mass. Helen, born June 29, 1911. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: C. C. C. Fire Hose and Rubber Company, Canton Junction, Mass. Present residence: Washington St., Canton, Mass. Permanent address: 151 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

CLARENCE MARK

I took the regular four-year course in the Lawrence Scientific School. Since graduating I have been engaged in the manufacturing business. I was married April 14, 1908, to Frances Tracey, at Elgin, Ill. Anna, born April 16, 1909; Alice, born May 9, 1911. Member: University Club of Chicago. Business address: Mark Manufacturing Company, Evanston, Ill. Present residence: 916 Elmwood Ave., Evanston, Ill.

JOSEPH LOUIS MARKELL

I received my degree in 1906, although I had completed my course in 1905. After leaving college I spent two years in the employ of Lee, Higginson and Company of Boston. I then entered the employ of Plympton, Gardiner and Company, New York. During the past two and one-half years I have been with Burgess, Lang and Company, bankers, Boston. WILLIAM GORDON MEANS

In the fall of 1906 I went to New York, where I was employed until the spring of 1907 in the bond house of Rhoades and Company. I then entered the stock brokerage business in Boston. As I did not like this, I gave it up in favor of insurance. In the fall of 1909 I became interested in the George H. Mason Company, manufacturers of tinware; this and insurance are still occupying my attention. I was married November 14, 1907, to Marjory R. Rice, at New York, N. Y. Cynthia, born September 28, 1908; Nancy Reeves, born November 24, 1909. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Eastern Kennel Club of Boston. Business address: 152 Blackstone St., Boston, Mass. In 1908 I was graduated from the Harvard Law School. Since then I have practiced law at Louisville, Ky. Business address: 522 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky. Present residence: 1374 Second St., Louisville, Ky.

ALANSON ROGER MERRILL

After leaving college I attended the Harvard Law School. In March, 1909, I went to Seattle, Wash., where I started the practice of law. During the college years, 1909-1910 and 1910-1911, I was assistant in medieval and modern history at the University of Washington, spending about half of my time with my law work. In June, 1911, I resigned my position at the university in order to devote my time to the development of land I had purchased at Richfield, Ida., where I am making a rather novel experiment in irrigation. I now spend there part of the summer and fall, although most of my time, of course, is devoted to the practice of law. Member: Mountaineers, New England Club. Business address: 446 New York Block, Seattle, Wash. Present residence: 1615 13th Ave., Seattle, Wash. Permanent address: 18 Jefferson St., Bangor, Me.

BRADFORD MERRILL, JR.

In February, 1907, I entered the service of W. R. Grace and Company of New York, South American traders. For the last two years I have been spending six months as their representative in the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia, with New York as my headquarters during the remainder of the year. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Care of W. R. Grace and Company, 1 Hanover Square, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.

ROGER MERRILL

Early in 1905 I left college to go to Oklahoma, where I was elected a member of the faculty at the Logan County High School, Guthrie, Okla. I resigned, however, to enter the United States Indian service at Kiowa Agency, Anadarko, in connection with the last allotment of Kiowa, Apache and Comanche lands. In 1907 I was retained as adviser to the United States Census Bureau for southwestern Oklahoma. The same year I was commissioned special deputy United States marshal. In 1909 I entered the cotton business and returned to Boston. Member: Harvard Club of Oklahoma, Aero Club of New England. Business address: 127 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 92A Pinckney St., Boston, Mass.

PAUL JULIEN MEYLAN

I was a special student during 1902-1903. In the spring of 1903 I began illustrating. My work has appeared principally in the Century Magazine, as well as Harper's, Scribner's, etc. I illustrated "Sarolta," by Agnes and Egerton Castle; "The Poor Lady," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, etc. I have exhibited by invitation at the International Exposition of Art at Rome, at the Toronto Exposition and at other exhibitions. I was married May 17, 1906, to Adrienne Boos, at New York, N. Y. Member: The Players, Fencers' Club, Society of Illustrators. Business address: 140 Wadsworth Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 140 Wadsworth Ave., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES PUTNAM MIDDLETON

In the fall of 1906 I began the study of "frenzied finance" in the office of C. A. Putnam and Company of Boston, of which firm my father was the proprietor. In 1909 I decided to go west. In Iowa I visited Walter H. Freeman, 1906, who was then teaching Greek at Grinnell College. I then came to Seattle, where I am employed as assistant to the Honorable Reuben W. Jones, secretary of the Board of School Directors. I am enjoying the school work greatly. I was married April 16, 1910, to Gwendolyn Anne Parker Jolly, at Seattle, Wash. Katharine Elizabeth, born July 30, 1911. Member: Harvard Club of Seattle. Business address: 901 7th Ave., Seattle, Wash. Present residence: 205 West 60th St., Seattle, Wash.

LOUIS JOHN DE GRENON DE MILHAU

In the summer of 1906 I visited Italy and Switzerland. I then organized the South American expedition of the Peabody Museum, the members of which consisted of Dr. W. C. Farabee, field director; J. W. Hastings and myself, ethnologists; and Dr. E. F. Horr, surgeon. Its purpose was to make ethnological studies and collections in the almost unknown tribes of the headwaters of the Amazon in Peru and Bolivia. We sailed from New York in December, 1906. After visiting Lima and Arequipa, Peru, the expedition crossed the Andes at an elevation of 16,500 feet and descended the eastern slope of the mountains. We spent six months on the Tambopá, Madre de Dios, Beni, Marmoré, and Chiaparé rivers, coming out again to the west coast by way of Cochebamba, Oruro and La Paz, Bolivia. After visiting Cuzco I was invalided home, as I had been knocked out by fever, short rations and climatic changes. After loading with nitrate at various ports in Chile, my steamer came to New York via Smythe's Channel and the Straits of Magellan, an eighty-day trip. In the latter part of 1908 I was seriously ill. In 1909 I visited Algiers, Egypt, Italy and Germany. I came home, however, in time for our triennial, spending the summer in Colorado and Canada. In 1909 I entered the New York Law School, from which I was graduated in 1911. I spent November and December in France. In January, 1912, I was admitted to the New York Bar. I am now with the law firm of Niles and Johnson, 11 Wall Street, New York. Since 1908 I have been reappointed by the overseers a member of the committee to visit the Peabody Museum. I was married December 29, 1909, to Renée Noël Gourd, at New York, N. Y. John Waddington, born October 23, 1910. Member: Royal Geographical Society, Harvard Travellers' Club, Société Géographie de Paris, Explorers' Club of New York, Companion M. O. ARLOWE KINGSBURY MILLER

He was born at Chicago, Ill., December 7, 1881, and died April 20, 1903, at Boston, Mass. He entered Harvard College September, 1902, from Chicago Latin School with seven points to his credit. He was a member of the Chicago Harvard Club, Harvard Union, Newell Boat Club and Harvard Fencers' Club. He rowed stroke on the Freshman second crew. In the novice tournament for foils, January, 1903, he won the first prize and in the open junior tournament, March, 1903, was awarded the second prize. By nature he was unusually thoughtful, unselfish and sympathetic, faithful in his friendships, reliable and earnest in discharge of all his duties. He was broadminded and an influence for good among his associates. Dean Hurlbut of Harvard College wrote April 22, 1903: "I think that all of Arlowe's friends will say with me that all they knew of him was good. Every record of him in our college books is to his credit; he was a good son of his college."

EDWARD JULIAN MILLER

I left college at the end of 1902-1903. I started in almost immediately to work in the mill of the Great Western Knitting Company, Milwaukee, Wis. Today I am treasurer of the company and have charge of all their manufacturing. I own a good share of its stock. Business address: 110 Buffalo St., Milwaukee, Wis. Present residence: 250 Pleasant St., Milwaukee, Wis.

HOMER LERCH MILLER

Upon leaving Cambridge I was faced by the awful necessity of going to work. As there appeared no way of dodging this painful proceeding, I got busy at the Hagerstown Table Works. I suppose I made good, at least in part; at any rate I still have my job. As both members of the firm have gone off to the farm for the day and I have their work as well as my own to do, I will snatch a moment to give vent to this epistle. After getting settled in my new line of duties, I did the same as the rest of the fellows. I figured on how I was to see the world. I suppose none of us as yet has seen all he wants to. I did, however, manage to work in a trip to Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Havana, Cuba, and the Isle of Pines. This was the time the Isle of Pines was being boomed. I suppose I struck it at the wrong season of the year, as I was quite ready to leave a week later. I also made a few business trips to Boston, where I never failed to find as many of my college friends as were in the neighborhood. On a number of occasions I visited the principal eastern cities and Chicago. My last trip west was via Chicago and the Canadian Pacific to the Canadian National Park, Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco, the Yosemite valley, Los Angeles, the Grand Canon of the Arizona, St. Louis and thence home. On the way I met a few of my classmates, including "Shorty" Malcolm who is now running the Harvester trust, and Clark Rogers Mandigo, C. E., who was then trying to show the soldiers at Fort Riley, Kans., how they should build barracks. The last I heard from him he was trying to reform the park system of Kansas City. He has tackled a big proposition, but we all wish him success. I am still single, though I hope by the time of our twenty-fifth anniversary to report better progress. Member: Masonic bodies. Business address: Hagerstown Table Works, Hagerstown, Md. Present residence: 34 East Antietam St., Hagerstown, Md.

LORIS ALMY MILLER

After receiving my degree, I began to travel for the purpose of studying natural resources. Eventually I covered the whole of Europe, the United States, the civilized and remotest parts of Canada, Mexico and the West Indies. At the beginning of 1909 I accepted a position with the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, resigning, however, in the following spring. I then became Michigan representative of Rudolph Kleybolte and Company, a bond house; in November, 1909, I was also made assistant to the manager of the Chicago office. After my marriage we managed to combine a short honeymoon with business in Michigan. In April, 1911, I left Kleybolte and Company and went out to the Bitter Root Valley, Mont., where I had made some investments. These I have extended until they now include seventy-five acres of apple and cherry orchards near the town of Florence. The management and the further development of this estate, together with some other similar investments, is now my sole occupation. I intend ultimately to settle down near Boston, where I hope to devote my time to extensive high grade agriculture. I am also interested in medicine, which I have studied in a disconnected fashion. The only public office I have held is the co-trusteeship of the Union Congregational Church of Bitter Root. I was married April 4, 1910, to Madeline Tinkham, at Boston, Mass. Kathleen Bennett, born November 3, 1910; Eleanor Frances, born December 5, 1911. Member: University Club of Chicago. Business address: "Dunbeth," Florence, Mont. Present residence: 5833 Kenmore Ave., Chicago, Ill.

HIRAM WYCKOFF MILLS

About two weeks after Class Day and the graduating exercises I started out to wrest a living from this unsympathetic world and lay the foundation for an active business career. I had an opportunity of learning in the factory of one of the oldest leather belting companies all the operations incident to the manufacture of leather power belting. This included tanning green hides, preparing the leather for belting purposes, known as "currying," and making and installing the belts themselves. This meant a ten-hour day in all the different departments of the factory. I continued in this work, progressing from one department to another, for a little over a year and a half. While working in the tannery I contracted a severe attack of rheumatism. As the doctors advised a trip to some warmer climate in order that I might fully recuperate, I chose a sea trip to Cuba as a fitting restorative; I stayed there five weeks to assure myself of a complete recovery. Upon returning I went again into the factory. In the fall of that same year I went out on the road to get practical experience in selling problems. I made my headquarters in Philadelphia and travelled through the eastern part of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. As this kind of work did not appeal to me, I determined after about eight months, to make a change. The progress being made at that time in the automobile industry and the possibilities of its future attracted me. In a short time I found an opening with the Pope Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Conn., who make Pope-Hartford automobiles and who made the Columbia bicycle famous the world over. I was not at first able to get into the active end of the business, so I took a clerk's position in the advertising department. After remaining there two years I joined the automobile order department, which brought me into close touch with both the manufacturing and the selling ends. I spent much of my time in the factory familiarizing myself with the making of the cars and their parts. I also met the company's representatives, from whom I learned the different conditions of the trade in the different parts of the country. In October of the past year I started out on an extensive trip through the south and southwest. My mission was to establish dealers where we were not represented and to learn first hand the conditions of the trade. I went south along the Mississippi River to New Orleans and from there over into Texas, where I spent about six weeks. Much of this country was new to us in a business way and all of it to me, so I had a very interesting and educating trip. I returned to Hartford just before Christmas. Soon after the first of the year the annual automobile shows started. As one of the travelling force I was detailed along with the others to represent the company. I attended the shows in New York, Providence, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Montreal and Ottawa, then returned home to the one held at Hartford in February. The Pope Manufacturing Company, besides making pleasure cars in both four and six cylinder models, builds a truck of the three-ton type. This department of their industry is growing very rapidly and gives promise of much greater activity in the near future. As a result, the number of workmen and the size of the plants engaged in the manufacture of trucks will have to be greatly enlarged to keep pace with the increasing rate at which they are being adopted everywhere by wide-awake business men. Since returning from the shows, more and more of my time has been given over to the commercial end. Before long I expect to become exclusively engaged in that branch of the business. KENNETH MOLLER

In 1905 I finished college and went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where I was graduated in June, 1907. I taught Mechanical Engineering there until February, 1909, at which time I came to Providence as engineer with the Fuel Oil Engine Company. In April, 1910, I left that company to go with the Commercial Camera Company here. On March 1, 1912, I took a position with the Jenckes Spinning Company, Pawtucket, R. I., where I am still working. I was married June 19, 1907, to Elizabeth S. Sweetser, at Brookline, Mass. CLAXTON MONRO Immediately after graduation I entered the employ of the Lawrence Dye Works Company, for which I established a chemical laboratory. In the fall of 1909 I changed to my present position with the American Woolen Company. I was married June 17, 1911, to Frances Sutton, at Beverly, Mass. Business address: Washington Mills, Lawrence, Mass. Present residence: 43 Pearl St., Lawrence, Mass.

JAMES MORTIMER MONTGOMERY

He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on November 12, 1883, the son of James Mortimer and Cornelia Peabody Montgomery. In 1899 he went to Pomfret School, graduating in 1902 to enter Harvard. At school he had taken a leading part and his strong personality soon brought him into no less prominence in college. In the freshman year he was elected president of the class and was on the varsity football squad. The three following seasons he played at end and tackle in the important games and was regular right end on the 1904 team. In rowing he was never able to make his remarkable strength so effective, and although on the squad, did not row on the crew. Characteristically, however, he afterwards, by constant practice, made himself a good sculler. His friends in college included men of many different types and opinions. He was the second marshal of the class. During college vacations he travelled in the northwest and on graduation turned almost inevitably to work in the open. Some men theoretically prefer such a life, yet settle comfortably into the routine of older communities. In Montgomery's case, however, the impulse to a life affording a freer scope went deeper. Soon after graduation he went to Arizona, where he was for a time in a mining camp. Later he became connected with a mine in a remote part of the Copper River District in Alaska. He had just been promoted to a position of responsibility when, in the winter of 1909, he lost his life with two others in an avalanche which swept across a mountain trail. Physically Montgomery was superb, and took a just pride in keeping himself always in the best of shape. His character was extraordinary, robust and vigorous without in the least lacking sensitiveness and sympathy. It may surprise many to know that he had for years written verse, some of it of considerable merit. A diary which he kept in Alaska, almost to the day of his death, gives a graphic and humorous account of the frontier life which held such a spell for him. His memory will not be lost by those who knew him well. The best and highest type of Harvard graduate,—a valuable life was untimely cut off when the accident of the northern winter overtook him and his companions.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

CHARLES DAVIS MORGAN

I received my degree in March, 1906. During the spring of 1906 I travelled in Italy, Switzerland and France, returning for Class Day. I entered the Law School in the fall and followed the regular course for three years, but was prevented from taking my degree by a break-down in health in the spring of 1909. In July, 1909, I entered the firm of Guthrie, Bangs and Van Sinderen in New York, with whom I remained until May, 1910, when a return of ill health forced me to give up work. Since that time I have devoted myself to recovering my health, spending the winter of 1910-1911 in the country near Boston and that of 1911-1912 at St. Moritz, Switzerland. I am now quite well again and shall return to work in the fall. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

PERCY LAWRENCE MOSES

In July, 1906, I entered the employ of Stone and Webster. In October of the same year I was sent to Stoughton, Mass., as superintendent of the Stoughton Gas and Electric Company. In September, 1907, I was obliged on account of sickness to give up this position. I accordingly took a trip to Europe to regain my health, visiting England, France, Switzerland and Italy. Returning to America in the latter part of December, I entered the employ of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston as inspector of overhead construction. In 1909 I was transferred to the electrical engineering department. In March, 1910, I resigned to accept a position as chief engineer of the Asbestos Protected Metal Company, Canton, Mass. In May, 1911, I took a six weeks' vacation, during which I again visited Europe. In June, 1911, as the Asbestos Protected Metal Company moved its plant to the west, I went into business for myself, representing this company in New England and doing consulting engineering under the name of P. L. Moses and Company. I am a director in the Broadway National Bank of Chelsea, Mass. I was married October 17, 1908, to Alice A. Greene, at Cohoes, N. Y. HENRY JULIAN MULLIN

I was absent from college during the first half of my sophomore year, as business called me to Duluth, Minn. I received my degree, however, in 1907, as of 1906. In 1907 I entered the real estate business in Duluth; this is still my occupation. Since August, 1909, I have been in business for myself. During my residence here I have taken an active interest in municipal affairs, and the work of the Commercial Club in its efforts to make this city "bigger and better." For the past two years I have been on the public affairs committee of the club. My small contribution to its work has been in establishing better and more ornamental street lighting. In November, 1910, I contributed an article on street lighting to "The Electrical Engineer." I have also had a small share in the campaign for commission government in Duluth. I was married August 3, 1908, to Katheryn V. Swartz, at Albany, N. Y. Member: American Economic Association, National Municipal League, Duluth Commercial Club. Business address: 403 Lonsdale Building, Duluth, Minn. Present residence: 1507 East 2d St., Duluth, Minn.

JOHN JAMES MULLOWNEY

During 1902-1903 I was a special student at Harvard. The following summer I took a brief course at the Pernin School of Shorthand, Boston, Mass. In the fall of 1903 I was elected to the principalship of the Bath Union School, Bath, N. H., where I taught for one year. In September, 1904, I entered the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania, from which I was graduated in June, 1908. In August, 1908, I received an appointment from the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church to go as medical missionary to Peking, China. On October 1, 1908, I arrived in Peking, where I worked till January 20, 1912, as medical missionary and teacher in the Union Medical College of Peking. I then returned to Easton, Pa., because of the unsettled condition of affairs in China. My address for the coming summer will be care of P. C. Evans, Easton, Pa. It is possible that if I return to China, I may join the Harvard Medical School in China, instead of going to Peking. It might interest some of my classmates to know that in the early part of this winter I went out on Red Cross work in central China, where the revolution broke forth. I was married June 30, 1908, to Emily Evans, at Easton, Pa. John Evans, born April 13, 1909; Pennell Evans, born January 8, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Plague in North China," Journal of the American Medical Association; "The Need of a Hospital for the Insane in North China," Journal of the China Medical Missionary Association; "Present Day Problems in China," Journal of the China Medical Missionary Association; "Chinese Hospitals," Collier's. Member: Masonic lodge, American Medical Association, China Medical Missionary Association. Present residence: Care of P. C. Evans, Easton, Pa.

JOHN MURDOCH, JR.

In July, 1907, after having studied forestry for a year, I entered the United States Forest Service. I was first assigned as forest assistant to the Sierra National Forest in central California. In November, 1907, I was transferred to the Black Hills National Forest, with headquarters in Deadwood, S. D., where I remained for more than three years. In March, 1911, I was again shifted, this time to the Wagon Wheel Gap Experiment Station in Colorado. In September, however, I returned to Massachusetts, where I secured employment in the office of the state forester. I was married December 6, 1909, to Alice L. Abbott, at Chicago, Ill. Ruth Lorriaux, born December 2, 1911. Member: New England Botanical Club, Society of American Foresters. Business address: 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 11 Clatlin Place, Newtonville, Mass. Permanent address: Care of John Murdoch, Public Library, Boston, Mass.

FRANK SCHLEY MUZZEY

At the close of my junior year I left college to study banking, first in one of the larger banks, later in a brokerage firm. In 1909, however, I became interested in denatured alcohol, for the manufacture of which I have formed a company. We are now erecting a large plant which, when completed, I believe will be the first distillery of its kind east of the Mississippi River. I was married June 2, 1909, to Eleanor Dering Mills, at Philadelphia, Pa. Frank Schley, Jr., born January 17, 1912. Member: Racquet Club of Philadelphia, St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia, Harvard Club of Philadelphia. Business address: Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 245 South 38th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DENYS PETER MYERS

During my third year at college circumstances made it necessary for me to give up work for a time. Since November, 1905, I have taken courses, usually one a year, in 1906-1907, 1907-1908, 1910-1911 and 1911-1912. I received my A.B. degree in 1912, as of 1906. My later studies have been mainly in the field of international law. In 1905 I began reportorial work on the Boston Herald. During the Russo-Japanese war I studied the war extensively, writing numerous articles on it. As this led me into specializing on foreign affairs, in 1906 I became foreign editor of the paper. I spent the summer as an editor with the Boston Globe, returning to the Herald for two months in 1907. In the spring I returned for six months to the Globe, after which I wrote editorials on foreign affairs for the Herald. When the Christian Science Monitor was started, in November, 1908, I joined its staff as a news editor. In October, 1910, I resigned, however, to become librarian and international law adviser to the World Peace Foundation, devoting part of my time to writing special Sunday stories and editorials for the Boston Globe. In January, 1911, I gave up all except casual newspaper work to devote my whole time to the World Peace Foundation. I have been a continuous student of municipal law. One outcome of this has been an interest in the legal aspects of aviation, on which I am preparing a book. I was married January 4, 1912, to Ethel May Stuart-Johnston, at Roxbury, Mass. Books or plays of my authorship: Newspaper and magazine articles; "The Law and the Air," Aircraft, volume I., 1910-1911; "The Legal Basis of the Rules of Blockade in the Declaration of London," American Journal of International Law, July, 1911; "List of Arbitration Treaties and Why the Arbitration Treaties Should Stand," in the World Peace Pamphlet Series. Member: Comité Juridique International de l'Aviation, American Society of International Law, American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, Aero Club of New England, Special Libraries Association. Business address: 29A Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 94 Oxford St., Cambridge, Mass.

EDMUND MYERS

In January of my freshman year I left college and went to work as a reporter. In June, 1908, I was graduated with the degree of M.D. from the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia. I am president for 1912 of Moses Mendelssohn Lodge, I. O. F. S. I., Boston. I was married February 23, 1909, to Stella Hayman, at Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa. (died January 9, 1912). Member: Massachusetts Medical Society, American Medical Association, Aesculapius Medical Society of Philadelphia, Moses Mendelssohn Lodge, I. O. F. S. I. Present residence: 1230 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

GUY CHASE MYERS

I left college at the end of my sophomore year. I was married January 31, 1906, to Kate Moore, at Ashland, O. Elizabeth, born January 9, 1907; Miriam, born June 17, 1911. Member: Harvard Club of Cleveland. Business address: Ashland, O. Present residence: 414 Center St., Ashland, O.

ing part of this time I was personal assistant to the district attorney for Suffolk County. On May 17, 1910, I left Boston for Manila, P. I., via San Francisco, Honolulu and Japan, to assume the position of assistant attorney in the Bureau of Justice of the Philippine Islands. I was recently appointed first assistant prosecuting attorney of Manila. I was married June 3, 1911, to Elizabeth F. Nash, at Yokohama, Japan. Member: University Club of Manila. Business address: Bureau of Justice, Manila, P. I. Present residence: 3 San Carlos, Ermita, Manila, P. I. Permanent address: 38 Hildreth Building, Lowell, Mass.

ALBERT MICHAEL NEWALD

After graduating from the Harvard Law School in 1908, I was admitted to the Wisconsin bar. In September, 1908, I began active practice with Bloodgood, Kemper and Bloodgood of Milwaukee. In February, 1909, I opened an office of my own. Since then I have conducted an independent practice in Milwaukee. Member: Harvard Club of Milwaukee, Masons, Woodmont Country Club. Business address: Caswell Block, Milwaukee, Wis. Present residence: 757 Shepard Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

THOMPSON NEWBURY

Since graduation I have been with the Taunton Oil Cloth Company. I was married June 24, 1911, to Mabel Gould Sloeum, at Sherborn, Mass. Member: Winthrop Club, Segreansett Country Club, Metacomet Golf Club. Business address: Box 503, Taunton, Mass. Present residence: 24 Church Green, Taunton, Mass.

STERLING NEWELL

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I attended the Harvard Law School for three years. I was then admitted to practice in Ohio. On January 1, 1910, I entered the employ of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey. Member: University Club

DANIEL ALLERTON NEWHALL

I spent abroad several months following my senior year, passing one term at Oxford. On my return I worked for a year in a bond broker's office in Philadelphia. I then entered the employ of Berwind-White Coal Mining Company of western Pennsylvania. Two years ago I came to Berwind, W. Va., where I am now assistant superintendent of the New River and Pocahontas Consolidated Coal Company's plant. I was married May 8, 1911, to Ellen B. Godfrey, at Philadelphia, Pa. Business address: Berwind, W. Va. Present residence: Berwind, W. Va.

JOHN DONALDSON NICHOLS

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906, receiving my A.M. degree in 1906. I then began teaching school at Groton, where I remained for two years. One of my summer vacations there I spent with a Groton boy, motoring through southeastern Europe; we visited Hungary, Servia, Transylvania and Moravia. In October, 1909, I entered the employ of Richards and Company, Incorporated, metal dealers, of Boston. Last summer, while I was again abroad, I climbed the Matterhorn. I was married November 4, 1911, to Beatrice von Bylandt, at New York, N. Y. Business address: 200 Causeway St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Auburndale, Mass.

JOHN ROBERT NICHOLS

After my marriage in August, 1906, I went at once to Montreal, where I accepted a position as designer of reinforced concrete buildings. In February, 1907, I came to Boston to fill a similar position with the Eastern Expanded Metal Company, which later became the Eastern Concrete Construction Company. In December, 1908, I left their employ. From February, 1909, to the following June, I worked for H. P. Converse and Company. That summer I built a house in Cambridge. In September I began my duties as assistant in civil engineering in the Graduate School of Applied Science, where I am now instructor. During the last three or four years I have been active in the attempt, through the Initiative and the Referendum, to secure for Massachusetts adequate popular control of public affairs. I am an active member of a league organized to show the people the folly of taxing business and the products of industry, while individuals are permitted to pocket increase in land values due to growth of the community. For the last two years I have been especially interested in an attempt to secure for Cambridge a new city charter, to deliver her from the control of ring politicians. I was married August 8, 1906, to Alice Burt Berry, at New York, N. Y. Helen Holt, born July 14, 1907; Esther Ward, born November 23, 1910. Member: American Society of Civil Engineers, Association of Harvard Engineers, Massachusetts Single Tax League, Massachusetts Direct Legislation League, Cambridge Public School Association, Cambridge Political Equality Association. Business address: Pierce Hall, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 82 Avon Hill St., Cambridge, Mass.

WILLIAM ANDREW NOONAN

Although I finished college in three years, I received my degree with the class. In 1905 I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I was graduated in 1909. I then served until March, 1910, as interne at the Boston Consumptives' Hospital; from March until July, 1911, as house officer and house surgeon at the Boston City Hospital, and during the summer following as supply resident surgeon at the Haymarket Square Relief Station and the East Boston Relief Station. In November, 1911, I began private practice at 1170 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge. Business address:

1170 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 1170 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Permanent address: 109 Otis St., Cambridge, Mass.

PERCY VARNEY NORWOOD

During the first three years after receiving my degree, I taught history and English in a boys' school in Newton, Mass., spending most of my summers at the school camp on the Maine coast. In 1907 I took my Master's degree for work done during my senior year. The following winter I decided to enter the ministry of the Episcopal Church. By studying privately while engaged in teaching, I was able in the fall of 1909 to enter the Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn. While in the seminary I served as chaplain of the Watkinson Farm School at Hartford. Upon completion of my seminary course, in June, 1911, I was ordained to the Diaconate by Bishop Lawrence in St. Paul's Church, Boston. Since that time I have been serving as curate in St. James' Church, New London, Conn. Present residence: 214 Huntington St., New London, Conn. Permanent address: 7 Highland Ave., Beverly, Mass.

PERLEY HAYWARD NOYES

In the fall of 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, receiving my LL.B. degree in June, 1909. In September of that year I entered the office of White and Case of New York, with whom I have been since that time. In the summer of 1910 I took a short trip abroad, spending about half of my time in Ireland and the rest in England and France. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Explorers' Club. Business address: 14 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: Tenafly, N. J.

WILLIAM JOSIAH NUTTER

During 1905-1906, while I was on leave of absence from college, I endeavored to make a living in Boston in the insurance business. In May chance and a suppressed inclination committed me to the life of a schoolmaster. My first offense in this direction was for a period of six weeks at the end of the year in Norton, Mass., where I served as teacher of sciences and modern languages. In September I went to Maynard for a similar engagement. In February, after recovering from scarlet fever, I completed the year as principal of the high school at Chatham, Mass. Throughout the year 1907-1908 I was a teacher in Higgins Classical Institute, Charleston, Me. For the two years which followed I was principal of the Bluehill-George Stevens Academy, Bluehill, Me. In these two positions I learned the value of right traditions and a strong civic pride in good schools. In the fall of 1910 I began my tenure of the principalship of the high school at Millis, Mass. Member: Odd Fellows, Masons, Grange. Business address: Box 243, Millis, Mass. Present residence: Exchange St., Millis, Mass. Permanent address: Haven, Me.

HAROLD ALLEN NYE

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I passed the early part of the summer near Bismarek, N. D., in securing relics from the abandoned camps of the Mandan Indians. Later, while visiting relatives in Denver, Colo., I received the offer of a position in the Trinidad High School, where I taught two years. I next taught for two years in the English department of the Colorado Springs High School. During the summer of 1909 I began newspaper work on the Colorado Springs Gazette, with which I remained for two years. In the fall of 1911 I again became an instructor in the Colorado Springs High School, where I am at present. I have visited no foreign country since graduating. The six years between my graduation and the present have taught me above everything else that the name of Harvard University is an honorable and honored one, and that to be an alumnus of that institution is a constant joy. In business, in teaching, in courtship, and in doing what good old Dean Briggs used to advise us to do—"learn about men and things"—I have found that the name of Harvard is usually an open sesame to friendship, scholarship, profit and pleasure. I can truly say, also, that, although I have sauntered back and forth across the United States several times, meeting all sorts of people and conditions, politics and complaints, next to my home state, I should most like to see the buildings and surroundings of Sever Hall, the New Lecture Hall—is it still "new"—the Union, the Stadium, Thayer Hall and the other structures which go to make up the best university in the world. The people of the west are hustling, progressive, but crude; to be able to drop into the atmosphere of Harvard occasionally would refresh the spirits of those of us in the midst of this marvellously big, growing, but raw west. I was married September 10, 1910, to Rose Marion Burns, at Colorado Springs, Colo. Member: Winter Night Club of Colorado Springs, Rocky Mountain Harvard Club. Business address: High School, Colorado Springs, Colo. Present residence: 223 North Weber St., Colorado Springs, Colo.

WILLIAM HOWARD NYE

I left college at the close of 1905. In March, 1906, I entered the employ of the Western Electric Company, remaining in New York for about a year. During 1907 and 1908 I was at their various houses in the middle west, spending the greater part of my time in Minneapolis. I left them, however, to devote myself to personal business early in 1909, in Colorado and Wyoming. About the middle of 1909 the Triennial called me back to New York. Since then my residence has been in New York and nearby towns, where I have been engaged in building construction. Present residence: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: Bournedale, Mass.

After several months' travel in this country and Canada I went to work in January, 1907, in the general freight office of the Wabash Railroad at St. Louis. There I had a great variety of traffic work and a good opportunity to get out on the road occasionally. In spare time Joe White and I collaborated in producing an extensive report of a technical sort concerning the relative values of different kinds of traffic. In May, 1911, I left the Wabash to get experience on the other side of railroad problems as secretary to the manager of the transportation department of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Here I assisted in the general investigation of the express business conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission and in the presentation of the export and import rate case, also acting as secretary to the Chamber's committees on transportation, maritime affairs and metropolitan improvements. As I had an unusual opportunity to travel and was desirous of getting back into the active railroad service ultimately, I left Boston in November, 1911. Since that time I have been in "the bush" in Jamaica and in the Canal Zone and Panama. Permanent address: 1713 P St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

MAURICE JOEL PAGE

Though I was granted leave of absence after mid-year of my sophomore year, I never returned to college. I have been assayer for the Diamond Ledge Gold Mining Company and the Four Metal Mining and Smelting Company of Keeler, Cal., as well as chemist for the Waltham Jewel Company of Waltham, Mass. I am now with the Page Construction Company of Washington, D. C. Business address: 303 Hibbs Building, Washington, D. C. Present residence: 1333 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Permanent address: 1048 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, Mass.

ROBERT EUGENE PAGE

I left Harvard in the spring of 1903. I immediately entered the Pullman service, where I worked for nine months. I then came to Hot Springs, where till September, 1906, I was in the government service. In the spring of 1907 I was chosen principal of the high school at Hot Springs. After teaching for nearly four years, I entered a law office, where I am reading law. I am also managing one of the bath houses of the city. I intend soon, however, to return to one of the eastern universities, preferably Harvard, to complete my law studies. Business address: Crystal Bath House, Hot Springs, Ark. Present residence: 224 Ozark St., Hot Springs, Ark.

JOHN JOSEPH PAGET

I left college after finishing my sophomore year, the reason being poor health. I then went into the real estate business, but as I found that it conflicted too much with my summer occupation, the row-boat and swan-boat business on the Boston Public Garden, which I own and personally manage, I had some difficulty in finding suitable winter employment. Finally I decided that growing vegetables under glass would fit in nicely with my summer business. As Belmont, Arlington and Watertown were noted for their market gardens, I went about these places asking for employment. A very successful vegetable grower in Watertown hired me. Strange to say, my employer, as I learned later, was a Harvard man who had given up teaching in the west to go into this work. I am now interested in starting in this business for myself. MINOR BRODRICK PALMER

I entered college in September, 1903, and was admitted to the sophomore class, as I had spent my freshman year at the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. I received my degree in 1908, as of 1906; with the exception of one examination, I had completed in 1906 the requirements for the degree. After Commencement, 1906, I returned to my home at St. Paul, where in November I entered the employ of the St. Paul Book and Stationery Company. In May, 1907, I left to go into the home office of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company, where I remained until February, 1909. For the next year I was connected with Brown and Bigelow, Incorporated, makers of advertising specialties. Since May, 1910, I have been treasurer of the Canadian Real Estate Agency Company, Limited, of Toronto and St. Paul. I have been engaged in the sale and colonization of Canadian farm lands in northern Saskatchewan. In the near future we will open an office at Winnipeg, where I expect to reside. Business address: 303 Endicott Building, St. Paul, Minn. Present residence: 1730 Portland Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

HOWARD MADISON PAULL

He was the son of Henry Harlan Pillsbury Paull and Martha Virginia Combs. He was born in Boston, March 20, 1881, and died at the West Philadelphia Homœopathic Hospital, March 6, 1912, after an operation for tuberculosis of the kidney. He attended the Agassiz School in Jamaica Plain until the age of twelve, when he entered the Roxbury Latin School, from which he was graduated with the class of 1900. At the doctor's advice, he did not immediately enter college, but for the next two years acted as reader to Professor C. C. Langdell, Professor Emeritus of the Harvard Law School, continuing this work irregularly during his whole college course. Entering the class of 1906, he specialized in chemistry under Professor C. L. Jackson. Always a most conscientious worker, the faculty awarded him first, one-half of the Haven Fund and later, the Kirkland Scholarship. He finished the four years course in three years and received his A.B. with cum laude in June, 1905. In August of the same year, he became connected with the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Company of Wilmington, Del., and at the Eastern Laboratory at Gibbstown, N. J., their experimental station, he began his work on the analysis and testing of black powder and dynamite. Here he was associated with college men from the south, as well as from the north, making many warm friendships among them and in Chester, Pa., where he lived. He announced his engagement to Miss Marian Dale Bird of Chester, October, 1911, and although he had not been in the best of health for some time, the seriousness of his condition was not suspected until the examination on the 5th of February. The suddenness of his death when everything seemed to promise many years of happiness for Miss Bird and himself, makes his loss felt all the more keenly by his family and friends. He was a non-resident member of the Chemists' Club of New York.

I entered college in September, 1903. In May, 1906, I was transferred to the class of 1906, with which I received my degree. The following September I entered the General Theological Seminary in New York, graduating in May, 1909. On June 5th of that year I was ordained by Bishop Lawrence a deacon of the Episcopal Church. On July 1st I became a member of the staff of St. Stephen's Church, Boston, of which Dr. S. S. Dewey was vicar; I remained there until June 1, 1910. On May 15, 1910, I was advanced to the priesthood. In the middle of June I moved to North Conway, N. H., to take charge of Christ Church Parish, of which I was shortly after elected rector. I am still there and hope to remain for several years, as the work is very interesting, with much to be done. My parish, which covers about six hundred square miles, is situated in the most beautiful section of the White Mountains. Member: North Conway Men's Club. FRANK ARTHUR PEMBERTON

In 1909, after graduating from the Harvard Medical School, I went to Europe for a few months. The last two years I have spent in the Free Hospital for Women in Brookline and the Massachusetts General Hospital. I am now practicing in Boston, where I have been appointed an assistant visiting surgeon to the Free Hospital for Women. Business address: 374 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Trinity Court, Boston, Mass. Permanent address: Care of John T. Priest, Auburndale, Mass.

MILTON PERCIVAL

I joined the class in my junior year, graduating in 1906. The following year I took an A.M. degree. Since then I have spent three years as instructor in English in Oberlin College, with one year as instructor in rhetoric in the University of Minnesota. During the summer of 1911 I travelled in England. In the fall I re-entered the Graduate School, where I am studying at present. Present residence: 27 Ware St., Cambridge, Mass.

ALVA HAROLD PERKINS

From July, 1906, to December, 1906, I was a civil engineer with the Fore River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy, Mass. I then accepted a position as electrical engineer for the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company, with which I remained until March, 1909. From then until the present time I have been a civil engineer with the Florida Coast Line Canal and Transportation Company of St. Augustine, Fla. I am secretary of the St. Augustine Institute of Science and Historical Society. I was married June 29, 1908, to Alma Gertrude Tyler, at Exeter, N. H. Member: Harvard Club Business address: Care of Florida Coast Line Canal and Transportation Company, St. Augustine, Fla. Present residence: Box 371, St. Augustine, Fla.

MAURICE GEORGE PERKINS

After leaving college I started work in New York for the Review of Reviews. In 1910 I entered the employ of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. I am now their manager at Gardner, Mass., Winchendon, Mass., and Peterboro, N. H. I was married June 5, 1911, to Eva Lydia Young, at Lowell, Mass. Member: Gardner Boat Club. Business address: New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, Gardner, Mass. Present residence: 96 Chestnut St., Gardner, Mass.

ARTHUR PERRY, JR.

As leave of absence was granted me after the midyear examinations in 1906, my roommate and I took an interesting trip to Spain, Egypt, Palestine, Greece, etc. I arrived home in time to receive my degree with the class. A few days later I started "on the bell" for Kidder, Peabody and Company, with whom I remained until January 1, 1908. Since then I have been a bond salesman for Perry, Coffin and Burr. My only interest outside of home and business has been in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association, for which I am serving on the State Executive Committee for Massachusetts and Rhode Island. I am also a member of the committee for the boys' department of the Boston Association. I was married October 6, 1909, to Rebecca Savery Hutton, at Salem, O. Penelope Hutton, born January 31, 1911. Member: Union Boat Club, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 60 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 141 Revere St., Boston, Mass.

GEORGE QUINCY PETERS

At the end of my junior year I found that I had completed the number of courses necessary for a degree, which I took in 1906. In July, 1905, as the lure of the world of finance had proved too much for my scholastic ambitions, I entered the banking house of Kidder, Peabody and Company, Boston. I am still with this firm. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston, Cohasset Yacht Club. Business address: 115 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 416 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass.

GEORGE IRVING PETTENGILL

In September, 1906, I was appointed instructor of English and German in Dummer Academy. In the following June I accepted a position in the Malden High School, where I remained till June, 1911. In the summer of 1908 I started alone for Europe. Landing at Glasgow, I pursued my solitary way through Scotland, England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Antwerp and East Boston, arriving home with an empty pocketbook and a pair of light trousers, which I had carried 10,000 miles without once wearing. I am now head of the English department in the Allen School for Boys. Member: Masons, Sons of Veterans, Unitarian Club of Newton, Harvard Alumni Chorus. Business address: Allen School for Boys, West Newton, Mass. Present residence: 127 Newburg St., Roslindale, Mass.

EDWARD CLEMENT PEVEAR

After one year I left college to engage in ranching in Montana, with headquarters at Miles City. Here I remained until the death of the owner of the ranch, whose interest I represented. After a visit east I went to Tonopah and Buena Vista, Nev., to take charge of my father's mining interests. I then spent fourteen months in California, most of the time in Los Angeles with Natt Head, who had been a classmate in Harvard. Finally, after a year in New York, the confinement of which did not agree with me, I decided to interest myself in farming. I accordingly settled in Freedom, N. H., where I am now residing. Member: Sierra Club. Present residence: Freedom, N. H.

SEYMOUR MARION PEYSER

After one year spent in the Harvard Law School, I entered the second or senior class of the New York Law School, in order to get a degree in two years instead of three. After a few months, however, I decided to make a change, so I entered the employ of Moffatt and White, now White, Weld and Company. After having been with them until November, 1909, I left for the west. I remained in the northwest for about a year, studying conditions as carefully as I was able. I incidentally purchased an apple ranch. Late in 1910 I returned to New York and in January, 1911, I entered into a partnership with Frank M. Chadbourne, 1906, under the firm name of Chadbourne and Peyser, for the purpose of conducting a general bond and banking business in New Jersey, with offices in Newark. We are correspondents of Spencer, Trask and Company. I was married November 25, 1909, to Sally Frances Relihan, at New York, N. Y. Business address: Firemen's Insurance Building, Newark, N. J. Present residence: 1 West 64th St., New York, N. Y.

BURDETTE PHILLIPS

I remained at Harvard for one year only. In October, 1903, I entered the publishing business as advertising solicitor for the Morris County Chronicle, a weekly newspaper of Morristown, N. J. In March, 1904, I entered the employ of the McGraw Publishing Company of New York, with which I am still engaged in the capacity of manager of the McGraw Electrical Directory and the McGraw Electric Railway Manual. I am secretary of the Chautauqua County Society of New York. I was married December 24, 1900, to May L.

Sawin, at Ripley, N. Y. Alice Lurinda, born May 22, 1905; Raymond Burdette, born November 22, 1906. Member: Chautauqua County Society of New York. Business address: 239 West 39th St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: Kissena Park, Flushing, L. I., N. Y.

HARLAN TRIMBLE PIERPONT

After leaving college in 1906, I became cub reporter on the Springfield (Mass.) Republican. While I was on the paper I had charge of the publicity work for the Springfield Association for the Furtherance of a Safe and Sane Fourth, an association which has since been copied in many other cities. I was also an incorporator of the Springfield Boys' Club. In 1909 I left the Republican to enter business with Swan, Brown Company, dealers in bonds and stocks. In January, 1911, I became secretary of the company and moved to Worcester, Mass. In 1910 I held the golf championship of the Country Club of Springfield. I was married June 2, 1911, to Dorothy Langley Hobson, at Boston, Mass. Harlan Trimble, Jr., born April 25, 1912. Member: Worcester Club, Tatnuck Country Club, Worcester Tennis Club, Country Club of Springfield. Business address: Slater Building, Main St., Worcester, Mass. Present residence: 82 Elm St., Worcester, Mass.

JOHN WALLACE PLAISTED, 2D.

I completed my course in 1905, though I took my degree with the class. During my senior year I was registered in the Law School, where I remained until graduation in 1908. From February, 1906, until I left the Law School I was assistant in History 13. In this work I gathered much information, especially as I was called upon to assist in revising Professor Hart's Manual. Although my work as assistant led me to consider teaching as a profession, I found when I sought positions, that it was impossible to secure an instructorship in a college. It was, therefore, necessary for me to take a position in the Central High School, Duluth, Minn., where I also intended to look into the possibilities of practicing law. Not being satisfied after the experience of one school year, I returned to Cambridge, where I was employed most of the time until April, 1910, on a new edition of Sedgwick's Treatise on the Law of Damages; I worked under the direction of Professor J. H. Beale of the Harvard Law School. I was also able to do some tutoring in history under Mr. W. W. Nolen, an opportunity which in many ways has been very valuable to me. Since April, 1910, I have been employed by the Boston Chamber of Commerce as secretary of committees. I was married December 28, 1908, to Susie Mae Lewis, at Cambridge, Mass. Winthrop Lewis, born June 15, 1911. Business address: 405 Chamber of Commerce, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 33 Highland Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

HOWARD CARLETON PLATTS

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. Since then, with the exception of a few months, first in Philadelphia and Boston, I have been employed as chemist by the Flintkote Manufacturing Company of Rutherford, N. J., manufacturers of prepared roofing, power and conveyor belts and water proofing and weather proofing specialties. I was married October 28, 1908, to Irene Horton, at Rutherford, N. J. Louise Horton, born February 10, 1910. Member: American Chemical Society. Business address: Flintkote Manufacturing Company, Rutherford, N. J. Present residence: 38 Sylvan St., Rutherford, N. J.

FRANK RODNEY PLEASANTON

I was graduated in 1907, as of 1906. In 1907-1908 I was Austin Teaching Fellow in engineering, assisting Professor L. S. Marks in the experimental laboratory. After receiving in June an M.M.E. degree, I passed the summer as instructor in shopwork at the Harvard Summer School. From October 16, 1908, to January 29, 1910, I was assistant to Mr. Carl G. Barth, consulting engineer, in the work of reorganizing the Smith and Furbush Machine Company of Philadelphia; my position was that of superintendent of production. Since May 15, 1910, I have been an industrial engineer with the Pennsylvania Steel Company, Steelton, Pa. I am at present assistant to the general superintendent. I was married June 29, 1907, to Helen Josephine Bacon, at Boston, Mass. Helen, born January 30, 1909; Eugenia, born January 17, 1911. Member: American Academy of Political and Social Science, American Society for Promoting Efficiency, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Engineers' Society of Pennsylvania, Engineers' Club of Philadelphia, Franklin Institute, Harvard Club of Philadelphia, Colonial Society of Pennsylvania, Society of the War of 1812, Harrisburg Club. Business address: Pennsylvania Steel Company, Steelton, Pa. Present residence: 1034 South 18th St., Harrisburg, Pa.

JOSEPH HUDSON PLUMB

In January, 1905, on account of the sudden death of my father, I left college to prepare to aid in carrying on his business as a manufacturer of steel tools. For one year I worked in the shops. I next held various positions in offices, following this by travelling for two years as a salesman. In 1909 I was elected treasurer of the company. In the fall of 1910 I was made general manager of a new plant built at St. Louis, Mo. Business address: Wellston, St. Louis, Mo.

HENRY KING POMEROY

Since leaving college I have been interested more or less in the lumber business, as well as in the furniture manufacturing business. For the past two years, however, ranching has been my occupation. Present residence: Glencove, Pierce County, Wash.

CLARENCE HENRY POOR, JR.

In 1909 I was graduated from the Harvard Law School and then practiced law for two years in the office of Putnam, Putnam and Bell, 60 State Street, Boston. I am now practicing under my own shingle at 15 Beacon Street. Business address: Room 47, 15 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 23 Buckingham St., Cambridge, Mass.

ROGER MERRILL POOR

In 1906 I accompanied the crew to England. On my return I went into the banking house of Strong, Sturgis and Company, New York. I left in February, 1909, to accept a position with Johnson, Wood and Rogers, a stock exchange firm. On October 15, 1911, I came to Albany, where I am working in the National Commercial Bank, of which James H. Perkins, 1897, has just been made president. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Racquet and Tennis Club of New York, Brook Club of New York, Fort Orange Club of Albany, Albany Country Club. Business address: 60 State St., Albany, N. Y. Present residence: 25 Lancaster St., Albany, N. Y. Permanent address: 9 West 9th St., New York, N. Y.

CHANNING WILLIAMS PORTER

Upon receiving my degree in 1906, I returned for another year, at the end of which I received the degree of S.B. in architecture. The following January I obtained an appointment in the Government Supervising Architect's office in Washington, D. C., remaining here until August, 1910, when, as the result of examinations taken, I received a travelling scholarship from Harvard. In August, 1910, I accordingly sailed for Europe. I visited Scotland, England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Italy and Greece, giving special attention to the architecture of these countries, from which I sent sketches and drawings to Harvard. In October, 1911, as delegate of the Washington Architectural Club, I attended the sessions of the International Congress of Architects, which was held in Rome. Member: Washington Architectural Club, Touring Club of France. Permanent address: Sherborn, Mass.

DAVID THOMAS POTTINGER

"Not guilty" is my plea to every inquiry of the Investigating Committee. I've held no offices of profit (would to Heaven that I had!); nor am I married (is there an echo of

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

"a not impossible she"?) ; nor have I published any books (writing them is another matter) ; nor am I a member of any clubs. But hold! I am guilty of a bit of travel. I spent in Holland and Germany the summer of 1908, mainly at the Summer School of the University of Marburg. During the summer of 1910 I attended the Harvard Summer School. Otherwise these six years have been passed in the pleasant but uneventful work at teaching, first (1906-1909) in the Wilson School at Fishkill Landing, N. Y., since then at Thayer Academy, South Braintree, Mass. In the former I taught everything from the alphabet to Goethe's Faust; in the latter, I confine my labors to English literature and composition. In the intervals between theme-correcting I find time for work in the Harvard Graduate School, where my particular interest is medieval literature and art. Business address: Thayer Academy, South Braintree, Mass. Present residence: 24 Robinson Ave., Braintree, Mass.

ROSCOE FAIRBANKS POTTS

I entered college in my sophomore year. Upon my graduation I became one of two partners in an advertising company. In July, 1908, this partnership was sold out to the Baseball Magazine Company, which I had just founded. Since 1908 I have given my undivided attention to this publishing company, of which I am at present treasurer and manager. Business address: Care of Baseball Magazine, New York, N. Y. Permanent address: The Woodlea, Kansas City, Mo.

AUGUSTE LAWRENCE POULEUR

I entered Harvard in the fall of 1904. In the summer of 1906 I was employed as chemist by the Henry Souther Engineering Company, Hartford, Conn., which sent me out to Lansing, Mich., to install a laboratory for the Oldsmobile Company. From there I was sent to Pittsburgh and Cleveland to experiment on vanadium cast iron, then for two weeks to the Morgan Construction Company. In March, 1907, I installed a laboratory for the E. R. Thomas Motor Company, Buffalo, N. Y. In the fall of 1907 I accepted a position as instructor in chemistry at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Ia. During 1908-1910 I taught chemistry at the University of Buffalo. I am now doing research work at New York University, where I expect to get my A.M. degree in June. I was married May 1, 1907, to Evangeline H. Crafts, at Cambridge, Mass. Member: American Chemical Society. Business address: Tuckahoe, N. Y.

WILLIAM TAYLOR POULTERER

I left college before the end of my sophomore year. I immediately entered the employ of the Bell Telephone Company of Philadelphia, remaining with them for two and a half years. I then joined the Philadelphia Electric Company, for which I am still working. I have charge of a small department which tests power installations; this has now become a rather important phase of the business. My life has been rather uneventful, except for my happy marriage and the making of a comfortable home for my wife and family. I have travelled but little, as my work demands constant attention. My chief hobby is automobiling, nothing delighting me more than tinkering with my small car, unless it be a tour with my wife during my vacation period. Our summers are spent at Cape May, N. J., which is not only agreeable to my wife and myself, but exceedingly beneficial to children. I was married April 27, 1907, to Mary Frances Jacoby, at Philadelphia, Pa. William Taylor, Jr., born January 13, 1909. Member: National Electric Light Association, Pennsylvania Electric Light Association. Business address: 1000 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 2042 North 63d St., Philadelphia, Pa.

LOUIS PHILIP POUTAS

In August, 1906, I entered the employ of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, in which I was an assistant to the secretary. I held this position until March, 1910, when I left to accept a more promising one as stock clerk for the Diamond Rubber Company. In February, 1911, I was offered the position of chief clerk with the Western Union Telegraph Company, which I accepted. These statements cover my business adventures to date. Unfortunately, as I am not married, I have no wife nor children three who could add interest to this report. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 110 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Concord Road, Weston, Mass.

HORACE GRIGGS PRALL

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. For five years thereafter I was an editor in the publishing house of Charles E. Merrill Company, New York. In 1908 I was graduated from the law department of New York University. After being admitted to the bar I was for some time with Mr. William A. Purrington. Since then I have been in the office of Hatch and Clute. Business address: Care of Hatch and Clute, 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 508 West 136th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: Ringoes, N. J.

STUART DUNCAN PRESTON

The first year out of college I spent at the Columbia Law School. I then entered the banking office of Redmond and Company, Pine St., New York. Although my appearance in the financial district was immediately followed by a panic, I survived. I held this position for two years, seeing a great deal of Burden and John Montgomery, both hard-working members of this class. As literature caught me on the rebound from finance, I went into the book publishing business for a year. Owing to the avaricious tendency of authors, however, I concluded finally to begin again, so in 1910, after having done a little extra studying in the summer, I entered the law office of Carter, Ledyard and Milburn. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 54 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 56 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

CLARENCE DIVOLL PROCTOR

I received my A.B. degree in 1905, as of 1906. The following September I went into the employ of Eastman and Pease, engineers and contractors. I remained with this company, now H. T. Eastman and Company, until very recently. I am now my own boss, but I am earnestly seeking another. Permanent address: 102 East Broadway, Derry Village, N. H.

HARRY SARGEANT QUACKENBUSH

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Quackenbush, 33 Forest Street, Schenectady, N. Y. He was born at Mohawk, N. Y., in 1881. At the age of sixteen he was graduated from the Union Classical Institute, Schenectady, N. Y. At Harvard he pursued the sciences with unusual scholastic distinction. He was graduated S.B. with the class of 1906. After graduation he spent some time in Oklahoma. Later he became affiliated with the Bureau of Standards at the national capital. He wrote several important engineering articles in the Harvard Engineering Journal and other technical magazines. Despite his youth he gained recognition through scientific investigation and had devised a method for measuring the radius of the earth, which is now being used at the Smithsonian Institution. Before going with the Bureau of Standards at Washington, he spent a year with the Western Electric Company, New York City, and a short time with the General Electric Company, at Schenectady, N. Y. He was interested in illuminating engineering and electric lighting problems. A deep interest and a desire to specialize in those problems brought him to a position in one of the sections of the Photometric division of the Bureau, under the direction of Dr. G. W. Middlekauff. It is the duty of this section to prepare the standard incandescent electric lamps required for the work being carried on at the Bureau, for other governmental departments and for commercial concerns and scientific institutions throughout the country. His progressive nature introduced many methods and devices which helped to increase the efficiency of the work of the section. He died of typhoid fever at the Garfield Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C., July 16, 1911.

WILLIAM ALONZO QUIGLEY, JR.

I left college at the end of my sophomore year. My first position was in a large dry goods house in Boston, where I stayed six months. I next went on the road as New England representative for a New York house. In July, 1905, I went to New York, where I have settled permanently. I am now general representative for a large company manufacturing women's clothing. I have occasion to visit all the large middle western cities, as well as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. I generally meet some old classmate in all of these cities. Many and many a good laugh comes from talking over the old days back at Cambridge. Since my marriage I have been living in New York. I was married December 30, 1908, to Margaret E. Cornell, at Roxbury, Mass. Business address: 87 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 605 West 144th St., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM BELL RAMSAY

I spent merely one year at Harvard, to which I transferred from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., in the fall of 1903. I then resumed newspaper work in Sharon. Another year spent in this city in the most fascinating "game" in the world was followed by about two years and a half on the Gazette Times in Pittsburgh. For this paper I "covered" the Legislative inquiry into the capitol "graft" scandal at Harrisburg, where $4,000,000 was spent for the building and $9,000,000 for "furnishings," a detail which brought prison sentences for the architect, former state officials and several contractors. With the idea of returning to Sharon to establish a newspaper of my own, I switched from the Gazette Times to the Philadelphia Press, when the inquiry was about half concluded, in order to secure the experience derived from working in different cities. In November, 1907, I returned to Sharon, where, with three associates, the Weekly Herald was purchased and a daily established in April, 1909. As the venture has prospered, it seems altogether likely that I will round out my days with this "child," the like of which nine-tenths of the city newspaper men are desirous of possessing. Business address: 13 River St., Sharon, Pa. Present residence: 17½ Washington St., Sharon, Pa.

WILL WALLACE RAMSEY

I entered college at the beginning of 1903-1904 and left toward the end of the same year to return to Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., where I had previously spent one year. In 1905 the latter institution granted me the degree of A.B. I taught for one year at Roselle, N. J., then came to Perth Amboy, where I am now head of the mathematics department of the local high school. I was married July 7, 1908, to Laura Ernst, at Perth Amboy, N. J. Mary Christine, born June 25, 1911. Business address: High School, Perth Amboy, N. J. Present residence: 135 Paterson St., Perth Amboy, N. J.

ROLAND BRADBURY RAND

On June 1, 1906, I went to New York, where I was employed by the Western Electric Company. In February, 1907, I was transferred to the American Telephone Company in Boston. In July, 1907, I went to work with the Boston Elevated Railway, for whom I have since been transitman, draughtsman and assistant designing engineer on the Cambridge subway. I was married June 27, 1908, to Nellie Celynda Fuller, at Weston, Mass. Business address: 2 Central Square, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: Sudbury Road, Weston, Mass.

HOMER TAFT READ

Died at Savannah, Ga., on April 28, 1911, of typhoid malaria. He was born at Heath, Franklin County, Mass., on February 27, 1885. Four years later his family moved to Shelburne Falls, where he attended the grammar school, graduating in 1898. After a year spent in Denver, Colo., where he attended the high school, he entered the Newton High School, from which he entered college. While in college Read lived quietly and studied hard. Although he did not spend much time upon the so-called outside interests, he had a wide interest in them and a sound and independent judgment upon them. His vacations were passed on the Maine and Nova Scotia coasts, and in the hills of Massachusetts and New Hampshire. After graduation he spent the summer in California and then entered the Biltmore Forest School at Asheville, N. C., from which he was graduated in 1908. Two years later he received the degree of Forest Engineer, a distinction awarded only after practical work in the field, and the highest honor conferred by the Biltmore School. During 1908-1910 Read, then associated with the firm of C. A. Schenck and Company, of Asheville, worked in the mountains of Tennessee and the Carolinas, gathering data for smelter damage suits of the Tennessee Copper Company. At the same time he contributed upon subjects connected with his profession to the "Metallurgical and Chemical Engineering Journal," and to various lumber publications. In the spring of 1910, after another visit to California, Read organized the firm of Burton, Read and Company, which took over the forest engineering business of C. A. Schenck and Company, and continued until February, 1911, when the firm was dissolved by the death of the senior partner, and Read accepted the position with the Robert Sizer Timber Company which he held up to the time of his death. His death resulted from the illness contracted while estimating timber in the swamps of Georgia. Read married Julia S. Penniman, of Asheville, September 25, 1909. A son, Stephen William Taft, was born July 7, 1910, and a posthumous daughter, Julia Taft, September 28, 1911.

CARROLL ROSCOE REED

I completed at mid-years the work for my degree. I immediately accepted a position as head of the science department in the high school at Le Roy, N. Y. In September, 1906, I went to Rumford Falls, Me., as principal of a grammar school; I lived there a year. In 1907 I became principal at Marlboro, Mass., leaving in February, however, to accept the principalship of a large grammar school in East Providence, R. I. After serving as principal for a year I was elected superintendent of schools. I served in that capacity until August, 1911, when I became supervising principal of schools in West Newton. While I was in Rhode Island I was president of the elementary school section of the State Teachers' Association. I was also a delegate from Rhode Island to national superintendents' meetings at Indianapolis and Mobile. I was married June 26, 1906, to Marion W. Gould, at Malden, Mass. Member: National Education Association, Rhode Island Education Association. Business address: Peirce School, West Newton, Mass. Present residence: 22 Regent St., West Newton, Mass.

WILLIAM GARDNER REED

After my freshman year I left college for three years, during which I was employed in the purchasing department of the United Shoe Machinery Company, Boston. In the fall of 1906 I entered the sophomore class, receiving my degree in 1909, as of 1906. For two years after graduation I studied geology and economics in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; I received the degree of A.M. in June, 1911. I have been teaching since the fall of 1907, when I was appointed assistant in geography in the Teachers' School of Science, now under the department of University Extension; I held this office for four years. From 1908 to 1911 I was an assistant in physiography, and from 1909 to 1911 in meteorology. I was a proctor from 1909 to 1911. Since July, 1911, I have been an instructor in climatology in the University of California. I have made two foreign trips, the first with the Harvard Summer School of Geography to central France, in 1908; the second a voyage around South America, from May to September, 1910. During the latter trip I stopped at some of the more important cities of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, returning to New York by the west coast of South America and the Canal Zone. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Development of Nantasket Beach," Journal of Geology, 1910; "South American Rainfall Types," Quarterly Journal of the Royal Meteorological Society, 1910; "The Study of Phenomenal Climatology," "Cyclonic Distribution of Rainfall," in the United States Monthly Weather Review, 1911. Member: American Association for the Advancement of Science, Seismological Society of America, Appalachian Mountain Club. Business address: University of California, Berkeley, Cal. Present residence: 2611 Durant Ave., Berkeley, Cal.

ANDRE NICHOLAS REGGIO

I spent five years in Cambridge in the study of architecture and landscape architecture, receiving in 1907 the degree of S.B. In the spring of 1908 I went for two months to Italy, Germany, and England. Since then I have been draughtsman, designer and superintendent of buildings for Little and Browne, architects. In the fall of 1908 and the spring of 1909 I went with the American lawn tennis team on a tour around the world. I visited Hawaii, Fiji, Australia, Ceylon, India, Arabia, Egypt, Italy, France and England. The tour extended over a period of six months, after which I re-entered the office of Little and Browne. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston, Longwood Cricket Club, Oakley Country Club, University Club of Boston. Business address: 70 Kilby St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 333 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM DUNCAN REID

After finishing my course in 1905, I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I was graduated in 1909. From

LESTER GEORGE RICHARDSON

Upon graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I spent the summer travelling in England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. Until 1909 I then taught physics and chemistry in the Leominster, Mass., High School. In 1909 I accepted my present position, that of teacher of physics in the new Haverhill High School. I have passed my summers on Casco Bay. Member: Agawam Club, Merrimack Valley Country Club, Wilder Lodge of Masons. Present residence: 701 Mammoth Road, Dracut, Mass.

ARTHUR LE ROY RISLEY

I received my degree in 1907, as of 1906. In the fall of 1906 I started work with Gunn, Richards and Company of New York, public accountants and production engineers, where I remained until 1909. I then became connected in Boston with Walter L. Boyden, 1887, later the firm of Boyden and Steacie, certified public accountants. In June, 1910, I passed the Massachusetts state examination for public accountants. I was married December 21, 1907, to Lillian Marion Newell, at Boston, Mass. William Edward, 2d, born January 8, 1912. Business address; 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. Present residence:: 33 Kent Square, Brookline, Mass.

ELLIOTT BEEBE ROBBINS

Since leaving college in the spring of 1905, I have devoted the greater part of my time to the lumber business. In January, 1912, I started in for myself. I was married December 17, 1907, to Helen E. Warren, at New York, N. Y. Elliott Warren, born July 12, 1910. Business address; 324 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 105 Colchester St., Brookline, Mass.

ARCHIBALD WALDO ROBERTS

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I secured the principalship of the Kennebunk High School, Kennebunk, Me. The following year I was elected to fill a vacancy in the high school of my native city, Biddeford, where I have been laboring now for six years. It is my desire in a year or two to study for the legal profession, in which my father is engaged here. I was married September 3, 1907, to Maude B. Kember, at Biddeford, Me. Reginald Francis, born June 22, 1908; Chandler Kember, born January 22, 1910. Present residence: 98 Graham St., Biddeford, Me.

STANLEY WELLINGTON ROBERTS

He was born in Lynn, Mass., May 25, 1882, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Roberts. Mr. Roberts attended the Boston Latin School for two years and afterwards continued his studies in the Somerville Latin School, from which he graduated in 1902 with high honors. He then entered Harvard University, from which institution he was graduated in June, 1906. The following autumn he began his professional studies in Rochester Theological Seminary. After one year in that school he went to Union Theological Seminary, New York City, where he gave a good account of himself and was deservedly popular among his fellow students. Mr. Roberts graduated from Union in May, 1909, and was planning to take a graduate course in theology the following year. He was a thorough student and gave promise of a brilliant career in his chosen calling. He was a young man of high aims and noble Christian character. He was profoundly interested in sociological questions and displayed unusual oratorical ability. He was a man of very great promise, noble in character, devout in spirit and keen in intellect. The death of Mr. Roberts was tragic and sublime. A friend with whom he was in bathing was caught in a strong undertow and called for help. Mr. Roberts at the risk of his own life hastened to his rescue and in the endeavor to save his friend sacrificed his own life. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man give his life for his friend."

PAUL CONVERSE ROCKWOOD

I left college at the end of my freshman year, after which I was employed, until November, 1904, by the National Shawmut Bank of Boston. From then until the summer of 1906 I was with A. W. Elson and Company of Boston. I then left to manufacture wooden pails in my home town, Ashburnham, Mass. Since 1908, when I returned to Boston, I have been with A. W. Elson and Company. Member: St. John's Lodge, Masons. Business address: 146 Oliver St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 19 Myrtle St., Boston, Mass. Permanent address: Ashburnham, Mass.

WILLIAM EGBERT ROLLO

I left college at Christmas of my sophomore year, on account of eye trouble. I afterwards spent one year at Northwestern University, although I received no degree. From then until July, 1911, I was interested in fire insurance, which I then gave up to enter the bond business as Chicago representative of J. U. Wright and Company of Denver. I was married, September 15, 1908, to Louise Overbagh, at Chicago, Ill. William Egbert, Jr., born June 2, 1910. Member: Harvard Club of Chicago. Business address: 20 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 4546 Clarendon Ave., Chicago, Ill.

FREDERICK DODDS ROSE

After finishing my course in February, 1906, I travelled for the remainder of the year. I then began work in the Union National Bank of Muncie, Ind. In 1907 I spent abroad a few months following my marriage. In 1908 I left the bank to work as an automobile and real estate agent. In January, 1910, however, I again became assistant cashier of the Union National Bank, of which I was made cashier in 1912. I am now holding this position. I was married October 23, 1907, to Mary Gladys Walcott, at Indianapolis, Ind. Theodore Frelinghuysen, born August 25, 1908; Walcott, born September 28, 1910. Business address: Union National Bank, Muncie, Ind. Present residence: 616 East Main St., Muncie, Ind.

KENSETT ROSSITER

I left college in June, 1904. After spending some time in Europe, I returned to the United States, where I took up my residence in Denver, Colo. For the past five years I have been engaged in agricultural pursuits in California. I was married December 4, 1906, to Marguerite Pratt, at Omaha, Neb. Marcia, born December 1, 1911. Present residence: Norwalk, Cal.

EDWARD ROTH, JR.

In the fall of 1906 I went back to college, spending the summer in Germany, Austria, France, Switzerland, Italy, Holland and England. On my return in September I began work in the engineering department of the Boston Elevated Railroad. In February, 1908, however, I returned to college to study mining. I was next employed by the ordnance department of the United States Army as metallurgist at Watertown. In 1909-1910 I was again a student in the Graduate School of Applied Science. In June, 1910, I accepted a commission as lieutenant in the coast artillery corps of the United States Army. From August until June I was stationed at Fort Monroe for the preliminary course of instruction. I am now post quartermaster and commissary at Fort Strong, Boston Harbor. Member: Fort Monroe Officers' Club, Army and Navy Club of Washington. Business address: Fort Strong, Boston Harbor, Mass. Permanent address: Vineyard Haven, Mass.

HENRY HOSIE ROWLAND

During my senior year, as I was on leave of absence, I attended the Rochester Theological Seminary. From May, 1906, until October, 1907, I was assistant to the pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Rochester. From

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

October, 1907, until June, 1909, I taught Latin and Greek in Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, N. Y. In the summer of 1908 I made an eight weeks' visit to Europe, taking in the Olympic games. All this time I kept up my athletics as a member of the Rochester Y. M. C. A. In the fall of 1909 I entered the middle class of the Union Theological Seminary, graduating in May, 1911. At the same time I took graduate work in Columbia University, receiving an A.M. degree there in June, 1911. During my second year in Columbia I was a member of the cross-country team and the track team. In the summer of 1910 I was summer pastor of two little churches at Lake Clear and Harriestown in the Adirondaeks. In the spring of 1911 I was appointed a missionary to China under the Methodist Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions. The day after my marriage we left for China, where we are now stationed at Changli, North China, about one hundred and forty miles northeast of Tientsin. In October, 1911, I received full orders in the Genesee Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. I was married August 9, 1911, to Mildred May Ament, at Gorham, N. Y. Business address: Changli-hsien, North China. Present residence: Changli-hsien, North China.

HENRY ESMOND ROWLEY

Although I completed my college course in three years, I took my degree with the class. I first spent two years in Keene, N. H., where I was in the wholesale grocery business. I next came to Boston to enter the employ of S. S. Pierce Company, where I have been ever since assistant manager of the cigar department. Every winter my business takes me to Havana, Cuba. Member: Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 69 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 80 Mason Terrace, Brookline, Mass.

I am a lawyer. I was married January 22, 1909, to Emma Sargent Russell, at New York, N. Y. David, born December 5, 1909. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 2 Rector St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 203 West 87th St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES TRIPP RYDER

After graduating in 1910 from the Harvard Medical School, I spent the summer in Europe. I then became an Austin Teaching Fellow in comparative pathology under Dr. Theobald Smith. In January, 1911, I was obliged to discontinue my work on account of sickness. Since May, 1911, I have been at Saranac Lake, N. Y. Member: Boylston Medical Club. Present residence: 16 Helen St., Saranac Lake, N. Y. Permanent address: 148 Main St., Andover, Mass.

WILLIAM SABINE

When I pried my sheepskin from the college in June, 1906, I had a year at the Law School to my credit. In order that this should not be wasted, I added two more, getting a second degree in 1908. That summer I got a job with one of the big law firms in Boston, earning almost enough to pay for my lunches, provided I ate a big breakfast. At the end of a year my services were so highly appreciated that I was still in the firm's employ; nevertheless I found dinner just as welcome. I pass over the period till June, 1910, which covers a sad bereavement, caused by the loss of my appendix, the acquisition of some law, which always changed just as I was about to get a point, and a trip to England, lasting three weeks less forty-five minutes. In June aforesaid I took charge of the office of the Boston Legal Aid Society, where I shall be till July 1 of this year. Member: Economic Club, Boston Bar Association, American Bar Association. Business address: 39 Court St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 30 Irving St., Brookline, Mass.

WINSLOW FRANCIS SAMPSON

I was graduated in 1909, as of 1906. An account of my life since then would be very monotonous, as I am still serving an apprenticeship of four years, which I began at that time. I was appointed a special apprentice in the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, for which I am now working at the shops in Altoona, Pa. I still have one year and five months to serve. Member: University Club of Altoona, Altoona Cricket Club, Altoona Railroad Club of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Business address: Care of Master Mechanic, Altoona Machine Shops, Pennsylvania Railroad, Altoona, Pa. Present residence: 1211 14th Ave., Altoona, Pa. THEODORE FISKE SAVAGE

During the year after leaving college, I was assistant minister of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church in New York. I then took a fifteen months' trip around the world, visiting most of the countries of Asia, the Philippines, Egypt, Palestine and Europe. On my return to New York I entered the Union Theological Seminary, where I took the full course of three years, graduating in 1911. During this time I acted as assistant minister of the Clinton Avenue Congregational Church of Brooklyn. In my summer vacations I had charge of churches in Hillsboro, N. H., and Carbondale, Pa. After graduating from the Seminary I was called to the pastorate of Christ Presbyterian Church in New York. The church, which is in the midst of poor tenements, carries on a very large institutional work. Our church house is one of the largest in the country; it maintains a large staff of expert workers who carry on the social, educational and athletic work of a settlement house, besides the more distinctively religious work of a church. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 344 West 36th St., New York, N. Y.

EDWARD EVERETT SAVORY

I was admitted to Harvard College in 1901 as a special student. In 1902 I left college to take a position with the Alpha Portland Cement Company, with which I have been connected ever since. I furnished the cement for the Stadium and for the colonnade completed last year. I was married April 8, 1903, to Lida May Ross, at Newtonville, Mass. Robert Sinclair, born January 11, 1904; Richard Everett, born November 11, 1907. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Newton Boat Club, Northgate Club of Newton, Union League of New Haven, Masons. Business address: 522 Board of Trade Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 94 Harvard St., Newtonville, Mass.

FREDERIC HAYWARD SAWYER

In 1907 I received the degree of A.M. During the fall of 1907 I substituted in the Cambridge English High School and the Malden High School. From January to June, 1908, I taught physics in the Fitchburg High School. I was then appointed instructor in science in the Rindge Technical School, Cambridge, where in September, 1909, I became head of the department of science. In October, 1909, I was made instructor in charge of the electrical department at the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association Evening Trade School. I am still filling both of the latter positions. Member: American Association for the Advancement of Science, Eastern Association of Physics Teachers. Business address: Rindge Technical School, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 16 Sparhawk St., Boston, Mass.

HENRY BRAY SAWYER

As I had taken my degree at mid-year, 1906, I spent the remainder of the term in the Graduate School. During the summer I decided not to return for my Master's degree. In September, 1906, I entered the employ of Luce and Manning, wool dealers, to learn the business. I stayed with them until September, 1908, when I started in on my own account, associating myself with Frank R. Peters, with whom I am now located at 246 Summer St., Boston. I was married April 22, 1909, to Madeline W. Barstow, at Melrose, Mass. Margaret Barrett, born May 2, 1911. Business address: 246 Summer St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 11 Warren St., Winchester, Mass.

ALBERT ADAM SCHAEFER

I don't see how I can be expected to give a connected, unexpurgated narrative of my life in the short space allotted to me, for I have no desire to make any invidious distinctions by seeming to discriminate among the many notable things I have accomplished. If it were possible, I should take each individual member of the class into my confidence and dis-embosom myself. I am advised by counsel, however, that I ought not to say anything that might incriminate me. Then, too, I do not want to engender the bitter feelings of envy and jealousy, which I know my all too apparent greatness would arouse. Those who knew me at college will not be surprised to learn that I am still at the bar. In 1909 I was ejected from the Harvard Law School burdened with my second degree, and in the same year I managed to evade the Massachusetts Bar Examiners. At the present writing disbarment proceedings have not yet been instituted. To those who doubt that I am still as successful as ever, I extend a cordial invitation to call at 60 State Street. I know the cutest little place around the corner you ever saw. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Masons. Business address: 60 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 18 Trowbridge St., Cambridge, Mass.

WALTER HENRY SCHMIDT

History and political science work for my A.M. degree was completed during my senior year at college. I received my A.B. degree in 1906 and my A.M. in 1907. In the summer of 1906, I entered the employ of the City Bottling Works, of Toledo, manufacturers of mineral waters and vinegar. In December, 1910, I assumed the management of the works, a position I am now holding. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Toledo Club of Toledo. Business address: City Bottling Works, Toledo, O. Present residence: 719 Michigan St., Toledo, O.

OLIVER JAMES SCHOONMAKER

I entered college in my junior year. After travelling through Europe in the summer of 1906, I went in the fall to Beirut, Turkey, where I taught for a year in the American College. The following summer also I devoted to travel, returning to teach history and English in the Moses Brown

CHRISTOPHER PEARSE SCOTT

I left Harvard in 1906 after mid-year. For eight months I worked in the shops of the Northern Pacific Railroad at South Tacoma, Wash. I then moved to Spokane, Wash., where, after firing a locomotive for three days, I got into a wreck which laid me up for a year, during which I travelled through the east. In January, 1908, I accepted a position at Cliffs, Wash., as storekeeper for the St. Paul and Southern Railway Company. In February, 1909, I was made division accountant at Portland, Ore. In October, 1911, I left the railroad, and I am now in the brokerage business, handling fruit produce and groceries. I was married June 25, 1910, to Julia Reichmann, at Chicago, Ill. Business address: 201 Washington St., Portland, Ore. Present residence: 411 Halsey St., Portland, Ore.

OTTO HENRY SEIFFERT

Until my marriage in January, 1910, I was in the lumber business. I then went abroad on my honeymoon, visiting Spain, Italy, France, Austria, Germany and England. Upon my return, six months later, I went into the Moline Plow Company, in which I am now junior member of the trade department. I am also secretary of H. O. Seiffert Lumber Company of Davenport, Ia., and director of the State Savings Bank and Trust Company of Moline, Ill. I was married January 20, 1910, to Marjorie Stephens Allen, at Moline, Ill. THOMAS EDWARD SHAUGHNESSY

He was born in Roxbury, Mass., May 14, 1884. He attended the Quiney Primary School for two years and at this early age displayed marked industry and scholarship. When he was seven years of age, the family moved to Concord,

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

Mass. Here he went through the several primary and grammar grades and entered the Concord High School at the age of thirteen. During these six years he endeared himself to teachers and classmates alike. This fact has been abundantly testified to during his lifetime and since his death. He graduated from the high school in 1901 "cum laude" and took the post-graduate course the following year, receiving honors. He entered Harvard in September, 1902, and during his freshman and sophomore years displayed good scholarship and industry and would in all probability have completed the course in his junior year. In September, 1904, just on the eve of his entering the junior year, he was stricken with appendicitis and after an operation from which he did not recover, he died September 18, at the age of twenty years, four months and four days. From his earliest years, he showed remarkable industry, selling newspapers and doing other work during his primary and grammar school years. During the school vacation in his last high school year and his first college year, he was the ticket agent for the Boston and Maine Railroad at the Camp ground in Old Orchard, Me. In his sophomore year at Harvard, he took the civil service examination at the Boston Post Office and easily headed a list of hundreds of applicants. He was appointed early in July and worked early and late at his task. This, no doubt, contributed to his illness. At the funeral the college was represented by Dean Hurlbut, it being vacation time at college. "From his childhood he has been an earnest boy. He was always industrious; always looking for a chance to be as useful as possible. It was like him to undertake the business of distributing daily papers, even when he was very young. This was confining and the pay was of course small, but that did not hinder him from doing the work, and what he did he did well. The paper itself was all the more acceptable in the house, when left at the door by such a boy as he. He was ambitious, and early had his mind set upon going to college. He entered Harvard with the best wishes and expectations of his teachers and friends. His name was on the honor records of the college when the fatal illness came. A remarkable thing about this young man was his uniformly gentlemanly behavior. From a boy this was characteristic of him. In regard to dignified, manly and courteous address, he was mature almost from his childhood. He died from a severe surgical operation. He had been sensible himself that he was going, and spoke with his father and mother with great composure and thoughtfulness about it. Many of the arrangements which he made, and the bestowals of the things belonging to him, were exceedingly pathetic. All the neighbors, without exception, mourn for him. The floral offerings sent to his home were so numerous that the house seemed not to have room for so many. Such a death as this is not what we sometimes think death to be. Tommy lives now, not only in the mysterious life to which he has gone, but he lives here, in the lives of multitudes who knew his ideals and standards, and are influenced by them today, and will continue to be."

WALTER FRANCIS SHEA

He was born in that part of Boston, formerly Dorchester, December 11, 1884, and died in Boston, Mass., by accident on May 28, 1910, being twenty-five years and five months old. In childhood, with his family, he became a resident of Malden, Mass., where he attended the public schools, graduating from the high school in 1902. He entered Harvard College and remained with his class but one year on account of an accident nearly fatal in May, which prevented him from taking the final examinations, and impaired his health for a time. After a year of travel he entered St. Francis Xavier College, N. S., accepting at the same time a position to teach in the preparatory school. He took his degree with the class of 1907. Always interested in journalism he accepted a position on the Springfield Union, and later filled editorial positions on Holyoke and New Haven newspapers. At the time of his death he was with the Boston Herald. Mr. Shea was much interested in his profession and had a promising future open to him. He had done good work in his line, and had also taken up outside writing with success. Possessed of splendid health and handsome and manly appearance, he had a personality which won him many friends. That he lived a clean and unblemished life was testified after his death by many strangers to his family who knew him in the different cities where he had been engaged in his work. Had he not been cut down ruthlessly in his young manhood, he would had been a credit to his class and an ornament to his profession.

REGINALD HERBERT SHELDON

After leaving college I entered the electrical contracting business. For the past three years I have been engaged in the construction of electric and gas plants for Stone and Webster, by whom I am employed as engineer and superintendent of construction. Business address: 147 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: North Chelmsford, Mass.

OTIS NORTON SHEPARD

After finishing my course in February of my senior year, I travelled with my roommate, Arthur Perry, Jr., over a good part of Europe and around the Mediterranean Sea. I returned in June to take my degree with the class. I then went into the wholesale lumber business with my father. At present I am a salesman in New York, where I have been for the past five years. Much to my regret I could not return for the Triennial. I hope, however, to get back this spring. I was married November 17, 1909, to Gladys L. Peck, at West Haverstraw, N. Y. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 17 West 42d St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 11 West 8th St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: Care of Shepard and Morse Lumber Company, Box 5297, Boston, Mass.

RALPH ATHERTON SHEPARD

In my third year I left college to go to Bermuda and Porto Rico. I then entered the lumber business. The following year with a party I visited Spain, Italy, Turkey, parts of Africa, Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Switzerland, France and England. On my return I became a salesman for the Shepard and Morse Lumber Company. About two years later I was made one of their Canadian buyers. I am a very small stockholder in the concern. For the last two years I have also acted as agent for the Western New York Nursery Company of Rochester. I was married June 11, 1907, to Inez Whelan, at Ottawa, Canada. Hume G., born

EVERETT GILMAN SHERWIN

After receiving my degree in 1905, as of 1906, I sought an opportunity to teach English. As I had specialized in no subject except animal psychology, I could receive no recommendation from the department of English. Undiscouraged, however, I joined ten teachers' agencies, without securing an appointment; all schools desired a teacher with experience. To obtain this I finally became principal of the high school in a bleak little New Hampshire town situated "eleven miles from Keene, eleven miles from Bellows Falls and eleven miles from Brattleboro." Its location was given more vividly by a perspicacious revivalist, who announced that it was located "an infinite distance from God and civilization, and only forty feet from Hell." Before the end of the first two terms of school, I found that he grossly overestimated the latter distance. In February, 1906, I eagerly seized a chance to escape to a private school in Concord, Mass., where I received valuable experience in dealing with boys. I also won a letter of recommendation which gave me this high praise: "In time Mr. Sherwin will, I feel confident, prove an excellent teacher." As this failed to inspire in school committees a passionate desire for my services, I threw it away, depending solely upon my own convincing account of my ability. In this way I secured an appointment as teacher of English in the high school at Spencer, Mass. Here I remained two years, thoroughly enjoying my work and my relations with the people of the town. Terming myself, on the strength of this experience, a "specialist in English," I became, in September, 1908, head of the department of English in the famous Edward Little High School in Auburn, Me. In Auburn I had a more delightful experience even than in Spencer. I remained until March, 1911, when I accepted a position as teacher of English in the South High School of Worcester, Mass. Before leaving Auburn, however, I had announced my engagement to an Auburn girl. After a honeymoon during the summer of 1911, in Canada and in camp on Lake Champlain, we made our home in Worcester, where I am still teaching. I was married June 28, 1911, to Ruth Strickland Morse, at Auburn, Me. Business address: South High School, Worcester, Mass. Present residence: 12 Lowell St., Worcester, Mass.

FRANKLIN EDGAR SHIRK

At the end of my sophomore year, much to my regret, it became necessary to relinquish college life at Cambridge and leave unattained my ambition to become a Harvard graduate. This disappointment, however, was soon forgotten in the interest and pleasure incurred by my motive in leaving, that of assisting and relieving my father of the responsibilities of a business which he had maintained since its establishment in 1874. Since the summer of 1904 I have done the most natural thing, stuck to business, peddling everything in hardware, with the result that our business has continued to grow. With the Shirk Hardware Company I now hold the positions of director and treasurer. In the little time which I have had away from business I have seen much of our western and northwestern states. In 1909 I was honored by Governor Marshall with an appointment as delegate to the National Irrigation Conference at Spokane, Wash. I afterwards went on to Seattle and sailed for Alaska, where I spent a most pleasurable thirty days' hunting trip. My simple life has been spent in single blessedness. As this secluded bachelorhood, I am told, is not conducive to the highest achievements in life, it is with no small pride that I announce the event of events which will have occurred ere this report is read. I shall be married June 5, 1912, to Helen B. Matthews, at Muncie, Ind. On June 6 we leave for a motor honeymoon. Our itinerary includes Boston and the 1906 sexennial. Member: F. A. WALTER MAX SHOHL

As I obtained leave of absence for my senior year, I entered the Harvard Law School, taking my A.B. degree in 1906 with the class. During my third year at the Law School I was appointed assistant to Professor Taussig in the Department of Economics, a position which I held until my graduation in 1908. I then returned to Cincinnati, where I began the general practice of law. In 1912 I became a member of the firm of Dinsmore and Shohl. Member: University Club of Cincinnati, Harvard Club of Cincinnati. Business address: 50 Atlas Bank Building, Cincinnati, O. Present residence: 714 South Crescent Ave., Cincinnati, O.

HAROLD ROBERT SHURTLEFF

After visiting the Pacific coast during 1906-1907, I studied architecture for two years at Harvard University. I then became an architectural draughtsman in Boston. For a year I have been in Paris studying architecture. I am now in Italy, although I expect to return home in the latter part of March. Present address: 33 Green St., Concord, N. H.

HOWARD FRANK SHURTLEFF

After receiving my Master's degree in 1907, I went to Ripon College, Ripon, Wis., as professor of English composition. From February, 1911, until February, 1912, I engaged in editorial work and farming. I then came to the Hartford Public High School as substitute head of the English department. I was married July 31, 1907, to Minnie Adams Wilson, at Springfield, Mass. Caroline, born May 21, 1908; Jean, born June 24, 1910. JAMES HORWITZ SILVER

After taking my degree I went abroad for five months, visiting England, France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. The trip included also an excursion across the Mediterranean to Tunis. On my return to the United States I lived for about two years and a half in Chicago, dabbling in railroad work and in advertising. I then returned to Cleveland, where I am now employed as a travelling salesman by M. T. Silver and Company, manufacturers of ladies' clothing. Business address: Care of M. T. CARROLL NINDE SMITH

I spent at Harvard the year 1904-1905 after three years' study at the University of Minnesota. During the summer and winter of 1905-1906 I combined business with work at the University of Minnesota, receiving my A.B. degree there in 1906. The following summer and fall I passed abroad with Albert C. Koch, tramping a distance of two thousand miles through England and across the continent, a trip replete with pleasant experiences. In 1907 I entered the lum-

In July, 1911, I accepted a position with the Plimpton Press, Norwood, Mass., where I am assistant in the application of "scientific management" to the business. I was married November 17, 1909, to Agnes Lathrop, at Fall River, Mass. Member: Boy Scouts of America. Business address: Care of Plimpton Press, Norwood, Mass. Present residence: 185 Vernon St., Norwood, Mass. Permanent address: 71 Belmont St., Fall River, Mass.

HAROLD CROCKER SMITH

In my sophomore year I entered Harvard from Technology, where I had spent the previous year. In the summer of 1906 I started work at the Saco and Pettee Machine Shops at Newton Upper Falls, where I stayed for but nine months. In September, 1907, I took a year's course at the Bradford Durfee Textile School, Fall River, in the manufacture of cotton cloth. The following summer I was employed in the card room of Granite Mill No. 3. Thereafter I worked successively in the Lincoln, Arkwright, Hargraves, Weetamoe and Granite mills. For the last fourteen months I have been with the Heywood Narrow Fabric Company, where I am at present in charge of the carding and spinning department. Member: Fall River Golf Club. Business address: Heywood Narrow Fabric Company, 7 Portland St., Fall River, Mass. Present residence: 150 Rock St., Fall River, Mass.

HAROLD WATSON SMITH

In 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, where I remained for one year. In 1907 I accepted a position in New York with the Celluloid Company, where I stayed until 1911. I then went with the Diamond Rubber Company. For a year I was located at their New York branch. Since the spring of 1912, however, I have been working for them in Akron, O. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Care of Diamond Rubber Company, Akron, O. Present residence: 258 East Market St., Akron, O. Permanent address: 938 Middle St., Bath, Me.

HARRY LYNCH SMITH

After leaving college at the close of 1902-1903 my most important position was as clerk and assistant to John L. Moore, undertaker, Pittsburgh, Pa.; I was with him for five years. I am now in business for myself, manufacturing models, repairing machinery, etc. I was married March 23, 1907, to Carrie Mae Anderson, at Youngstown, O. Sarrah Ellen, born September 18, 1908; Harry Lynch, born April 11, 1910. Business address: 92 Hazelwood Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

ROBERT LAWRENCE SMITH

Immediately after graduation I accepted a position at Ashland, Me., in one of the largest lumber mills of the state. My experience there was in marked contrast to city life, as I was obliged to "rough it" for nearly two years. It is needless to say that I saw lots of snow and cold weather. Early in 1908, partly because of the so-called panic of 1907 and partly because there was slight chance of advancement, I left Ashland and the lumber business. During the spring and for a portion of the summer I worked in the Massachusetts Forestry Department, where Cook, 1906, was assistant state forester. As I finally decided to undertake the library profession, for which I had had some training, I took the civil service examination for the position of branch librarian in the Brooklyn Public Library. This I passed, but as there was no vacancy, my name was placed on the eligible list. I accordingly accepted the position of first assistant in one of the largest branches. This position I held until June, 1909, when I was appointed assistant reference librarian of the whole library system, a position which I now hold. I expect to remain here in New York for a few years more. Member:

ROBERT NEWKIRK SMITHER

Following my graduation I became connected with the General Electric Company, Pittsfield, Mass. I remained there, first in the student course, then in the engineering department, until 1908, when I became eastern manager for Charles Morningstar and Company of New York. I also acted in the capacity of vice-president of Smither, Thurstone and Company of Buffalo. I have recently become identified with the Lymanville Company of Providence, with mills at Centerdale, R. I. My summer address is Manchester, Mass. I was married February 15, 1909, to Harriet Roberts Peck, at Woonsocket, R. I. Robert Challenor, born February 8, 1910; Catherine Newkirk, born June 8, 1911. Business address: Lymanville Company, Providence, R. I. Present residence: Fruit Hill Ave., Centerdale, Providence, R. I.

CHESTER SNOW

I entered Harvard in the fall of 1903. From 1906 to 1911 I was professor of physics in Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. Since then I have been professor of mathematics there. I was married August, 1906, to May Maughan, at Logan, Utah. Chester Weston, born April 10, 1908. Business address: Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. Present residence: 632 North 3d St., Provo, Utah.

JUNIUS PRENTISS SOKOLL

At the close of my junior year I left college, receiving my degree in 1906. After two years in the Harvard Law School, I became manager for my father, E. J. Sokol, caterer. I am still engaged in this capacity. Member: Harvard Club of Fall River. Business address: 32 North Main St., Fall River, Mass. Present residence: 633 Second St., Fall River, Mass.

AUGUSTUS WHITEMORE SOULE

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906. The day after Class Day I sailed with my brother for Europe, where I spent three months; we visited Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, England and Scotland. In September, 1905, I moved from New York to Brookline, Mass., entering the office of Blodget and Company, bankers, Boston. In April, 1908, I went "on the road" for them, selling bonds in New York, Rhode Island and New Hampshire; this is my present occupation. In September, 1910, I attended the American Bankers' Association convention at Los Angeles, Cal., returning up the Pacific coast and through the Canadian Rockies. In October, 1911, I moved from Brookline to my present address in Boston. Member: Oakley Country Club, Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 60 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 421 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass.

LAUNCELOT PHELPS SOULE

In July, 1906, I entered the office of Wrenn Brothers and Company, Boston, remaining there for two years. Then I spent a few months in the advertising department of the Boston Journal, shifting from there to the Beacon Trust Company, where I remained until October, 1910. I then came to Montague, Mass., to take up a position as manager of the Dyke Mill. As this proved unprofitable, I left and from October, 1911, until April, 1912, worked for the Millers Falls Company. At present I am managing the Montague Laundry. I was married August 22, 1911, to Doris Hill, at Jamaica Plain, Mass. Member: Montague Club. Business address: Montague, Mass.

WINSOR SOULE

As I finished my required number of courses at the end of my junior year, I was granted leave of absence for 1905-1906. Immediately after Class Day, 1905, my brother and I sailed for Europe on the Canopic, landing in Naples early in July. After travelling through Italy, Switzerland, parts of Germany and France, Belgium, Holland and England, we sailed from Liverpool in September. Upon my return I entered the third year of the architectural course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as I had taken enough architecture at Harvard to allow this advanced standing. In June, 1906, I returned to Harvard to receive my degree with the class. Directly after this I entered the office of Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson, architects, where I worked until Technology opened in the fall. After graduating in 1907 from Technology, I again entered Mr. Cram's office, remaining until June, 1908. I then received an exceptionally fine offer from Bryn Mawr College, which was about to build a new gymnasium. As there was dissatisfaction with the architects employed at the time, I was asked to make sketches, which were accepted. I at once left Mr. Cram and opened an office of my own, moving to Bryn Mawr in the fall to superintend the erection of the building. While there I also completed two houses for professors and a private cottage besides, starting sketches for the new infirmary which is now about to be erected. I then returned to Boston, entering the employ of Allen and Collens, architects, of whose buildings I superintended many. In December, 1911, on account of my wife's health, I left for a trip to the Pacific coast. I was married October 19, 1907, to Judith B. de Forest, at New York, N. Y. Business address: 40 Central St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 1571 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass.

THOMAS GAGER SPENCER

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. In the following June I accepted a position in the factory of the Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Manufacturing Company at Rochester, where I remained until January, 1906. I then installed for the company, first at Syracuse, N. Y., then at San Antonio, Tex. In July, 1906, I returned to Rochester, where in September, 1908, I became manager of the credit department. Since August, 1910, however, I have been assistant manager of the Hollister Builders' Supply Company at Rochester. I was married May 9, 1910, to Harriet Weed Hollister, at Rochester, N. Y. Thomas Dickinson, born August 15, 1911. Member: Genesee Valley Club of Rochester. Business address: 106 Central Building, Rochester, N. Y. Present residence: 9 Oliver St., Rochester, N. Y.

WILLIAM AMBROSE SPENCER

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906. The following year I was given an S.B. degree in electrical engineering. In August, 1906, I entered the employ of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company of Boston, where by transfer to different departments, I learned the telephone business. In September, 1907, as the engineering department, with which I was connected, moved to New York, I went there to live, working on toll line plant efficiency. In November, 1909, I joined the Michigan State Telephone Company, Detroit, Mich., a company at that time not under the control of the Bell system although coöperating with it. Here I was traffic supervisor, doing both engineering and operating work. In 1910 the American Telephone and Telegraph Company bought up the Michigan company, which in June, 1911, with all the other telephone companies in the states of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, was formed into one company with headquarters at Chicago. I was then made traffic chief of the Detroit district, a position I am now holding. Member: Country Club of Detroit, University Club of Detroit, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Care of Michigan State Telephone Company, 20 Clifford St., Detroit, Mich. Permanent address: 2 Craigie St., Cambridge, Mass.

RICHARD EVANS SPERRY

Although I completed in 1905 the requirements for my degree, I returned after one year's leave of absence to graduate with the class. Until March, 1907, I was employed by A. G. Spalding and Brothers of New York. As I was not satisfied there, however, I secured a position in the estimating department of the Bartlett, Hayward Company, general contractors for complete gas plants, with headquarters in Baltimore, Md. I was soon sent out to get experience on construction work. Since October, 1909, I have had charge of the construction work on various jobs in Chicago and New York. Member: Harvard Club of Chicago, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: Care of The Bartlett, Hayward Company, 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 601 West 137th St., New York, N. Y.

It was not until the close of the Summer School in 1909 that

HERBERT JOSEPH SPINDEN

I left Harvard. I was immediately sent into the southwest to study the Pueblo Indians for the American Museum of Natural History in New York. This field work, which lasted for eight months, included a trip to Yucatan and central Mexico. I then returned to New York, where I was made an assistant curator in charge of the archaeology and ethnology of the southwest, Mexico, and Central America. In September, 1910, I was sent to Mexico as delegate to the Congress of Americanists, which met at the capital during the Mexican Centennial. At this time I visited nearly all the ancient ruins of importance, doing further field work among the Pueblo Indians. I recently made a trip to Guatemala and Honduras, visiting the ancient Maya cities of Quirigua and Copan. At this writing I am again in the southwest, with headquarters at Albuquerque, N. M. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Nez Percé Indians," "Maya Art," miscellaneous articles. Member: Travellers' Club, Explorers' Club, Harvard Club of New York, American Ethnological Society, American Anthropological Society, American Folk-Lore Society. Business address: American Museum of Natural History, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 57 West 83d St., New York, N. Y.

ALBERT CLIFF SPROUL

For three years after leaving college I assisted in mentally shaping the youths of Tarrytown, N. Y., by injecting into them a certain amount of French and German. I then visited Paris, where I wandered around for three months. I did not speak a word of English while I was there; what I did speak is open to argument. After being "muttoned" in London for a couple of weeks, I returned to America. I might mention here that the American customs officers were the only ones during my entire trip who examined my baggage. Possibly the ungenerous may infer from that that my European trip was a failure, an inference which might be further strengthened by the fact that I decided to teach French no longer. Instead I became editor-in-chief of the Boston Literary Bulletin, as well as an active member of the society which promoted that publication. As I wished to broaden my scope nationally, I conducted a correspondence course in short story writing, supplementing my efforts with my critical and editorial work, in which I am at present engaged. I was married October 28, 1911, to Margaretha Brack, at Boston, Mass. Business address: Room 58, Emmes Building, Roxbury, Mass.

BEATON HALL SQUIRES

In the fall of 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, receiving my LL.B. degree in 1909. I then commenced the practice of law at 640 Tremont Building, Boston, where I still hang out my shingle. Member: City Club, Boston Press Club, Masons. Business address: 640 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: The Montague, Wellesley, Mass.

EDGAR STANTON, JR.

I received my degree in February, 1906, after having finished my course in 1905. Ever since then I have been in the employ of Stanton and Company, wholesale grocers, of which I am now treasurer. I was married December 30, 1907, to Harriet Rew, at Evanston, Ill. Edgar, 3d, born February 1, 1909; Francis, born April 17, 1910. Member: University Club of Chicago. Business address: 30 West Washington St., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: Winnetka, Ill.

RICHARD RUSSELL STANWOOD

After graduation I spent two years in the Graduate School of Applied Science, receiving the degree of Master in Architecture in June, 1908. In August of that year I went abroad. After a month's travel in England, I settled for the winter in Paris, where I studied architecture in the atelier of M. Duquesne. I also found opportunity for study of the architecture of northern France. Leaving Paris in June, 1909, I travelled for two months through Touraine, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and England, returning to America in September. From October, 1909, until August, 1911, I was associated with the firm of Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson, architects. I then withdrew to take care of my private practice. Present residence: 189 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass.

BARTON KINGMAN STEPHENSON

After leaving college I went into the foundry of the Griffin Car Wheel Company, where for two months I enjoyed for eight hours a day a temperature of 120°. In the fall I took up the selling end of the business, which I continued for five and a half years, covering the New England states, eastern Canada and New York City. After my marriage I moved to Winchester, Mass, which is now my home. I have kept up my athletics by bowling during the winter months and playing tennis and baseball during the summer. Our local team is composed of former and present Yale, Dartmouth and Harvard players. The most prominent of the latter was "Kal" McCall, 1909. In February of this year I changed my business to become Boston sales manager of the United States Printograph Company of La Crosse, Wis. The company manufactures a perfected multiple machine for duplicating real typewritten letters. I was married April 16, 1908, to Madge Condit Lovell, at West Newton, Mass. Nancy, born May 29, 1909. Member: Calumet Club of Winchester, Union League Club of New Haven, Harvard Club of Boston, New England Street Railway Club, New England Railroad Club. Business address: 157 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 79 Walnut St., Winchester, Mass.

S(OLOMON) WALTER STERN

After receiving my A.B. degree at Tulane University in 1905, I entered the senior class of Harvard College in the fall of the same year, getting an A.B. degree with the class of 1906. On leaving college I returned to New Orleans, where I entered the firm of Lehman, Stern and Company, Limited, cotton factors and commission merchants. On March 1, 1911, I was elected second vice-president of the company, an office which I still hold. I am on the board of governors of the Touro-Shakspeare Alms House and the executive board of the New Orleans Public School Alliance. I was married December 28, 1911, to Josephine Ella Mayer, at Chicago, Ill. Member: Louisiana Historical Society, Tulane University Society of Economics, Round Table Club. Business address: 839 Gravier St., New Orleans, La. Present residence: 5115 St. Charles Ave., New Orleans, La. Permanent address: Care of Lehman, Stern and Company, Limited, New Orleans, La.

JOHN BATTERSON STETSON, JR.

As I was taken ill in June, 1903, I obtained leave of absence for a year, which I spent in Arizona and New Mexico among the Apache, Havasupai, Hopi, Rio Grande and Navajo Indians. I therefore did not receive my degree until 1907. I then entered the John B. Stetson Company, manufacturers of felt hats, of which I was a director. I have represented the company in Belgium, France, Spain, Portugal and Egypt. I am also a director of the Northern Trust Company. I have succeeded to my father's position as president of the board of trustees of John B. Stetson University, De Land, Fla., the largest institution of its kind south of Virginia. Recently I have embarked in two or three new businesses, the success of which is yet to be proved. Chief of these is the Young Safety Razor Company, of which I am an officer and a director. I was married June 15, 1907, to Ruby F. Carlisle, at Wakefield, Mass. John B., 3d, born May 6, 1908; Stuart C., born March 28, 1909; Thomazine, born December 29, 1910. Member: Harvard Travellers' Club of Boston, American Geographical Society, Explorers' Club of New York, Royal Geographical Society of Lisbon, Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, Whitmarsh Valley Country Club, Huntingdon Valley Country Club. Business address: Fifth and Montgomery Aves., Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: Ashbourne, Pa.

CHARLES JULIUS STEVENS

He was born in Worcester, Mass., January 12, 1885, son of Charles Franklin and Mary Bradford Stevens. He was graduated from the Worcester Classical High School in 1901, an exceptionally good student; won honors in the Sumner Debating Society, played on the football team and was prominent on the track team. In the fall of 1901 he entered Dartmouth College, became a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Mandolin Club, Freshman Football Team and won distinction in shot-put and pole-vault. The following year he entered Harvard University, but owing to poor health left college at different intervals. In the class games May 8, 1905, he won cups in shot-put and pole-vault. He was a member of the Harvard Banjo Club, and for the year 1905-1906 was secretary of the Harvard Mandolin and Guitar Club. Mr. Stevens was drowned June 27, 1906, at Lake Quinsigamond, Worcester; he had been an excellent tennis player and that morning had had a close contest with the captain of the Harvard tennis team. He was a man greatly loved and whose loss was deeply felt, not only because of his various musical accomplishments, his athletics and his remarkable clearness and precision of thinking, but because of his strong, noble, upright character, his high ideals, his refined and cultured tastes and the depth and beauty of his nature. This is the last stanza of a poem written by him and printed in the Harvard Advocate, November 16, 1906.

“One way to turn for strength, one source to seek for hope

And here I lay my humble prayer, not asking more:—

Kind God of all, grant me the power meekly to say,

Thy Will on Earth be Done.”

WILLIAM WHITE STICKNEY

After graduation I returned to the Scientific School, getting my S.B. degree in architecture in 1907. I then went to Denver, where I spent the following winter in the office of Biscoe and Hewitt. In 1909 I tried a little ranching. Although the ranch is still on my hands, for the last two years I have been practicing architecture in Pueblo. Member: Commerce Club, Country Club. Business address: 328 South Union Ave., Pueblo, Colo. Present residence: 101 East Orman Ave., Pueblo, Colo.

EDWIN BABCOCK STILLMAN

I was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1909. In February I became a member of the Suffolk Bar of Massachusetts. The summers of 1908 and 1909 I spent travelling in several European countries. In November, 1909, I entered the law office of Hayes, Williams, Baker and Hersey, 16 State St., Boston, where I remained until August, 1910. I then entered the employ of William Filene's Sons Company, for which I am still working. I was married October 4, 1910, to Ethelwyn Chaffee Phillips, at Providence, R. I. Orville, 2d, born February 12, 1912. Business address: 461 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 16 Hobson St., Faneuil, Mass. Permanent address: 17 Elm St., Westerly, R. I.

ROBERT KILBURN STODDARD

I entered Harvard as a special student in the fall of 1904, leaving in June, 1906. I then entered the employ of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, for which I worked in the office of the electrical engineer. At the end of three years, however, I took charge of the Whitman office of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Brockton, Mass. After having been there about a year, I spent eight months with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston. During the summer of 1911 a friend and I did electrical contracting and automobile work around Hanover, Mass. At Christmas, 1911, I entered the employ of the Old Colony Gas Company, Weymouth, Mass., which furnishes gas to several towns in southeastern Massachusetts. I am at present acting as inspector and engineer for this company. Present residence: North Hanover, Mass.

NORTH STORMS

Several days after Commencement, upon receiving from the hands of the colored boy in U. 4, my "admission to the fellowship of educated men. I went to Carini, Ill., to start my career, as have so many other great men, as a farmer. While there I got mixed up in the telephone business and became secretary and trustee for a bond issue of the White County Telephone Company. After three years of communion with nature, which was sufficient, I went to the other extreme, going to Chicago with the Chicago Car Lumber Company. In October, 1910, I became secretary and treasurer of the Tinsley Railway Supplies and Equipment Company, with offices in the McCormick Building, Chicago, where I am always glad to see all my friends except those desiring to collect bills. I have visited no foreign countries except Arkansas and parts of Mississippi in the rainy season; written no books except a few check books; and held no offices of profit, as I have kept out of politics. I shall therefore probably have to walk to this famous sexennial. I was married October 7, 1908, to Jessie Tinsley, at Chicago, Ill. Member: South Shore Country Club of Chicago, Pullman Club of Chicago, Country Club of Evansville, Crescent Club of Evansville. Business address: 1022 McCormick Building, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 1323 East 64th St., Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: 604 First St., Evansville, Ind.

BURNHAM CLEVELAND STOWERS

I left college in June, 1904. From May, 1905, until June, 1910, I was assistant buyer for the leather goods department of Jordan, Marsh Company. Since May, 1911, I have been working for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Business address: 1498 Dorchester Ave., Dorchester, Mass. Present residence: 476 High St., Dedham, Mass.

FREDERICK STRAUSS

LEON STRAUSS

To put the finishing touches on my Harvard education, I passed a year at the Lowell Textile School, where I prepared for the profession I was to enter, that of manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing men's clothing. My next move was to New York, where I devoted a year to courses in tailoring and designing garments. These did less towards making me a tailor than towards fracturing the false class ideals which I had learned at Harvard. Thus prepared, I entered the employ of Leopold Morse Company of Boston. To me one of the most fascinating elements of the game has been keeping earnings down to expenses, which, though very difficult, is still possible. In order to make the contest more interesting, I got married, only to discover that one can live as cheaply as two or more. Anybody doubting the result of my experiments will find me very glad to show how it is done. I was married December 2, 1908, to Irene Garson, at Rochester, N. Y. Aline Mildred, born October 20, 1909. Business address: 137 Washington St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 16 Crowninshield Road, Brookline, Mass.

MAURICE JACOB STRAUSS

After the summer of 1906 I started work in the importing, exporting and commission establishment of which my father is the head. I have been connected with this firm ever since. For the last year I have been visiting Baltimore and the principal New England cities. I spend my summers on the Jersey coast, where we have a country place, although during my vacations I usually go hunting and fishing in Maine. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Arkwright Club, City Club of New York, Harmonie Club, New York Athletic Club. Business address: 355 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 51 West 69th St., New York, N. Y.

HUMPHREY JOSEPH SULLIVAN

Journalism. Has not been heard from. His address is 5 Putnam Street, Charlestown, Mass.

JAMES THOMAS SULLIVAN

A change in my work forced me to leave college after having been there two years. I was then appointed motor editor of the Boston Globe, a position which I still hold. For a week last summer I conducted at Boston the annual convention of the American Press Humorists' Association. The total expense to the association, including printing, telegrams, postage, etc., was $65. That may be why I was chosen a trustee of the Boston Globe Savings Bank. I have covered the annual Glidden tours, bumping in motor cars all over the country east of the Rocky Mountains, besides whirling ninety miles an hour at Ormond Beach, Fla. I was married September 29, 1907, to Mary Gertrude Teahan, at Boston, Mass. Marie, born June 22, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Bachelor's Surrender," "By Telephone and Telegraph," other short stories and miscellaneous verse. Member: American Press Humorists' Association, Automobile Writers' League. Business address: Boston Globe, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 67 Kingsdale St., Dorchester, Mass.

JOHN JOSEPH SULLIVAN

later sent me to Dallas, Tex. In the spring of 1907 I was transferred to Houston, Tex., where I have been since that time. I am now general superintendent of the Houston Electric Company. Member: Houston Club. Business address: Care of Houston Electric Company, Houston, Tex. Present residence: 1715 Main St., Houston, Tex. Permanent address: Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

FRANKLIN PEALE SUMMERS

Until November, 1909, I was employed as chemist by the Organic Chemical Company, Philadelphia, Pa. I have since been working for the Abbott Alkaloidal Company, Chicago, Ill., with which I am now chief chemist. I was married November 18, 1908, to Emilie Tuttle, at Camden, N. J. Dorothea Elizabeth, born March 16, 1912. Member: Acacia, Masonic order. Business address: 4753 East Ravenswood Park, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 1525 Winnemac Ave., Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: Abbott Alkaloidal Company, Chicago, Ill.

CLARENCE HALE SUTHERLAND

I entered college in my sophomore year. In July, 1906, I began work for a lumber company operating a small mill in the redwood district of Mendocino County, on the California coast. There I acted as paymaster and general assistant to the superintendent. As the sale of this property in 1908 raised the question of other employment, a growing interest in engineering work, together with the scarcity of "jobs" in panic times, led to my entering the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, from which I was graduated in 1911. During the last two winters in the Institute I served as half-time assistant in the department of drawing. Three summers were passed, one at the Harvard Engineering Camp at Squam Lake, one on the engineering corps of the Panhandle in Indiana, and one in the draughting room of a structural steel concern in Winnipeg. Last August illness terminated a brief connection with the Phoenix Bridge Company. This was followed by a long vacation, lasting till I joined the engineering department of the Corrugated Bar Company, where I am now employed. Business address: Corrugated Bar Company, Mutual Life Building, Buffalo, N. Y. Present residence: 21 St. John's Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

FRANCIS HATHAWAY SWIFT

After two years I left Harvard to work in Pittsburgh for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. Two years later I entered the real estate office of C. W. Whittier and Brother, Boston, with whom I remained for two years. I then became a partner in A. A. Elston and Company, contractors, and afterwards in the firm of Elston and Swift, which took over the business of A. A. Elston and Company. I am now vice-president and treasurer of Elston and Swift, Incorporated, which company in turn has replaced the partnership of Elston and Swift. The corporation carries on a general contracting business. Member: Boston Athletic Association, Harvard Club of New York, Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Masons. Business address: 85 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 378 County St., New Bedford, Mass.

DOUGLAS WORTHINGTON SWIGGETT

I left college in 1905, receiving my degree in 1906. In 1905-1906 I taught English in the Marietta High School, Marietta, O. I then held similar positions for a year each in the University of Missouri and the J. Sterling Morton High School, Cook County, Ill. During 1908-1909 I studied at Cincinnati, O. In 1909 I entered the publishing business with Longmans, Green and Company, with whom I remained through 1911. I am now an editorial writer on the Milwaukee Journal. Books or plays of my authorship: Selections from Malory's "Morte d'Arthur" (edited). Business address:

WATERMAN ALLEN TAFT, JR.

I left college in my junior year. After working for two years in the lumber districts of Canada, I came to Boston, where I began work for the Export Lumber Company, which carries on an export business to South America. I was later made secretary of the company. For some time I was consul for Uruguay. I was married July 10, 1907, to Margaret T. Weems, at Gloucester, Mass. Clara Farr, born September 10, 1908; Waterman Allen, 3d, born November 9, 1911. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Gloucester Yacht Club. Business address: 53 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 44 Academy St., Arlington, Mass.

MAX LOWELL TALBOT

Since the spring of 1905, when I left Harvard, I have been working for Talbot Company, manufacturers. For the past three years I have been a director in this corporation. I was married April 19, 1911, to Kate R. Meredith, at Richmond, Va. Kate Meredith, born March 13, 1912. Member: Braeburn Country Club, Westmoreland Club of Richmond, Harvard Club of Boston. ALFRED HENRY EUGENE TALPEY

The six years which have passed since receiving my S.B. degree in electrical engineering have been years of "feeling out," reaching out to see what manner of men lie about me and to see how these men conduct themselves in business and in society. To be what the world calls a "success," one must know men, and above all, know one's self. It is like a game of checkers, guess the other fellow's move and you win the game. Some seem to have this knowledge intuitively, others acquire it by experience. So far I have been dissatisfied to accept the "rut," so my six years have been full of varied experiences. From a large New York electrical manufacturing company, where I found rapid advancement, I moved to still another corporation of the same nature in Boston. Here I had the honor of originating a piece of telephone apparatus which is now being used in the United States Navy. I soon saw an opportunity, however, to engage in manufacturing, which I did. In this field I continued for three years, when I again turned my attention to pure engineering. I have held positions as treasurer, manager, engineer, etc. I have ever held before me the motto of my Alma Mater. Sometimes the odds have been overwhelmingly great, yet if self respect is sometimes attained at the sacrifice of riches, it can be bought only with Veritas. I was married April 20, 1908, to Abby Alden Robinson, at Dorchester, Mass. Trafton Vining, born April 12, 1909; Virginia, born June 14, 1911. Business address: Care of Densmore and Le Clear, 88 Broad St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 16 Spencer St., Dorchester, Mass.

GORDON WOODS THAYER

For a year I remained in the Graduate School, getting my A.M. in 1907. I then taught for the next four years in the Greek department of the University of Cincinnati and in the public schools. I did some tutoring also. From 1908 to 1909 I found time to take the regular course in the Teachers' College of the University of Cincinnati. From time to time during these four years I edited the Cincinnati Citizens' Bulletin, a good government weekly published by Elliott H. Pendleton, 1882. From 1908 to 1911 I was secretary of the Harvard Club of Cincinnati. As I decided last fall to enter library work, I am at present taking a one-year course in this work at Western Reserve University, Cleveland. Books or plays of my authorship: Articles on political subjects for the Cincinnati Citizens' Bulletin; correspondence on Cincinnati and Ohio politics for the New York Evening Post; articles on school topics in School Work and the Educational Review; a review of a book on Greek shorthand for the Journal of the Phonographic Institute. Member: Harvard Club of Cincinnati, Cincinnati City Club, Harvard Travellers' Club. Present residence: 2100 Adelbert Road, Cleveland, O. Permanent address: 304 Oak St., Cincinnati, O.

WILLIAM WENTWORTH THAYER

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I went to Oxford University as a Rhodes scholar from New Hampshire. After two years at Oxford I entered the Harvard Law School, from which I was graduated in 1910. Since then I have been practicing law in the office of Streeter, Demond and Woodworth, Concord, N. H. Business address: Care of Streeter, Demond and Woodworth, Concord, N. H. Present residence: 115 School St., Concord, N. H.

FERDINAND THIERIOT

Upon leaving college at the completion of my sophomore year, I spent the summer abroad, then entered the employ of the Erie Railroad. After remaining in the railroad business for nearly a year, I came to San Francisco, where I went into the gold dredging business. Later I became interested in oil and land reclamation. At the time of the earthquake I was burned out. In October, 1906, I went on a year's trip around the world with T. F. and R. E. Pierce '06. After my return to New York I again came west, spending nearly two years in Sacramento, Cal., in the development business. I then moved to San Francisco, where I have resided at the University Club ever since. Last June I became the resident partner of Ehrich and Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange and Chicago Board of Trade. I have succeeded in building up a good business here. I wish to extend a cordial invitation to the members of 1906 to the Panama Pacific International Exposition, which will be held here in 1915 to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal. Member: University Club of San Francisco, Merchants' Exchange Club of San Francisco, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 409 Pine St., San Francisco, Cal. Present residence: University Club, San Francisco, Cal. Permanent address: "Nettancourt," South Orange, N. J.

EDWARD ORTON THOMPSON

In July, 1906, I began work as a steel chemist with the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, Ensley, Ala. From March 17, 1907, until September 15, 1910, I was connected with the Virginia Smelting Company, West Norfolk, Va. Since September 8, 1911, I have been associated in Boston with the Pyrene Company of New England. Business address: 176 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Care of H. S. Thompson, Concord, Mass.

JAMES LAWTON THOMPSON

In 1905 I left college, returning, however, in 1906, as holder of a fellowship of the Architectural League. After practicing architecture till 1908, I went abroad to study and paint. I remained for two and a half years, travelling through England, France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. During the winter of 1908-1909 I studied art at London schools, as well as in the British Museum and other galleries. In 1909-1910 I registered at the Sorbonne, where I took courses in the history of fine arts; I also studied at Colarossi's Academy in Paris and carried on research work in medieval stained glass; a brochure on the latter subject is soon to go to press. R. Valentine Heckscher, 1906, was with me in London and Paris. At last account he was living in Florence, where he was devoting his time to poetry. Since my return in December, 1911, I have been engaged in fine arts. Member: Boston Architectural Club, Portland Society of Art. Business address: 16 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.

EDWARD KIMBALL THURLOW

In my sophomore year I determined to study for the ministry. In June, 1904, however, my father's ill health and my own unsettled plans led me to leave college. The next two years I spent at home as a nurseryman, although I was in the Summer School in 1905 and 1906. During 1906-1907 I was a special student in the college. In 1907 I was again in the Summer School, where I studied philosophy. In November, 1907, I found an opportunity to study Greek, of which I knew nothing, at St. John's School for Postulants, Uniontown, Ky., a preparatory school for theological seminaries. The plan pursued by the rector was for such students as could to assist him by teaching. I accordingly instructed in Latin, English, mathematics and science. I had the honor to be one of the incorporators of St. John's College, as well as secretary of the trustees and the faculty. In May, 1908, I was delegate to the Kentucky Diocesan Council.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

In June I was admitted as candidate for Holy Orders. I am now a senior at the Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn. Although my plans for the future are unsettled, I hope to go to China. I shall probably first complete my course at Harvard, however, specializing in ethnology and comparative religion, with particular reference to the Old Testament. Present residence: Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn. Permanent address: West Newbury, Mass.

RALPH EDSON TIBBETTS

In February, 1904, I came to Harvard from New York University, receiving my degree in 1906. As I had finished my course in 1905, I had entered the Harvard Law School in that year. After getting the degree of LL.B. in 1908, I entered the mercantile business in New York, where I remained till January, 1911. Since October, 1911, I have been in the law office of Whipple, Sears and Ogden of Boston. I was married June 13, 1908, to Myra Thorndike, at Malden, Mass. Mary Isbell, born June 4, 1910. Business address: 835 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 3 Overlook Road, Melrose Highlands, Mass.

NICHOLAS LECHMERE TILNEY

The summer of 1906 I spent abroad. In the winter I went to the Pacific coast, where I stayed until the fall of 1907. I then entered the New York Law School. In 1909 I received my degree and passed the New York Bar examinations. Since October, 1909, I have been in the banking business with Lee, Higginson and Company, 43 Exchange Place, New York. Business address: 43 Exchange Place, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Orange, N. J.

SAMUEL TITCOMB

As I finished my course in three years, I spent my senior year at the Harvard Law School. I got my A.B. degree in 1906 and my LL.B. degree in 1908. Since then I have been practicing law in Augusta, Me., under the firm name of S. and L. Titcomb. Business address: 233 Water St., Augusta, Me. Present residence: 66 Stone St., Augusta, Me.

OTIS JOHNSON TODD

Since September, 1906, I have been at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., where I am in the Department of Greek. I started as assistant professor, but gradually have taken over all the work. I have visited no foreign countries save Portland, Ore., which appeared semi-civilized because of the presence of Arthur P. McKinlay, Ph.D., 1906. Although I have been unfortunate in not being able to attend the annual dinner of the Spokane Harvard Club, I have kept in touch with the University through the Harvard Bulletin, which is a great boon to those of us in the west. I was married August 15, 1906, to Helen Laura Lownds, at West Webster, N. Y. Duncan Kent, born June 23, 1907; Alan, born November 11, 1908; Lois, born January 23, 1910. Member: Harvard Club of Spokane, Northwest Classical Association. Business address: Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash. Present residence: 373 Park St., Walla Walla, Wash.

FOSTER TOWLE

In 1906 I was given an S.B. degree and in 1907 an A.B. degree. From June, 1906, to January, 1907, I worked for the New York Board of Water Supply on the Catskill Aqueduct location. I then became an engineering aid in the United States Reclamation Service, for which I was engaged on canal construction at Fort Shaw, Mont. From June, 1907, to date I have been an assistant engineer in the service. Till March, 1908, I was at Fort Shaw in charge of contract canal work on the Sun River project. Until November, 1910, I was engaged there in various capacities. From December, 1910, to April, 1911, I was in the supervising engineer's office at Helena, Mont. In April I became division engineer in charge

Physician. Has not been heard from. His address is Palo Alto, Cal.

GUY CLINTON TOWNSEND

I received my degree at midyears 1907, as of 1906. For the past two years I have been employed by the Hill Publishing Company, publishers of technical papers, Power, Coal Age, American Machinist, Engineering and Mining Journal and Engineering News. I am in their advertising department, where my job is to plan and carry out advertising campaigns. I was married December 23, 1911, to Dorothy Fletcher, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Business address: 505 Pearl St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 95 Hillside Ave., Nutley, N. J.

DANIEL WILLIAM BELL TRACY

In the spring of 1904 I went into business instead of finishing my course. In 1907, as my health had failed, I went to New Mexico and thence to California, where I remained till two months ago. Present residence: Hamilton House, Coburg, Ont., Canada.

ROBERT EMMET TRACY

As I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906, I went in 1905 to New York, where for a year I was in the employ of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The next two years I spent in the Law School. In July, 1908, I was appointed agent for the Trustees for Children of the city of Boston, resigning in December, 1911. In the meantime I had practiced law in Boston, where I was also interested in social work. I was a member of the Massachusetts Child Labor Committee and the Associated Charities Conference in the North End. During 1910-1911 I completed the work for my LL.B. degree at the Harvard Law School. In October, 1911, I left Boston for British Columbia. I have settled in Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, where I shall doubtless remain. Although I may go into the law by spring, I am at present acting as secretary of the Real Estate Exchange. I feel that I have located in a new country where opportunities are many. There are two other Harvard men here now, and there will doubtless be many more ere long. We are even now talking of a Harvard Club. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Monday Evening Club of Boston, Wanderers' Club of Prince Rupert. Business address: Real Estate Exchange, Box 981, Prince Rupert, B. C., Can.

HARRY MARSHALL TRIEBER

I left college in the middle of my senior year, returning in June for my degree. In the following fall I entered the Harvard Law School, from which I was graduated in 1909. Since then I have been assistant attorney of the Missouri and North Arkansas Railroad Company. I am a director of the Mercantile Trust Company of Little Rock, Ark., and circuit vice-president of the Bar Association of Arkansas. Business address: Moore and Turner Building, Little Rock, Ark. Present residence: 923 West 2d St., Little Rock, Ark.

JAMES ROLF TRIMBLE

I entered Harvard at the beginning of my senior year. After graduation I taught for three years in New Jersey.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

From that time I was instructor in mathematics at the University of Cincinnati. I am now head of the mathematics department in the Bridgeport (Conn.) High School. I was married November 26, 1908, to Sarah V. Merrill, at Hoboken, N. J. Marion F., born January 6, 1910; Eleanor D., born August 17, 1911. Business address: High School, Bridgeport, Conn. Present residence: Washington, N. J. Permanent address: Washington, N. J.

HENRY GUILD TUCKER

Lawyer. Has not been heard from. His address is Avon, Mass.

HOWARD MOORE TURNER

The summer after I graduated I spent in Europe, returning in the autumn to Cambridge, where I spent a year at the Scientific School. From 1907, until January, 1910, when I got an S.B. degree, I was with the Turner Construction Company of New York, part of the time in their New York office and the remainder of the time on construction work in Jersey City, Glen Cove, L. I., Buffalo and Cambridge. The work in Cambridge was building the colonnade on the Stadium. In January, 1910, I left the Turner Construction Company to take charge of the construction of a transmission line and power plant for the Easthampton Gas Company, Easthampton, Mass. Since February, 1911, I have been with Cabot, Thompson and Eustis, Boston, for whom I am doing engineering work in connection with the management of electrical properties. Member: Oakley Country Club. Business address: 18 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 10 Francis Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

JAMES WOODBURY TWOMBLY

In 1910 I received my degree of M.D. at the Harvard Medical School. Since then my time until January 5, 1912, has been spent in the St. Joseph's Hospital, Providence, and the Worcester City Hospital. For the past three months I have been located in Stoughton, where my young and tender practice is just beginning to stand upon its own feet. I am engaged to be married; my fiancée is a Simmons graduate. Business address: 99 Porter St., Stoughton, Mass.

RALPH IRVING UNDERHILL

I left college in 1905, receiving my degree in 1906. For a year I held the position of senior master at the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn. The following year, although offered the headmastership, I returned to Boston to enter the Volkmann School, where I have remained ever since. My work has broadened until I now have charge of the junior department. In June, 1908, Mrs. Underhill and I established a summer camp for boys. Although we started with but three boys, we had fourteen last summer. A tract of fifty acres near Bridgton, Me., has just been purchased for the use of the camp. After having lived during four years in Cambridge, we moved last May to West Roxbury. We have identified ourselves with the Unitarian Church, where I am superintendent of the Sunday School. I was married June 18, 1907, to Marion D. Matthew, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Charles Matthew, born December 26, 1908. Business address: 415 Newbury St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 11 Avalon Road, West Roxbury, Mass.

WILLIAM BARRETT UPDEGRAFF

In 1904, after taking a special course in mechanical engineering, I left college. During 1903-1904 I served as assistant instructor in Engineering 3a. I have been connected with S. L. Moore's Iron Works, Elizabeth, N. J., the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, the Lake Submarine Torpedo Boat Company, Bridgeport, Conn., and the Harlem Contracting Company, New York. At present I am with the Architectural Tile and Faience Company, Maurer, N. J. I was married July 10, 1906, to Mabelle Bond, at Newburgh, N. Y. Ross Bond, born January 19, 1909. Member: American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Harvard Engineering Society of New York, Association of Harvard Engineers. Business address: Maurer, N. J. Present residence: 522 Magie St., Elizabeth, N. J.

GEORGE UPTON

I left college at the end of my sophomore year. I then went into the employ of the American Glue Company at Pittsburgh. The following year I was made manager of the National Glue Company of Indianapolis. In 1906 I became manager of the American Glue Company's plant in Peabody, Mass. Since 1909 I have been connected with the general offices of the company in Boston, where I am assistant manager of the manufacturing department. I have travelled on business in this country and in Europe. Last year I visited Germany, Italy, France and England. I was married February 12, 1906, to Lorna Graydon, at Cincinnati, O. Marian, born December 1, 1906; Thomas Graydon, born March 26, 1908; King, born November 18, 1909. Member: Eastern Yacht Club of Marblehead, Corinthian Yacht Club of Marblehead, Harvard Club of New York, Boston Athletic Association. Business address: 121 Beverly St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 138 Federal St., Salem, Mass.

WILLIAM WALTON VARRELL

Since leaving Harvard in April, 1903, I have been in the summer hotel business at York Harbor, Me., which is my permanent address. I am also a third year man in the Tufts Medical School, Boston, where I hope to receive my M.D. degree in 1913. Present residence: 9 Washburn Terrace, Brookline, Mass. Permanent address: York Harbor, Me.

ALBERT FREDERICK VEENFLIET

He died at his home in St. Mary's, O., November 10, 1909, after a very severe illness of nearly two months. He was born at St. Mary's, December 16, 1884, the only son of Ernest M. and Minnie Veenfliet. His preparation for college was in the schools of the town, and he entered Harvard in 1902. At college he was a member of the Freshman and University Glee Clubs, and also a member of the Signet. He was fond of sport, although he never participated in any of its major activities. The winter of 1905-1906 he spent in Europe tutoring, being most of the time in Germany, where, with his German traditions and his real love of music, he was very happy. He entered the Law School in 1906, completed his three years course, and was preparing to practice in Cleveland, when his last illness overtook him. At the Law School he was a member of Lincoln's Inn and the Thayer Law Club. Many of his summers were spent in tutoring, and his friends well know how much the boys under his care must have profited by the influence of his gentle, strong, high character. His friendships were few, but very deep and abiding, and the grief for his early death is softened only by the precious memory of what he meant and stood for among those who knew him best. As one thinks of various incidents in his short life, it is not too much to say of him, that he was "sans peur et sans reproche."

ERVING WHEELLOCK VIDAUD

I received my degree in February, 1906. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Present residence: 161 Joralemon St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WILLIAM GOULD VINAL

I came to Harvard in my junior year. In 1907 I received an Emerson scholarship and an A.M. degree in zoölogy. From 1908 to 1910 I was head of the Department of Biology and Geology at Marshall College State Normal School, at Huntington, W. Va. I was also chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, coaching the football team in 1908. In 1911 I taught geography in the State Normal School, Salem, Mass. During the summers from 1907 to 1910 I investigated shellfish problems for the Massachusetts Commission on Fisheries and Game. In 1911 I made a biological survey of the ponds of Cape Cod for the commission. I am at present head of the Department of Geography and Nature Study in the Rhode Island State Normal School at Providence. I was married September 2, 1908, to Lillie Hale Downing, at Newtonville, Mass. Raymond Gould, born June 26, 1909; Meriel Hale, born April 13, 1911. Books or plays of my authorship: "A Guide for Laboratory and Field Studies in Botany," P. Blakiston Sons and Company, 1911. Member: Rhode Island Teachers' Association, Barnard Club, Rhode Island Audubon Society, Rhode Island Field Naturalists' Club, Masons. Business address: Rhode Island Normal School, Providence, R. I. Present residence: 165 Arlington Ave., Providence, R. I. Permanent address: Grove St., Mount Blue, Mass.

CHARLES SIDNEY WALDO, JR.

After graduating in 1905, as of 1906, I travelled through the west, returning to Boston in June, 1906. In July I entered the office of Waldo Brothers, dealers in building materials. After my marriage we began housekeeping at 169 Beacon St., Boston. In 1908, however, we moved into a new house on Woodland Road, Brookline; this we sold in 1911. I now have a second house under construction on Pine Road, Brookline. I am still with Waldo Brothers. I was married October 1, 1907, to Gretchen Howes, at Brookline, Mass. Natalie, born August 5, 1908; Joanne, born December 16, 1911. Member: Brookline Country Club, Longwood Cricket Club. Business address: 47 Batterymarch St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Pine Road, Brookline, Mass.

CHESTER WALLACE

In September, 1906, I entered the engineering department of the New York Telephone Company. Until 1910 I was engaged in this work in Manhattan and the Bronx and in Westchester County. On April 1, 1910, I resigned my position with the New York Telephone Company in order to accept a similar position with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Since that time I have been away from New York headquarters practically all the time. I have been located, for periods ranging from one week to six months each, in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, Boston, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Little Rock, St. Louis, Kansas City, Dayton, Cleveland and Chicago. I was married December 2, 1911, to Alice Victoria Young, at Clinton, Mass. Business address: 15 Dey St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: Hotel Windermere, Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: 26 Leighton Ave., Clinton, Mass.

CHARLES BURTON WALSH

After studying at Trinity College from 1901 to 1903, I entered Harvard in 1904. In 1906, after a year each in the College and the Graduate School, I took my A.B. degree. I was then appointed teacher of mathematics in the Ethical Culture High School, New York, a position I have held ever since. In 1911 I was made secretary of the Schoolmasters' Association of New York and vicinity. Member: American Mathematical Society, Schoolmasters' Association of New York and Vicinity. Business address: 33 Central Park West, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 443 Classon Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

came general manager of the Pyrene Company of New England. I was married May 7, 1908, to Elizabeth Lowell Clarke, at Boston, Mass. Alice de Vermandois, born April 17, 1909; Charles Eliot, 3d, born January 21, 1912. Member: Union Boat Club, Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 176 Federal St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 49 Brimmer St., Boston, Mass.

HUGO JOHN WARNER

I left college during the fall of my sophomore year. Since then I have been in the advertising business, at first as representative of special publications, later with Lord and Thomas, an advertising agency. I was married June 1, 1908, to Henrietta Cahn, at Buffalo, N. Y. Business address: 1800 Mallery Building, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 4440 Drexel Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

JOSEPH EVERETT WARNER

After graduation I attended the Harvard Law School. I am now engaged in the general practice of law. I am interested somewhat in business affairs as well, as I am president of the White, Warner Company of Taunton, manufacturers of "Built to Bake" Household and Quaker stoves and ranges. I am a member of the Republican City Committee. In 1907, 1908 and 1909 I was in the Common Council of Taunton. In 1910 and 1911 I was a member of the Municipal Council, which under the new charter form is composed of nine members elected at large; this is the city's sole administrative body. My travels have been confined to the southern states, northern Europe and the Canadian border. Member: King David Lodge, Masons; St. Mark's Chapter, R. A.; Sabbatia No. 225, I. O. O. F.; Orient Lodge No. 107, Knights of Pythias. Business address: 7 Rand Building, Taunton, Mass. Present residence: 12 Walnut St., Taunton, Mass.

HOWARD LINDSAY WARREN

I was married October 6, 1909, to Edith Semans, at Uniontown, Pa. Howard Lindsay, Jr., born November 10, 1910. Business address: Care of Warren and O'Neil, Greenville, Tex. Present residence: Greenville, Tex.

PHILIP LYON WARREN

In September, 1906, I entered the corporation department of Stone and Webster, Boston. In November, 1909, I was transferred to the securities department. I was married June 28, 1909, to Dora Deering Orr, at Portland, Me. Helen, born April 29, 1910. Business address: 147 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 7 Wayland St., Wollaston, Mass.

HAROLD CONNETT WASHBURN

In September, 1906, I reported as instructor in English at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., where there was a vacancy caused by the resignation of Oscar Campbell, 1903. The faculty numbers about one hundred, of whom some twenty-five are permanent civil appointees; the majority of the instructors in technical subjects are line officers. Association in the classroom and elsewhere with boys from all states in the union gives the instructor a valuable national point of view and an opportunity to study the various shades of pronunciation, political sentiment and secondary school education which find representation at the national naval school. It is worthy of note that of eight hundred midshipmen, more than seven hundred are very actively engaged in some form of athletics. The physical training at the academy is of a high order, the average of physical efficiency being more strikingly unusual than the general public realizes, even in such moments of popular approval as the Army-Navy football game. On September 1, 1907, I was ordered to Annapolis with another instructor in my department, to revise the course of instruction in English. At that time the subject of international law was transferred from the English to the seamanship department, in which it took the place of the abandoned seamanship drills on the full-rigged ship "Severn," drills kept up long after they were technically out of date, for the sake of the physical training. The curriculum of the Academy, keeping pace with the constant changes in naval construction and equipment, now includes, in the four years' course, mathematics and mechanics, marine engineering and naval construction, physics and chemistry, electrical engineering, seamanship and international law, ordnance, English, Spanish, French, naval hygiene and physiology. The various ramifications of these subjects—such, for example, as wireless telegraphy, torpedoes, turbines, submarines, the new "spotting" system for target practice, and the intricate electrical devices for "fire control" in ordnance and turret control gear, these, among other recent developments in naval warfare, have made the technical training of future officers so complex that there are many who advocate a five-year course, midshipmen to graduate as ensigns. I was married October 24, 1911, to Rosalie Thompson, at Louisville, Ky. Member: Naval Officers' Mess, Annapolis, Md. Present residence: 201 Hanover St., Annapolis, Md. Permanent address: 71 West 124th St., New York, N. Y.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

CYRIL GEOFFREY WATES

Has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

THOMAS WEBB WATKINS

Immediately after graduation I was elected principal of the Stratford High School, North Stratford, N. H., where I have been ever since. I was married August 24, 1911, to M. Carlena Prescott, at Manchester, N. H. Member: Knights Templar. Present residence: North Stratford, N. H. (Post Office, Coos, N. H.).

STUART WESTON WEBB

Early in my career I showed poor judgment by finishing my course in three years, receiving my degree, however, in 1906. After a brief respite I entered the employ of the City Trust Company of Boston as office boy. My services, very imperceptibly to me, became more important. In January, 1907, I began interviewing municipal officials in regard to bond certification; this I continued for about two years, although after a year the greater part of my time was spent in the office. During 1908 my department was extended to include municipal note certification. In September, 1908, I became assistant secretary. In February, 1909, after the City Trust Company and the Old Colony Trust Company were consolidated, I became assistant secretary of the latter, where I was in charge of the municipal bond department; this has developed into one doing an investment business. By process of evolution I became manager of the bond department. I have found the banking business extremely interesting, especially in connection with the outside things with which it has brought me in contact. I was married July 9, 1910, to Marcia Sewall, at Bath, Me. Marcia Sewall, born April 22, 1911. Business address: 17 Court St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Ridgeway, Winchester, Mass.

FREDERIC DREW WEBSTER

I received my degree in 1905, as of 1906. After graduating from the Law School in 1908, I spent three years in a Boston law office. In the fall of 1911 I went into a law partnership with H. S. Allen, 1903, and E. F. Fish, 1905, with offices at 60 State St., Boston. I have spent my vacations in Maine. Business address: 60 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 165 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass.

LAWRENCE BURNS WEBSTER

I entered the Lawrence Scientific School in my sophomore year. From July, 1906, to December, 1906, I travelled in Europe with H. A. Mumma, H. O. Tilton and G. E. Eversole, all of the class of 1907. From January, 1907, to December, 1908, I was in Kansas and Wisconsin with the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company. For the following year I was a mechanical engineer and gas engine designer with the Austin Manufacturing Company of Chicago. I then became superintendent for Bliss and Laughlin, Incorporated, of Harvey, Ill., manufacturers of steel shafting. Since January, 1911, I have been a mechanical engineer with the American Gas and Electric Company of New York. Member: American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Business address: American Gas and Electrical Company, 30 Church St., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 926 South Washington St., Marion, Ind.

WALTER SCOTT WEEKS

In the summer of 1906 I got a position in a Nova Scotia coal mine, where I divided my time equally between chasing mine rats and sleeping on a pile of coal. The following year, after worrying through a few courses, I received the degree of S.B. in mining and metallurgy. The summer of 1907 I travelled about western mining camps, besides posing as a bronco buster on a Montana horse ranch. In the winter of 1907-1908 I became an Austin Teaching Fellow in mining and metallurgy. In March, 1909, I received my M.E. degree. During June and July, 1908, I was assistant at the Harvard Mining Camp in Vermont. August and September I spent in Newfoundland, pursuing the wily caribou and the furtive salmon. In 1908-1909 I was an assistant in mining and metallurgy and a member of the Parietal Board ad multos annos. I was then again assistant at the camp. Later I travelled with Professor Peters through the copper smelters of the west. In 1909-1910 I was assistant in mining and metallurgy. The following summer I had charge of the mining camp. I had a four-mouse power automobile wished on me, much to the envy of Arthur Holcombe and Robert Withington. Robert's grief has been somewhat appeased, however, by the acquisition of a cat-skin coat. In 1910-1911 I became an instructor in mining and metallurgy. I have adopted an Australian crab hound, which will be on exhibition Class Day. Last summer I was marooned in Vermont. I am at present looking forward to a Carnegie pension. Member: Association of Harvard Engineers, American Institute of Mining Engineers. Business address: Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 5 Gray's Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

HARVARD, 1906 — SECOND CLASS REPORT

MAURICE WERTHEIM

After remaining at Harvard for my A.M. degree, which I received in 1907, I entered the publishing business. This I gave up, however. I am now secretary and second vice-president of the United Cigar Manufacturing Company. I was married April 15, 1909, to Alma Morgenthau, at New York, N. Y. Josephine Alma, born October 2, 1910; Barbara, born January 30, 1912. Member: City Club of New York, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 1020 Second Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 49 West 72d St., New York, N. Y.

JOHN BRIGGS WEST, JR.

Publisher. Has not been heard from. His address is 91 Crocus Place, St. Paul, Minn.

ALBERT WILHELM VON WESTENHOLZ

I entered college in 1902, leaving in the same year. Since then I have devoted my time to the Volksheim, a university settlement in Hamburg. Since 1910 I have also been interested in the Alt-Wandervogel. Member: Volksheim of Hamburg, Alt-Wandervogel of Hamburg, Boys' Tourist Club. Present residence: Sophein Terrasse 14, Hamburg, Germany.

FREDERICK ABBOTT WEYMOUTH

After leaving college in June, 1906, I became a "learner" in the steel department of the Lackawanna Steel Company. I stayed there until January, 1907, when I accepted a position in the metallurgical department of the Maryland Steel Company. On September 15, 1910, I was appointed engineer of tests for this concern, a capacity in which I am still employed. I was married December 15, 1909, to Alice Garrett Martin, at Sparrow's Point, Md. Member: British Iron and Steel Institute, Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, American Society for Testing Materials, International Society for Testing Materials, American Electrochemical Society. Business address: Maryland Steel Company, Sparrow's Point, Md. Present residence: 719 C St., Sparrow's Point, Md.

ARTHUR FRANCIS WHALEN

I left college in January, 1905. For over two and a half years thereafter I was employed by the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company of Cambridge and by the American Rubber Company, also of Cambridge. I then read law for a year with Philip Mansfield, Esq., of Boston. In August, 1910, I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar. Since then I practiced law with Mr. Mansfield under the firm name of Mansfield and Whalen. I am a member of the Board of Aldermen of Melrose. I was married February 7, 1905, to Charlotte Packard Bullen, at Boston, Mass. F. Laurence, born March 13, 1906; Katharine Natalie, born December 16, 1907. Member: Masons, Melrose Club, Boston City Club, Bellevue Golf Club. Business address: 18 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 62 Mt. Vernon St., Melrose, Mass.

FRANK CHARLES WHEELER

Since graduation I have been engaged in teaching, my special field being Latin and Greek. My first position began in 1906 in Mohegan Lake School, a private military school in New York state. I remained there for five years. During the last three years I had a classmate, A. D. Whitman, among my colleagues. This year I am in the Preparatory School of Rutgers College. In 1910 my family moved from Newport, Vt., to Enfield, N. H., which is now my permanent home address. Business address: Rutgers Preparatory School, New Brunswick, N. J. Permanent address: Enfield, N. H.

HARRY MAYNARD WHEELER

From 1906 to 1909 I was principal of the Caribou High School, Caribou, Me. I then became assistant state superintendent of the Maine public schools, with headquarters at Augusta, Me. At the end of the year I gave up this position to be sales manager for A. G. Walton and Company of Boston, shoe manufacturers. I am chairman of the Republican Town Committee of Wakefield, Mass. I was married June 21, 1910, to Alice J. Walton, at Wakefield, Mass. Business address: Care of A. G. Walton and Company, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 7 Park Ave., Wakefield, Mass.

ROBERT WHEELWRIGHT

In 1908 I was given the degree of M.L.A. In June I sailed for Europe to study gardens. I spent two and a half months in England, going in September to Holland. After a hasty trip through Holland and Belgium, I visited Paris, then went to Blois, where for two months I studied French. I also visited all the more important chateaux of Touraine. In March, 1909, after three months in Italy, I sailed for home. In April I started work for Wilson Eyre of New York, where I had charge of the landscape architecture. After a year and a half I left to enter the office of Charles D. Lay, with whom I have been ever since. In the summer of 1910 I formed with Lay and Professor Hubbard of Harvard a partnership for the purpose of publishing a quarterly magazine, treating landscape architecture from the professional viewpoint, to be the official organ of the American Society of Landscape Architects. In October, 1910, the first number of Landscape Architecture appeared. As we are publishers merely by avocation, until we go broke our magazine will probably continue, if we can get enough contributions. Member: American Society of Landscape Architects. Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 103 Park Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 135 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

KINGSLEY MORTIMER WHITCOMB

In September, 1906, I entered the employ of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. I was first salesman, then district manager of the Chester district, and later of the main line division. I resigned, however, in January, 1912. I am now in business with my father in the Whitcomb Metallic Bedstead Company. I was married June 19, 1909, to Catharine Hall Wetherill, at Philadelphia, Pa. Catharine, born December 13, 1911. Member: Merion Cricket Club of Haverford. Business address: 1531 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 2520 South 20th St., Philadelphia, Pa. Permanent address: Care of Parrish and Company, 1500 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ALVERSE LYSANDER WHITE

In the fall of 1906 I entered the office of Paine, Webber and Company, brokers, Boston, Mass., remaining in their employ till December, 1907, when I went to Europe for seven months. I went first to Italy, then to Switzerland and Paris, spending a month in England and Scotland before sailing for home in June. In the autumn of 1908 I entered Warner, Tucker and Company's office in Boston. My next business venture was as senior member of White, Ware and Company of Boston, automobile sales agents. In December, 1911, I retired to become manager of the Boston office of the Standard Woven Fabric Company of Worcester, Mass. This position I am still filling. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Braeburn Country Club, Bay State Automobile Association. Business address: 903 Boylston St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 71 Cheney St., Roxbury, Mass.

AMOS JEROME WHITE (formerly Amos Jedediah White).

My first position was a clerkship in the office of the general manager of the Boston and Maine Railroad. Here promotion was rapid during the short time that I remained. As my desire to enter the teaching profession was too strong, I accepted an offer, in the fall of 1908, to become head of the Greek department of Wiley University. During the summers of 1909 and 1910 I was associated with the Episcopal City Missions of Boston, where I rendered service in stimulating social work in the South End. At this time I also did some special advanced work in the New England College of Languages. I have recently accepted a position as head of the Greek department of Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, O., which will be my address after October, 1912. I was married October 15, 1910, to Eva S. Henderson, at Marshall, Tex. Fletcher Jerome, born August 21, 1911. Present residence: Wiley University, Marshall, Tex. Address after October, 1912: Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, O.

FREDERIC HALL WHITE

Although I was out of college during my sophomore year and the last half of 1906-1907, I returned, receiving my degree in 1908, as of 1906. I then came west, where I got a job in a lumber mill sixty miles from Seattle. As I decided that I did not like that game, I took a trip up and down the Pacific coast. I finally settled in Seattle, which I found offered good opportunities. There I looked up real estate values, peddled exposition pins for a few months, and then, after a short trip east, devoted myself to real estate values. In August, following my marriage, I returned to Seattle, where with Ralph H. Bollard, 1905, I established a mortgage loan business. I was married February 14, 1910, to Willye Anderson, at Tulsa, Okla. Frederic Hall, Jr., born August 14, 1911. Member:

JOSEPH LYMAN WHITE

Early in July, 1906, I entered the service of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. I have followed railroading ever since. I was first rodman in the engineering department at Asquith, Saskatchewan. In November, 1906, I returned to the east, where I worked for three months as a machinist's helper in the Grand Trunk shops at Montreal, and for one month in the Grand Trunk roundhouse there. I then had several months' experience as a freight brakeman on the Grand Trunk between Bellevue and Toronto. I next worked in the office of the assistant superintendent at Belleville. In the latter part of December, 1907, I returned to the Grand Trunk Pacific, this time as a clerk in the purchasing department at Winnipeg. I remained there until September, 1908, when Mr. F. A. Delano, 1885, president of the Wabash Railroad Company, offered me a position in his office. I accordingly went to Chicago, where I have been since that date. Until June, 1911, I was secretary to Mr. Delano's assistant. I am now special inspector. Member: Western Railroad Club, Harvard Club of Chicago, City Club of Chicago. Business address: 514 Western Union Building, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 23 East Walton Place, Chicago, Ill. Permanent address: 29 Reservoir St., Cambridge, Mass.

LAWRENCE WARBURTON WHITE

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. During the following seven months I was employed by the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston. In February, 1906, however, I secured a position with Lee, Higginson and Company, with whom I have been ever since. In August, 1910, as I was able to take a longer vacation than usual, I went to London, from there to Paris, and home again via Havre. Member: Milton Club, Boston City Club. Business address: 44 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 167 School St., Milton, Mass.

PHILIP JOHN WHITEHILL

Since I left college in February, 1906, I have done nothing but work, eat and sleep. For a year and a half I worked at the jewelry business, my old trade. In the latter part of 1907 I became connected with the trunk business in Boston. I continued there until October, 1910, when I was transferred to Utica, N. Y., as superintendent of a sample trunk factory, a position which I now hold. As business has taken all my time, I have been unable to be present, except in spirit, at any of the class gatherings. While I cannot be with the boys this June, I hope some other time to attend and get a taste of the fun I know you will have. I was married December 28, 1910, to Aline Tarr, at North Attleboro, Mass. Business address: 12 Meadow St., Utica, N. Y. Present residence: 12 Newell St., Utica, N. Y.

JAMES GODDARD WHITING

After finishing college at midyears, I took a three months' trip through Italy, Germany, France, England and Scotland. Upon receiving my degree with the class, I started in business with the firm of David Whiting and Sons, milk dealers, with whom I have been since then. Member: Tedesco Country Club, Belmont Spring Country Club, Lexington Golf Club, Brae-Burn Country Club, Economic Club of Boston. Business address: 570 Rutherford Ave., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 61 Mt. Vernon St., Somerville, Mass.

MASON TUXBURY WHITING

After receiving my degree I spent two years at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where I studied civil engineering; I was graduated there in 1908. The following year I was an assistant in civil engineering at Technology. In the meantime I passed two summers surveying for the Brattleboro dam of the Connecticut River Power Company. I then spent one year working for the government on the Rhode Island Intra-coastal Canal. In February, 1910, I returned to Boston, where I entered the office of Charles T. Main, mill engineer, where I have been working ever since, mainly on water power developments and appraisals. Member: Boston Athletic Association, Oakley Country Club, Boston Society of Civil Engineers, Harvard Club of Boston. Business address: 201 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 145 Essex St., Longwood, Mass.

HAROLD ALLEN WHITMAN

For a year and a half I was chemist for the Smethport Extract Company of Damascus, Va. I then became for three years an assistant chemist in the United States Bureau of Chemistry, Washington, D. C. For the past year I have been chemist of the General Supply Depot of the United States Light-House Service, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y. Member: Dumbarton Club of Washington, Harvard Club of Washington, American Chemical Society, Association of Harvard Chemists. Business address: United States General Light-House Depot, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, N. Y. Present residence: 5 Wiener Place, New York, N. Y. Permanent address: 23 Hillside Ave., Melrose, Mass.

HENDRICKS HALLETT WHITMAN

In the fall of 1906, after travelling for a few months in Alaska and the Canadian northwest, I obtained employment with the City Trust Company of Boston, Mass. There I remained for two years, first as messenger boy and later as private secretary to the president of the company. I then left to begin work in the textile industry. For somewhat over a year I worked in cotton and worsted mills in New Bedford and Lawrence, Mass. In the fall of 1909 I entered the employ of William Whitman and Company, dry goods commission merchants in Boston. Shortly afterwards I left for Chicago to take charge of their Chicago office. There I remained until January, 1912, when I moved to their New York house, where I have since remained. Member: Country Club of Brookline, Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Union Club of Chicago, University Club of Chicago, Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of Chicago, Longwood Cricket Club. Business address: 350 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

HARRY THAXTER WHITMARSH

He was born July 19, 1885, in Abington, Mass. He attended the public schools of his native town and graduated from the high school in 1902, valedictorian of his class. During ten consecutive years of his school course he was neither absent nor tardy. Entirely by his own efforts, he became a student at Harvard University in September, 1902, paying his board by work at Randall Hall, and his tuition by scholarships and work during vacations. He was drowned on his nineteenth birthday, July 19, 1904, at Chatham, Mass., where he was employed at a summer hotel. His keen sense of humor and broad love for humanity encircled him with friends, so that though his life here was short, it was rich in giving and receiving the things over which death has no power.

FRANKLIN SNOW WHITNEY

I was married January 1, 1910, to Louise Clark, at Dorchester, Mass. Business address: 348 Congress St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 15 Lee Ave., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

THEODORE TRAIN WHITNEY, JR.

After my junior year I left college, taking my degree in 1906. I have been with Stone and Webster for six and a half years. The winter of 1907-1908 was spent in Chicago as a salesman of the green-goods in the territory west of the Mississippi River. The spring of 1908, however, brought me back to Boston, still on the financial end of the business. During the winter of 1910 and until July of that year I managed the New York office, then Boston again became the attraction. I have visited no foreign countries. A good working knowledge of the United States in the public utility business is the only thing that offsets the liability side of my balance sheet. Member: University Club of Chicago, Tennis and Racquet Club of Boston, Harvard Club of Boston, Milton Club, Boston City Club, Underwriters' Club of New York, Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 147 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Milton, Mass.

CORNELIUS WENDELL WICKERSHAM

In the fall of 1906 I entered the Harvard Law School, graduating in June, 1909. I had served for two years as editor of the Harvard Law Review. The summers of 1907 and 1908 I spent in the law office of Bowers and Sands of New York. After six months in the law office of Strong and Cadwalader, New York, I became associated with Greene, Hurd and Stowell, where I am engaged in the general practice of law. In December, 1908, I became a member of the bar. I was married June 19, 1909, to Rosalie N. Hinckley, at Far Rockaway, N. Y. Cornelius Wendell, Jr., born April 2, 1910. Member: Rockaway Hunting Club. Business address: 43 Exchange Place, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Cedarhurst, Long Island, N. Y.

ALONZO CHENEY WILBER

Has not been heard from. His address is Foxboro, Mass.

ROBERT ELDREDGE WILBUR

I left Cambridge in 1904 at mid-year. In August I entered the employ of the Lehigh Car, Wheel, and Axle works. In 1906 I was made a director of the Lehigh Valley National Bank, Bethlehem, Pa., and trustee of St. Luke's Hospital. On May 5, 1909, I sailed on the Mauretania for a six weeks' tour in England, France, Germany and Switzerland. I became in 1910 first vice-president of the Lehigh Valley Car, Wheel and Axle works, treasurer of the Wyandotte Silk Company of South Bethlehem, and director of the Allentown National Bank. This year I am a director of Emerick-Dobson Company, New York. I was married February 11, 1905, to Nina Joslyn Vyse, at New York, N. Y. Nina Katherine, born June 4, 1906; Sallie Linderman, born October 15, 1907; Warren Abbott, born November 28, 1909. Member: Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, Engineers' Club of New York, Catasauqua Club, Livingston Club of Allentown, Thousand Island Yacht Club, Bethlehem Club, Northampton Club, Lehigh Country Club, Pennsylvania Society. Business address: 514 Pine St., Catasauqua, Pa. Present residence: 514 Pine St., Catasauqua, Pa.

ROGER MERRIL HOBBS WILCOX

At the end of my junior year I left college and entered the Law School, from which I was graduated in 1908. I received my A.B. degree in 1906. I then went down to New Bedford to take theoretical and practical courses in the manufacture of cotton yarn and cloth, the theoretical in the New

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

Bedford Textile School, the practical in the mills. This preparation consumed the better part of three years. Since then I have been at work setting up machinery and acting as salesman for William Firth of Boston, agent for imported cotton machinery. I was married November 28, 1911, to Leontine A. Richardson, at Winthrop, Mass. Business address: 100 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 36 Wave Way Ave., Winthrop, Mass.

GEORGE FRANCIS WILL

Immediately after leaving college I went to work with my father in the seed and nursery business at Bismarck, N. D. Except for my vacations, I have been steadily employed in this business ever since. I find very pleasant the fact that the nursery work keeps me out of doors most of the summer. I have retained a considerable interest in anthropology. I am at present engaged during my spare moments in working out the language of the Mandan Indians. For my vacation trip in 1907 I went with Professor Dixon and our classmates Hellman and Spinden on a five weeks' tramping trip in the Olympic Mountains of Washington. The following summer I took a seven hundred mile trip on horseback through the Dakota Bad Lands. My vacation in 1909 was spent with my wife on Lake Chelan in the Cascade Mountains of Washington. In the summer of 1910, together with two western pioneers, I travelled six hundred miles in a row boat down the Milk and Missouri rivers. I was married July 4, 1909, to Katharine H. Sterrett, at Lakota, N. D. Books or plays of my authorship: "The Mandans," by H. J. Spinden and George F. Will; papers in the American Anthropologist and the Journal of American Folk Lore. Member: Harvard Travellers' Club, American Folk Lore Society, American Anthropological Association. Present residence: Bismarck, N. D.

ALEXANDER WATSON WILLIAMS

I left college at the end of my sophomore year, returning in the fall of 1906 to complete my work. I received my degree in 1908, as of 1906. Since graduation I have been a student in the Johns Hopkins Medical School at Baltimore. Present residence: 518 North Broadway, Baltimore, Md. Permanent address: 3032 North St., Washington, D. C.

ERIC JOHANN WILLIAMS

In the fall of 1906 I entered the Columbia University Law School, graduating in June, 1909, with the degrees of A.M. and LL.B. I travelled in Europe during the summer of 1907 and camped in the mountains of southern California in that of 1908. In the fall of 1909 I entered the law office of Kenefick, Cook, Mitchell and Bass of Buffalo. I remained there until the following spring, when I was compelled to come west, owing to poor health. I have spent the last two years in Redlands, Cal. This fall I intend to resume the practice of law here in Redlands. Member: Town and Country Club of Lockport, Redlands Country Club of Redlands. Present residence: 1135 Center St., Redlands, Cal. Permanent address: 275 High St., Lockport, N. Y.

HASKELL WILLIAMS

Business address: Logan, Swift and Brigham Envelope Company, Worcester, Mass. Present residence: 40 Fruit St., Worcester, Mass.

MALCOLM WILLIAMS

I left college at the end of my sophomore year. The following year I spent travelling through Europe. In the spring of 1905 I entered the wool business with Jeremiah Williams and Company, where I am now located. My duties during the summer months consist of buying wool in the states of Montana and Wyoming. During the winter I travel extensively as a salesman. Member: Boston Athletic Association, Boston Yacht Club, Harvard Club of New York, Tedesco Country Club of Swampscott, Massachusetts Automobile Club. Business address: 481 Summer St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Hotel Somerset, Boston, Mass.

ROBERT HECTOR WILLIAMS

For the past four years I have been engaged in the electric business in Providence, R. I. I am now president and treasurer of the Standard Electric Company. I was married April 30, 1907, to Louise C. Riddell, at Chicago, Ill. Marie Louise, born July 15, 1908. Business address: 17 Richmond St., Providence, R. I.

WARREN WILLIAMS

In September, 1907, I came to New Haven to go to work for the Seamless Rubber Company, manufacturers of druggists' sundries and surgical rubber goods. I worked for a year and a half in the mill and then went into the sales department. About a year later I organized the company's automobile tire department. Since that time I have been generally in charge of sales in this special branch of the business. In January, 1911, I was elected director and assistant treasurer of the company's offices, to which I have since been re-elected. Member: Quinnipiack Club of New Haven, Harvard Club of New York, Lawn Club of New Haven. Business address: 534 Congress Ave., New Haven, Conn. Present residence: 22 College St., New Haven, Conn. Permanent address: 986 Chapel St., New Haven, Conn.

HARRY KEITH WILSON

I left college at the end of my freshman year. After working a year in Scranton, Pa., I entered Cornell University, where in 1908 I received the degree of civil engineer. Since graduation I have spent two years in Scranton, Pa., one in Yonkers, N. Y., and one in Hoboken, N. J. My employment has always been in the engineering department of a railroad, at present the Lackawanna. Business address: 115 Ferry St., Hoboken, N. J. Present residence: 16 Prospect St., East Orange, N. J. Permanent address: 1912 East Taylor St., Bloomington, Ill.

HERBERT EUSTIS WINLOCK

Shortly after graduation I left America. After a brief period in Germany in the University of Bonn, I joined the Metropolitan Museum's Archaeological Expedition to Egypt; I have been connected with it ever since. In the summer of 1909 I matriculated at the University of Leipzig, leaving there before the end of the semester to attend the Triennial at Cambridge. On that occasion I contracted the habit of returning to the United States after each winter season in Egypt. At present I am an assistant curator in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. Member: Harvard Club of New York; Turf Club of Cairo, Egypt; Royal Societies Club of London. Business address: Luxor, Upper Egypt, Africa. Permanent address: Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, N. Y.

ROBERT WITHINGTON

Shortly after graduation I entered the traffic department of the New England Telephone Company, where for thirteen months I did various interesting tasks, such as service inspection and "cutting over" exchanges from the magneto to the relay system in northeastern Massachusetts. Becoming convinced that promotion, however sure, was surely slow, I left the company in August, 1907, to begin work in the local room of the Boston Evening Transcript. At first my work as a reporter was varied. I got an occasional ticket to the Food Fair, "covered" a Chamber of Commerce luncheon or some like festivity, saw Mr. Taft from a distance, and heard the accomplished mayor of Boston sing "Sweet Adeline." Most of my time, however, was spent in going to funerals, until I was regularly assigned to police headquarters. For nine months I expurgated the news from "the hill," occasionally penetrating, as an onlooker, to the municipal courts, until in September, 1908, the opportunity came to enter the Graduate School at Harvard. After a year of strenuous work, I was fortunate enough to take a Master's degree with honors in English. An essay which I wrote for that degree won half a prize, netting me $125. I regret that this child of my brain was cremated a few months later without my knowledge or consent. However, I may derive a certain amount of comfort from the fact that my burning words caused a temporary enlightenment. On the fourth of August, 1909, I sailed for Europe, spending the winter as lecteur d'anglais at the University of Lyons. Returning the following September, I was appointed assistant in English at Harvard. Last summer I again went abroad, sailing from Copenhagen two months and three days after I landed in Havre; I shall go abroad again as soon as I have the money. During the past winter I have been studying, as well as conducting section-meetings and reading themes. Although I cannot afford to support a wife, like A. N. H., nor sport a motor car, like W. S. W., our classmates on the teaching staff at Harvard, I comfort myself by quoting Dryden: "War seldom enters but where wealth allures." Books or plays of my authorship: Miscellaneous newspaper articles, including "Un coup d'œil sur l'Administration Universitaire aux Etats-Unis," in Les Langues Modernes (Paris); and others in the Boston Transcript, New York Evening Post, Springfield Republican, etc. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Boston. Present residence: Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. Permanent address: 35 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass.

SIDNEY WITHINGTON

After studying engineering at Harvard from 1906 to 1907, I travelled through England, France and Switzerland. In 1907-1908 I was Austin Teaching Fellow in mechanical engineering at Harvard, with graduate work in addition. I then entered the employ of the Walworth Manufacturing Company of South Boston, where I made various experiments to improve processes of manufacture and add to the efficiency of the plant in general. Since January, 1910, I have been with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. I have been engaged on construction work connected with electrification, particularly with the electrification of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railway, which is at present being built. Business address: Trust Company Building, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Present residence: Cos Cob, Conn. Permanent address: 35 Bay State Road, Boston, Mass.

ARTHUR EVANS WOOD

In the summer of 1906 I supervised a settlement camp for boys of the Richmond Hill House of New York. From 1906 to 1907 I taught English and history at the Country School for Boys, Baltimore, Md. The following year I taught English at the Cambridge Latin School, Cambridge, Mass. I then entered the Harvard Divinity School, graduating in June, 1911, at which time I also received a degree from the Andover Theological Seminary. During my graduate work at Harvard I spent my evenings at the Denison House, 93 Tyler Street, Boston, where I had charge of the boys' work, at the same time gaining considerable experience in neighborhood problems. At East Wolfeboro, N. H., I established and directed the summer camp of the Denison House. In the summer of 1910, in addition to work at the camp, I conducted Sunday services at the Congregational Church in North Conway, N. H. After my marriage to Julia Lewis Bishop, Smith '03, I came out to Portland, Ore., where I accepted a position as instructor in social ethics in Reed College, a newly founded institution, which has on its faculty several men with Harvard degrees, among them President W. T. Foster '01. I was married September 5, 1911, to Julia Lewis Bishop, at South Chatham, N. H. Business address: Reed College, Portland, Ore.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

BALDWIN WOOD

FRANK MOORE WRIGHT

In September, 1906, I entered the New York Homœopathic Medical College, graduating in May, 1910. I was class president during the first year of the course. After graduating I was then appointed interne at the Cumberland Street Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., where I was stationed till June, 1911. On July 1, 1911, I received a temporary appointment in the Department of Public Charities, New York, as deputy medical superintendent of Kings County Hospital. I am still holding this position, pending the establishment of an eligible list by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. In January, 1912, I was appointed assistant pediatricist to the Cumberland Street Hospital. In the fall of 1909 I enlisted in Squadron C of the New York National Guard. In October, 1911, I received a commission as first lieutenant in the medical corps and was assigned to duty with Squadron C. Member: Homœopathic Medical Society of the County of Kings, New York. Business address: Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y. Present residence: 450 Clinton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

PERCY EDWIN WYE

I was graduated in 1905, as of 1906. During 1905-1906 I was instructor in English and history in the Mitchell Military School, Billerica, Mass. This position I resigned in June, 1906, to enter the North American Copper Company in New York. In 1908 I became treasurer of this concern, which manufactures metal goods. Member: Free and Accepted Masons. Business address: 164 Front St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: Needham, Mass.

SIMS GILL WYLIE

I left college at the end of my sophomore year, when I went to work with an export house. In the following June I went to South Carolina, where until the fall of 1909 I was with the Southern Power Company and Cotton Mills. In 1909, on returning to New York, I entered the employ of a dry goods commission house. Last September I left there to become a partner in the cotton goods department of William Iselin and Company of New York. I was married April 12, 1906, to Louise Sayre Woodruff, at New York, N. Y. Member: Harvard Club of New York. Business address: 63 Leonard St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 784 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

EDWARD LORRAINE YOUNG, JR.

After graduating from Harvard I went to the Harvard Medical School, receiving my degree there in 1909. During the summers I was busy in the hospital clinics. In July, 1909, I began work as a surgical house officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital. Since November, 1910, I have been in practice for myself in Boston and assistant to Dr. F. G. Balch. During 1911 I worked as graduate assistant in the G. U. clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital. I have been appointed assistant in anatomy at the Harvard Medical School and also assistant surgeon in the outpatient department at the Infants' Hospital, Boston. Member:

Union Boat Club, Aesculapian Club, Massachusetts Medical Society, American Medical Association. Business address: 99 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM HEAD YULE

After leaving Harvard in 1906, my first position was with the Badger Brass Manufacturing Company of New York. From a regular factory position I was promoted to assistant manager of the organization, a position which I retained until April, 1908, when I entered the B. F. Goodrich Company of Akron, O., to take over the management of their golf ball and motor cycle tire departments. I remained there during 1908, toward the latter part of which I went into the factory of the B. F. Goodrich Company to learn the rubber business. In 1909 I was appointed general manager of the B. F. Goodrich Company of New York. I now hold that position. I was married November 23, 1911, to Mary P. Raymond, at Akron, O. Member: Harvard Club of New York, University Club of Chicago, Portage Country Club of Akron, Harlem Yacht Club of New York. Business address: 1780 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 270 Riverside Drive, New York, N. Y.

J(OAQUIN) ENRIQUE ZANETTI

In 1907 I received an A.M. degree from Harvard. In 1909, after getting my Ph.D. degree, I was appointed instructor in chemistry at Columbia University. I am still holding this position.
